Preface

I have written this book to preserve for my children a large amount of data, that I have acquired at much trouble and expense.

I believe that most of the advantages possessed by our country at present are due to the sacrifices and efforts of the pioneer ancestors.

They brought their religion with them, and were a good stock. I want my children to be as proud of our pioneers as I am.

I have followed a method of my own, in writing this book. Each generation is in a chapter by itself. There appears to be a discrepancy in several cases. I refer to the Morgan, Avery, Treat and Corey families. In those four families, cousins have married. For example Thomas Starr in the Vth Generation married Mercy Morgan. She was the daughter of James Morgan, Jr. in the IIId generation. Her sister Hannah Morgan married William Latham who belongs to the IVth generation. I am 12th in descent from William Morgan of Wales, through the Latham and Morgan marriage, and 11th in descent from him through the Starr and Morgan marriage; also 11th in descent through the direct Morgan line. By following the index at the head of the record of each ancestor, there will be no difficulty in tracing any line. Sometimes it is necessary to skip a chapter to find the succession in the four families above mentioned.

Almost every date and fact mentioned in this genealogy is taken from documentary records and published records in genealogies. The references are always given. There are also quotations from family bibles, and letters written many years ago by people who knew the facts. They will be found in the Appendix. Mr. Lewis D. Cook, a well known genealogist, has aided me in the work, particularly in connection with the Brookfield, Brandriff or Brandreth, and Erwin families.

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD (James Madison Brookfield IX, page 19), (William Brookfield VIII, page 29), (William Brookfield VII, page 43), (Charles Brookfield VI, page 57), (William Brookfield V, page 77), (William Brookfield IV, page 101) born in Greenbank, N. J., May 24th, 1844. The family went to Honesdale, Penn., about 1853, where his father started a window glass factory. He went to school at the Cayuga Lake Academy in Aurora, Cayuga County, N. Y. In 1860 the glassworks and home of the Brookfield family was destroyed by the bursting of a dam on the river above Honesdale. William was sent for by his father to go to work. After settling matters the older Brookfield decided to move to Brooklyn, N. Y. William and his father started all over again, manufacturing bottles instead of window glass. They were very successful from the start. They soon began making glass insulators for the Western Union Telegraph Co., then insulators for the Telephone Companies, from the start of the telephone.

June 23rd, 1870, William Brookfield married KATE MORGAN at Aurora, Cayuga County, N. Y. Dr. Howard married them in the Presbyterian Church. They lived for a year corner of 5th and South 8th Streets, No. 281 South 5th Street, Brooklyn. Mr. Henry Morgan gave his daughter a house at 516 Madison Avenue, so they moved to New York. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brookfield lived there the rest of their days. William died May 13th, 1903. He was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mr. Brookfield was always a Republican. In 1885 he became leader of the XXIXth Assembly District. His influence was exerted for clean politics; although for years known as an organization Republican. He was Vice President of the Union League Club and President of the Republican Club. He was Chairman of the Republican State Committee in 1892, 1893, 1894 and during the same years Chairman of the Republican County Committee. He was a Presidential Elector in 1892. He was a supporter of Senator Thomas C. Platt until 1893. In the Syracuse Convention of that year he and Mr. Platt were united in support of Edward T. Bartlett for the Court of Appeals. This was a glorious victory for good government, as it defeated David B. Hill's candidate Judge Maynard who had done some very bad things. Bartlett won by over 100,000 over Maynard in the election.

Mr. Brookfield helped to organize the Committee of Thirty for the reorganization of the party in New York County. His first break with Senator Platt was on account of Mr. Platt's recognition of the machine leaders who opposed the Committee. In 1894 Mr. Brookfield was a member of the Committee of Seventy that nominated a fusion ticket for the overthrow of Tammany Hall. When Mayor Strong became Mayor, he appointed William Brookfield Commissioner of Public Works.

Mr. Brookfield was a member of the Downtown Club, and the Chamber of Commerce. He was a Trustee of St. John's Guild, and several Insurance Companies; a director in the Market and Fulton Bank.

The following is an Editorial taken from The New York Tribune:

> A useful life ended with the death of William Brookfield. A life largely employed for the public advantage, though for the most part not in the conspicuous ways which lead to wide reputation. He did not care for public office. The Commissionership of Public Works under Mayor Strong was the only Governmental place he ever held. He consented to serve the City for a short time in that capacity only because he felt circumstances required him to make the sacrifice. But while the usual rewards of party service did not attract him, he had a taste, as well as a talent, for political work, and was always ready to give his time and strength to the support of his professions. Mr. Brookfield's personal character was beyond reproach he was a faithful friend and a good citizen.
> William Brookfield's will was filed May 21st, 1903. He left all his property to his wife, Kate M. Brookfield. Henry M. Brookfield and Frank Brookfield were the executors. The men in public life today would do well to follow his example. He was a good husband, and a good Father to his five boys.

Morgan

SARAH JANE BROOKFIELD, born at Millville, N. J., June 9th, 1839; married 1st, Raymond; 2nd, Williams.

SAMUEL LORD, JR. (Samuel Lord IX, page 24) was born in New York City, December 31st, 1849. He was the third son of SAMUEL LORD who with George Taylor founded the well known drygoods firm of Lord and Taylor. He was educated at Wimbledon, England. After leaving school, he came to America and became a clerk in Lord and Taylor's. In 1870 he was made a member of the firm and in 1886 on the death of his father, he became senior partner. Never very strong, he was obliged in May 1892 to retire on account of ill health.

Samuel Lord was outstanding as an Employer. He was the first merchant in New York who insisted on a comfortable rest room for his clerks, and also had stools put behind the counters so that employees could rest when not waiting upon customers. An example of their appreciation is found in the following episode: "Many years after Samuel Lord's death, one of his sons-in-law had business with a prominent politician. In some way this man learned of the other's relationship to Mr. Lord. 'I will do anything I can for you. I used to be a clerk in Lord and Taylor's, and one winter when my wife was very ill I well remember Mr. Samuel coming to me nearly every day with a bunch of flowers for her from his green-house and asking how she was getting on. I will never forget all his kindness to me.' "

On April 10th, 1872, he married MARY ADELE ORTON, daughter of JAMES DOUGLAS ORTON, president of the Second National Bank of Newark, N. J. In 1880 the family moved to 205 Center Street, Orange, N. J. Mr. Lord became a vestryman in Grace Church. He was an enthusiast on the cultivation of flowers, exhibiting frequently at flower shows. He had also a great love for horses and dogs, and for all out-of-door sports. The New York Tribune, November 9th, 1895, states, "On Thursday, November 7th, 1895, SAMUEL LORD, son of the late SAMUEL LORD of Ashton-on-Mersey, Cheshire, England, died aged 45 years." He was buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Newark, N. J.

Her daughter Louise Lord Brookfield states:

> My mother was very quiet and reserved, but she could never hear of people in need without trying to help them. Her great interest was in church work, and Grace Church Orange which she attended had her generous cooperation in each of its various activities. During my Father's long illness, she had to attend to many outside affairs as well as to the upbringing of her four daughters. In all that she did she showed a strength of character and a clear business sense, most unusual in women of her generation. She had one of the strongest and most beautiful characters I have ever known.

May 9th, 1838, he married CATHERINE C. BRANDRIFF at Millville, N. J. A marriage certificate issued by County Clerk as follows: "At Millville on May 9th, 1838, Mr. James Brookfield to Miss Catherine C. Brandriff. Signed, John Kennedy, Minister of the Gospel." Both James and his wife were Methodists. They belonged later to St. John's Church in Brooklyn.

Mr. Brookfield worked at the glass business in Millville for several years after his marriage, then went to Greenbank where there was a glass factory. Having saved money he started in business for himself in Honesdale, Penn., 1853. He was well ahead of his time; the first to use anthracite coal in glass-manufacturing. He obtained a patent on a furnace for burning hard coal. He did very well in Pennsylvania until 1860, when his home, factory and all of his earnings were swept away over night, by the bursting of a dam on the river. He never received any compensation from the Water Company. He went from there to Brooklyn and started the Bushwick Glass Works in Greenpoint. He was most successful and made his family a comfortable living, in spite of his previous bad luck. About 1880 he retired from active business. He used to spend his winters in Florida with his daughters Mary and Amanda, his wife having died February 28th, 1880. His home in Brooklyn was 115 Taylor Street.

There he ever resided, except for the first few years. In 1865-66 the family lived in 468 Grand Street, Brooklyn; then for a few years at 205 South 5th Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. The New York Tribune, January 17th, 1892 states: "On January 16, 1892 at Jacksonville, Fla. James M. Brookfield died. He was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn."

The 1880 Census, Brooklyn, N. Y., Vol. 35, 19th Ward, shows 115 Taylor Street, Brooklyn, James M. Brookfield, Glass manufacturer, 65, birthplace New Jersey, also father New Jersey and mother born New Jersey. Mary Brookfield, his daughter, 35, birthplace New Jersey. Jennie Brookfield, 20, his daughter, birthplace Pennsylvania.

ISAAC BROOKFIELD, born August 19th, 1810; died 1848; no male issue.

WILLIAM E. BROOKFIELD, born April 12th, 1812; died young.

JAMES MADISON BROOKFIELD, born October 2nd, 1813, Cape May Courthouse, Cape May County, N. J.

CHARLES J. BROOKFIELD, died unmarried.

DANIEL WILLIS BROOKFIELD, born September 4th, 1821; died September 25th, 1888. He married Hannah Duffel. They had one child, Almira, who married Will Rollo.

ELEANOR BROOKFIELD, born May 2nd, 1824; died July 31st, 1825.

HARRIET BROOKFIELD, born August 1st, 1828; died June 6th, 1855; unmarried.

SARAH BROOKFIELD, born November 17th, 1816; died September 13th, 1852; unmarried.

CHARLOTTE BROOKFIELD, born July 28th, 1832; unmarried.

1819. She died at her home, 115 Taylor Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., February 28th, 1880. She was buried in Greenwood Cemetery. She was married May 9th, 1838, at Millville, N. J. Both her father, JOHN BRANDRIFF, and mother, MARY (AYARS) BRANDRIFF, died when she and her brothers and sisters were very young. The children were brought up by their Grandmother HANNAH (JARMAN) AYARS, and their Aunt Fanny Chew. She was Mary Ayar's sister, and married Benjamin Chew. This information was given to me by my Father's sister, Aunt Mary Brookfield (also letters of Hannah Brandriff in the Appendix).

The following is an account of his life, taken from the New York Evangelist:

> Mr. Morgan was one of the six sons of Major Christopher Morgan who came to Aurora from Groton, Connecticut in 1799 and engaged in mercantile pursuits, in which one of his sons is engaged today as his successor. His wife Nancy Barber, who came from the same place, was a woman of the old school. Of striking personal appearance, dignified, and gracious in her manners, of great social influence, she was devoted to her church and her family, whose loving respect she commanded to the close of her long life.
> The "Morgan Brothers" as they were familiarly called throughout this lake region, were a power both in politics and business. They were old Whigs and then staunch Republicans, working with and personal friends of, Seward and Weed. The Hon. E. B. Morgan represented his district in Congress for three terms and the Hon. Christopher Morgan for two; the latter was also Secretary of State of New York.
> Mr. Henry Morgan, the third of the brothers, was born in Aurora, August 22nd, 1810, and educated at the Cayuga Lake Academy, one of the oldest institutions of the kind in the state, and of whose Board of Trustees he was president at the time of his death.
> He was eminently successful as a business man. He was one of the founders of the United States Telegraph Company; was largely interested in various express companies.
> Mr. Morgan married in 1845, Mary Platt, a daughter of the Hon. Jonathan Platt of Owego, N. Y., who with one daughter, Mrs. William Brookfield, survives him. To this most fortunate marriage he owed a life of unbroken happiness and peace.
> For forty years he was an active member of the Presbyterian Church, in Aurora. He gave generously toward building the beautiful edifice, and the beautiful organ was his contribution. Wells college founded by Henry Wells was a sharer in his kindly thought and generous deed.

SAMUEL LORD

The New York Tribune Saturday, May 25th, 1889, states:

> Samuel Lord aged 86 years, founder of Lord & Taylor's, died Wednesday, May 23, 1889, at his home Ashton-on-Mersey, Cheshire, England. Born in Yorkshire, England, the youngest of five, four boys and one girl. He was left an orphan when very young. He served his time as an iron-moulder, rising to the position of master in that craft. He started the drygoods business in 47 Catherine Street, N. Y. By hard work and the strictest economy, he increased his business and in 1826 his young wife and daughter whom he had left in England joined him. His wife's cousin, George W. Taylor, entered the business, retiring about 1859. Then James Taylor, Mrs. Lord's brother, took his place in the business. The firm remained at 47 and 49 Catherine Street until 1854. They moved to Grand Street and Chrystie Street where they built a fine store on the site of a former coal-yard. In 1860 the store at Grand Street and Broadway was built, the firm subsequently moving to their store 20th Street and Broadway. The branch business was still continued on Grand Street.

Mr. Lord lived first in Madison Street, then took the family to Newark. On the death of his eldest son there, the family moved to Newtown, L. I., where he was until the time of his death, the owner of some two hundred acres.

He retired in 1872, moving to Cheshire, England. His house there was one of the best known in the neighborhood for its magnificence and hospitality. He never forgot those who helped him in his early days. On one occasion a merchant who had met with reverses asked him for a loan. When he asked about the security, Mr. Lord replied, "None; you are welcome to the money, pay me back at your convenience." His two sons, G. W. Taylor Lord, Samuel Lord, Jr., with Mr. Varker, now comprised the firm.

The following is a description of Mr. Lord when an old man in England:

> The old gentleman over seventy still seems hale and hearty. A contented and happy expression makes his cheerful countenance pleasant to look on. He loves to think of the time when his noble helpmate, now in her grave twenty years stood by his side and toiled with him in the making of their fortune.

Mr. Lord was born at Saddleworth, England, in 1803. He was left an orphan at 5 years. At twenty-two he married MARY TAYLOR, daughter of James Taylor, owner of a small iron foundry at Marsden. In 1824 he sailed for New York, and worked as an iron-moulder in Pennsylvania, and afterward at Paterson, N. J.

JAMES DOUGLAS ORTON (Dr. James Orton VIII, page 38), (Dr. Samuel Orton VII, page 52), (John Orton VI, page 72), (John Orton V, page 96), (Thomas Orton IV, page 121), born December 19th, 1822. He went to Holt and Sargent's School in Montclair. When 17 years old he left school and secured a position in the State Bank of Newark. He was always in the banking business. About 1863 he organized the Second National Bank of Newark, and was the president of this important institution for many years.

January 14th, 1846, he married his first cousin, HESTER MARIA DOUGLAS, the daughter of Marcus Brutus Douglas of Newark. January 14th, 1896, Mr. and Mrs. Orton celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Orton died at his residence in Newark, February 22nd, 1902. He was buried in Mount Pleasant Cemetery in Newark.

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD (William Brookfield VII, page 43), (Charles Brookfield VI, page 57), (William Brookfield V, page 77), (William Brookfield IV, page 101) was born in Gloucester County, N. J., February 7th, 1787. (Reference: Fragment of Bible belonging to his Mother, Mrs. John Collis, now in my possession, see Appendix A.; also family Bible in possession of Mrs. Harriet Brookfield Burgess, page 678). A certificate of the County Clerk of Gloucester County, N. J., states as follows: "I, Nathan Swain, Minister of the Gospel in America, do hereby certify that on the 23rd Day of December A.D. 1809 at Tuckahoe in said County, I married William Bruckfealde of Morris River, Shumaker, and Naomi Smith of Tuckahoe aforesaid, and then did pronounce them man and wife, agreeably to the laws of this state, Gloucester County, N. J." Page 167 of the History of Petersburg, states that NAOMI SMITH married WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, December 23rd, 1809.

In deeds recorded in Cumberland County, there are 8 in the name of William Brookfield as grantor, and 5 in his name as grantee. November 20th, 1809, he bought a lot in Port Elizabeth for $40. August 2nd, 1811, William and Naomi, his wife, conveyed a lot in the village of Dorchester to George Gale. March 9th, 1812, William Brookfield of Township Maurice River, Cumberland County, and his wife Naomi, sold a lot in the village of Dorchester for $225. In 1813 they were living in Cape May Court House, Cape May County, as their son JAMES MADISON BROOKFIELD was born there, October 2nd, 1813.

The family moved about considerably. At one time they kept a hotel in New Brunswick, later lived on a farm at Perth Amboy. In 1827 they were living at Tuckahoe, N. J. In 1830, a census of the United States, WILLIAM BROOKFIELD was living in Cape May County, Township Dennis.

His family then consisted of his wife, four sons and two daughters.

The latter part of the lives of William and Naomi Brookfield was spent at Haddonfield, Gloucester County, where William's brother Charles lived. William died April 19th, 1866. He and his wife Naomi, and their daughters Sarah and Harriet, are buried in the old Methodist Cemetery at Haddonfield. They were Methodists. William Brookfield was the son of William Brookfield and Eleanor Erwin. (Reference: Appendix A).

JOHN BROOKFIELD, born January 27th, 1782; died October 2nd, 1803.

CHARLES BROOKFIELD, born October 6th, 1784; died March 31st, 1843, at Haddonfield. He married Elisabeth Richards. They had one son who died young. He married 2nd, Sarah Paul. In his will proved May 22nd, 1843, he made the children of his brother William Brookfield his residuary legatees. He was in the War of 1812; Sergeant in Capt. Jesse Chew's Co., September 26th, 1814 to December 20th, 1814; was stationed at Billingsport, Gloucester County, N. J. (Reference: List of Soldiers of New Jersey, War of 1812).

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, born February 7th, 1787.

DR. JOSEPH BROOKFIELD, born March 12th, 1789; died at Philadelphia, December 17th, 1872. He married Sarah Price, January 8th, 1818. They had 6 children, all died young except Hannah. She never married. She gave me what I know of the family genealogy when I visited her in Philadelphia in 1897. She died in that place, over 80, about 1900. Dr. Joseph Brookfield married a second time, Elisabeth Holstein. No issue. Date of marriage was June 19th, 1849, at Bridgeport, Montgomery County, Penn.

Reference: Holstein Genealogy:

It states that Joseph Brookfield was the son of William and Elinor Irvin Brookfield; that Dr. Brookfield and his wife Elisabeth Wayne Holstein Brookfield were buried in Friend's Cemetery, in lower Marion Township, Montgomery County, Penn., with the dates of each; also stated that Joseph lived in Gloucester County, in the early part of his life.

Isaac Brookfield, born July 19th, 1791. Married Catherine ——; no male issue.

Jacob Brookfield, born August 17th, 1794; died 1797.

Catherine Brookfield, born April 15th, 1797; died April 18th, 1836. She married Edward Walter.

The following is an account of JOHN BRANDRIFF from a history of the Brandriff family written by Charles P. Brandriff who was a half-brother of JOHN.

> John Brandriff the son of Daniel Brandriff was born at Egg Harbor, December 27th, 1794. John remained at home and worked for his father. He was married about 1818 to MARY AYARS, daughter of ELISHA AYARS and HANNAH (JARMAN) AYARS of Millville. He was connected with his father in the drygoods and grocery business and lumber at Millville. He died November 28th, 1828. Record of John's birth and death are in the Brandriff family Bible, now in possession of Miss Alice C. Brandriff, now living in Missouri Valley, Iowa.

(Christopher Morgan VII, page 47), (William Morgan VI, page 61), (William Morgan V, page 85), (John Morgan III, page 128), (James Morgan II, page 153), (William Morgan I, page 169) was born in Groton, Conn., October 15th, 1777. He grew up in that place, and there taught school for several years. His uncle General Benjamin Ledyard had been awarded a township in Western New York State in reward for his distinguished services as an officer in the Revolutionary War. This township along the east shore of Cayuga Lake is still called Ledyard. The General also had interests in the toll bridge at the lower end of Cayuga Lake. He sent for his nephew to look after the tolls. Accordingly, Christopher set out on horseback, in April 1800. He located at Aurora, in the Township of Ledyard. At that time it was a village of a few very small houses.

He made a great success by building stone store-houses on the shore of the lake, where canal boats could be landed with wheat and other grain. On July 15th, 1805, he married NANCY BARBER, daughter of John Barber of Groton. According to the custom of the time, Nancy went to Aurora to be married, instead of Christopher going to Groton to bring her home. It was in every way a happy and successful marriage. Their house is still in existence and is owned by Wells College, as is also the white-pillared brick house built a generation later by his son HENRY MORGAN. Christopher did not live to be a very old man. He died October 4th, 1834. He is buried in Aurora.

She was married to CHRISTOPHER MORGAN, JR., July 15th, 1805. She brought up her six sons in a very wonderful manner. She was one of the best type of New England woman, humorous and not too puritanical.

William Lord Brookfield has in his possession a medallion of Nancy Barber Morgan, his great great grandmother, made by E. C. Palmer, the well known sculptor. Y., October 13th, 1783. Died in Owego, Tioga County, N. Y., January 16th, 1857. Married BETSEY GOODRICH at Owego, N. Y., April 6th, 1816. He was 10 years old when the family moved from Bedford to Nichols (Owego). He became a prominent man in the town, and prospered.

He was a man of strong convictions. On one occasion when the family were all in church, the minister said something he did not like. He left the church expecting the family to follow. When they did not come he came back, walked up the aisle with his riding crop in his hand. The family would not come when he beckoned to them. They had to go to another church after that.

When his daughters were, Charlotte about 18 and Mary 16, he used to take them every Fall to Brace Bridge Hall, in Hartford, to school. They travelled by packet boat on the Erie Canal. It took a week, quite different from today.

Death of Jonathan Platt.—We learn from the Owego Times that JONATHAN PLATT, an old and honored citizen of that place, died on the 16th, in the 74th year of his age. He was born in Bedford, Westchester county, just after the close of the Revolution, and was among the early settlers in Tioga County in 1792. His residence at Owego dates back fifty years. Energy and industry early secured him a competence, and he retired some years since from business. But his exertions for public good and private charity knew no relaxation until the day of his death. The Churches, Schools, and every beneficent enterprise had in him a life-long friend, and his name will long be cherished in a wide circle of kinsmen, townsmen and friends. (1857)

About 1802, she went to Owego, Tioga County, N. Y.; married April 16th, 1816, JONATHAN PLATT, 3RD, at Owego, N. Y. She died there, November 22nd, 1878. I was taken to Owego to see her about 1877, by my mother, Kate Morgan Brookfield, and my grandmother, Mary Platt Morgan. I remember her very well.

Died.—PLATT, In Owego, N. Y. November 22, 1878, of broncho-pneumonia, Mrs. Jonathan Platt, aged 82 years.

Died, at her residence on Front street, Owego, on the 22nd inst., aged 82 years, MRS. BETSEY PLATT, relict of the late JONATHAN PLATT, ESQ., of this village.

The deceased was a daughter of ELIAKIM GOODRICH. She was born in Glastenbury, Connecticut, in 1796. The family moved to this county in 1801. Her family resided for many years on the same lot on which she died. In 1818 she was married and has since resided in this village, excepting a few years at Vesper Cliff, formerly known as Glen Betsey. MRS. PLATT joined the First Presbyterian Church, Owego, in 1837, and remained till her death a consistent, devoted Christian, and died rejoicing in the hope of a glorious resurrection through the merits of a risen Redeemer.

MRS. PLATT raised a family of seven children, five of whom still live. One of them, her youngest son, EDWARD, is now in California.

The deceased was eminently charitable; the poor and suffering always finding in her comfort, sympathy and assistance. As a friend, a wife, a mother, a Christian, she was loved, honored and respected.

She enjoyed remarkably good health during her long and useful life; she was sick but a few days, and literally fell asleep passing away without a struggle from this terrestial to the heavenly mansions of the blessed.

The funeral was held at her late residence on Tuesday last and was attended by a large circle of relatives and friends. Her remains were deposited in the family vault in Evergreen cemetery.

DR. JAMES ORTON (Dr. Samuel Orton VII, page 52), (John Orton VI, page 72), (John Orton V, page 96), (Thomas Orton IV, page 121) was born in Woodbury, Conn., May 10th, 1787. As he and his five brothers were all doctors, he moved away and came on horseback to Caldwell, N. J., about 1810. In 1814 he married HESTER MARIA DOUGLAS, daughter of Nathaniel Dalgleish. (Later the name was changed to DOUGLAS.) James became a very influential citizen.

His great granddaughter Louise Lord Brookfield states:

> My Mother, Mary Adele Orton, used to tell me that as a child she well remembered her Grandfather's house in Caldwell. His office was also a laboratory, as in those days a country doctor had to prepare most of his medicines. His practice extended over a wide area, and he used to ride on horseback to his patients, carrying his medicines in saddlebags.

He died September 18th, 1869. He is buried in the New Cemetery, at Caldwell, N. J. (Reference: Orton Genealogy, page 116).

DAVID WHITE BARBER, born at Oyster Ponds, February 29th, 1755.

Col. David White Barber, died December 6th, 1777, at White Plains, N. Y. He with two other gentlemen of the army was walking unarmed about two miles from their quarters, when four armed men rose up within one rod of them and bid them stand and immediately fired at the Colonel. He was shot dead on the spot, the others escaped unhurt. It was supposed that these men were Tories or Cowboys, though others supposed Colonel Barber was shot at the instigation of his brother officers through envy, as he and his companions were walking hand in hand and he alone was harmed.

He married June 13th, 1781, SARAH LELAND. He lived in Glastonbury, where the Goodriches had lived for many years, until 1802, when he in company with Judge Noah Goodrich moved to Owego, Tioga County, N. Y. They came with ox teams and sleds through the wilderness and purchased a large tract of land near where the town of Owego now stands. They cleared the land. What was then a wilderness became a most fruitful field. Their principal means for supplying themselves with the necessaries of life was to run lumber down the Susquehanna River to market, and walk back (Reference: Goodrich Genealogy).

ELIAKIM GOODRICH was the oldest child of a family of ten.

HIS PARENTS WERE

DR. SAMUEL ORTON (John Orton VI, page 72), (John Orton V, page 96), (Thomas Orton IV, page 121) was born in Woodbury, Conn., December 8th, 1741. He died in 1819, at Woodbury. He studied medicine with Dr. Joseph Perry. He decided to go to Yale College and received the M.D. degree in 1765. He became a very skillful doctor and taught his sons, five of whom followed their father's profession.

He married RUTH JUDSON, the daughter of Elisha Judson. He bought land around Woodbury and became quite prosperous for those times. He was one of the five leading contributors to the building of the Episcopal Church in 1778. He did not do anything in the Revolutionary War, but in 1787, when the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the several states for ratification, Dr. Orton was one of the two delegates sent by Woodbury to the State Convention, which met at Hartford, January 3rd, 1788 (Authority: Genealogy of the Descendants of Thomas Orton).

His name appears in the Pension list published 1831, page 51. Timothy Gould's will on file in the State Department, Trenton, N. J., July 13th, 1840; probated February 23rd, 1841. Annual allowance as Sergeant $120. He was married three times.

First wife, SUSANNAH ——, born 1761; died March 16th, 1788.

Second wife, Elisabeth ——, born 1753; married 1789; died July 24th, 1824.

Third wife, Jamemy ——, widow of Alexander Lawrence.

The first two wives were buried in the old cemetery in Caldwell, N. J. Timothy is also buried in the same cemetery.

Timothy lived to be one of the four last survivors of the Revolutionary Army in Newark, N. J. His granddaughter, Hester Maria Douglas, 2nd, used to tell how every Fourth of July the old soldier would put on his Continental uniform, and together with the other veterans, parade through the streets of Newark, in a carriage drawn by four white horses. His death was due to the over-excitement of a celebration, followed by a large reception and dinner, extended to the Revolutionary heroes by the too enthusiastic citizens of Newark.

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH, 3RD (Timothy Brandreth, 2nd V, page 81), (Timothy Brandreth, 1st IV, page 106) was born on the "Brandriff farm" at May's Landing, near Egg Harbor. He lived there all his life. Born about 1740. He was in the lumber business with his father. They hauled the lumber by horse teams to Egg Harbor River, and shipped the lumber to New York by water. He married ELISABETH HUGHES, December 11th, 1766. The New Jersey Archives gives the date of the marriage, 1776. A copy of the marriage license will be found in Appendix B. (Reference: an account of the Brandriff family is in Appendices A and B.)

REV. JONATHAN JARMAN (John Jarman V, page 84), married ALICE CANTRELL of French Creek, Penn. Shourd's History of Fenwick Colony, page 424, states:

> In 1785 after the death of Elder Davis, Seventh Day Baptist Minister at Shilo, Jonathan Jarman, who had been his colleague for some years, supplied the Church until he moved to Cape May, where he died. His remains were brought back to Shilo for burial.

Shilo was formerly called Cohansey Corners. In 1897, Mr. John Brandriff, born in 1822 and a great grandson of Jonathan, stated he was a chaplain in the Revolutionary War but I could not verify this. A letter in 1897 from William Crooks, who lived in Philadelphia and was a great grandson of Jonathan Jarman, states the latter bought land adjoining Bridgeton, on the east side called Pamphilly. He found it could be recovered from the people living on it but would not pay as there were so many heirs. I have in my possession Jonathan Jarman's dining table. It has been in the family almost two hundred years, continuously.

He married MARY AVERY of Groton, February 16th, 1748. They settled in Groton. He was the master of a boat trading with the West Indies. On his last voyage thither, he had for supercargo, Benedict Arnold. In a foreign port he fell ill. Arnold, an apothecary by trade, prescribed for him. Captain Ledyard soon and unaccountably died. The vessel went home in charge of Benedict Arnold, who never rendered any satisfactory account to the owners. It was believed by Youngs Ledyard's children that Arnold murdered him. Arnold hated his home town, New London. He was with the British fleet when they attacked New London. It was believed he instigated the attack, though he did not land.

REV. JONATHAN BARBER (Thomas Barber V, page 88), (John Barber IV, page 111), (Thomas Barber III, page 133). The parentage of Jonathan Barber seems to be in doubt. The Barber Genealogy, by John Barber White and Lillian May Wilson, states that Thomas (V) left no children. The Yale Biography and Annals, by Dexter, pages 410, 411, says his father was Thomas (V) and his mother Sarah Ball. The family Bible of Jonathan Barber's granddaughter is in my possession. A copy of the writing of Jonathan Barber is in the Appendix. Both the family Bible and the Biography agree as to the father of Jonathan, but disagree as to his grandfather. As Jonathan himself says his father was Thomas and his grandfather John, I have taken his word for it. There is no doubt in my mind that the parentage at the top of the page is correct.

Jonathan Barber was born in Springfield, January 31st, 1712. He died at Groton, Conn., October 8th, 1783. He was married in New York, by Rev. Mr. Pemberton, to SARAH NOYES, November 2nd, 1740. He graduated from Yale College in Class of 1730. After his marriage he went to Bethesda, Ga., where three of his children were born. He then went to Oyster Ponds, Southold, L. I., where seven children were born. Page 400, Thompson's History of Long Island, says he was the first settled minister of Oyster Ponds. There is a photoscopic copy of the entries of the Barber family taken from Nancy Barber Morgan's Bible in the New England Historic Genealogical Society; also a copy in the New York Genealogical Society. An account of his life follows, taken from the Yale Biography and Annals, by Dexter; also Appendix C.

Jonathan Barber, son of Thomas and Sarah (Ball) Barber of West Springfield, Massachusetts, and grandson of Thomas and Ann (Chase) Barber of Suffield, was born in West Springfield, January 31, 1712-13.

He studied theology, and in 1732 was licensed to preach by the Association of ministers in Hampshire County, and began his professional labors by preaching for a year or two (principally to the Indians) in what afterwards became the parish of Agawam, in the southern part of his native town. After this, he is said to have preached to the Indians in the Mohegan country, north of New London, Connecticut; and about 1735 he gathered a congregation in that part of Southold, at the eastern end of Long Island, then known as Oyster-Ponds, now called Orient. The Rev. James Davenport (Y. C. 1732), Barber's contemporary in College, though five years his junior, was settled over the mother church of Southold in 1738. The two friends early became impressed by reports of the work which Whitefield was doing; and in March, 1740, Barber began to hold revival meetings in Southold, and in proceeding thence westwards over the island, excited a new interest in religious things. In September he crossed to Newport, Rhode Island, and greeted Whitefield on his first arrival in New England. Whitefield had heard of the summer's experiences, and was so much pleased with Barber that he offered him the place of Superintendent and lay-chaplain of his Orphan-House in Georgia. Accepting this offer, he proceeded with Whitefield to Georgia in a few weeks, stopping in New York City to marry, on the 2nd of November, Sarah Noyes, daughter of Dr. James Noyes of Westerley, and granddaughter of the Rev. James Noyes of Stonington.

He remained in Georgia for about seven years, and then returned to Long Island. The history of his labors for the next ten years is not known; but on the 9th of November, 1757, the Suffolk Presbytery met at Oyster-Ponds for his ordination. They found the church "in a very broken and disjointed state," and on the next day proceeded to his ordination, "without any special relation to the church and congregation—advising him to exercise his ministry there, in order to gather and form a church according to gospel order." The sermon on the occasion, by the Rev. Ebenezer Prime (Y. C. 1718), was published. His work in this field was soon finished, however, for on the 3rd of November, 1758, he was installed over the Congregational Church in Groton, Connecticut. Seven years later, about November, 1765, "by a complication of bodily and mental disorders he was taken off from his usefulness, and he continued," says President Stiles, "in a dejected, disconsolate state till his death." His connection with his church was formally dissolved in December 1768, and he died suddenly, in Groton, October 8, 1783, in his 71st year.

His wife was born November 17, 1714 and died May 30, 1761, in her 47th year. They had nine children, three born in Georgia, and six in Oyster-Ponds. Their son Thomas was graduated at this College in 1762.

COLONEL JONATHAN PLATT (Benoni Platt V, page 91), (Jacob Platt IV, page 115), (Isaac Platt III, page 138), (Richard Platt II, page 161) was born in Northcastle, near Bedford, Westchester County, N. Y. From deeds conveying property I have found his wife's name was Rebecca, her last name is unknown. He was a very prominent patriot in the Revolutionary War. He is referred to in Lossings Field Book of the Revolution, Vol. I, page 601, as one of the distinguished patriots who were on the Committee of Safety at White Plains, N. Y., 1776. He was a member of New York Provincial Congress 1776-77; member of Convention to adopt Constitution of New York 1777; Captain 4th New York Regiment, Colonel James Holmes, June 28th, 1775-January 1776 (Reference: Year Book, Sons of the Revolution, 1925, page 511; Bolton's History of Westchester County; Civil List State of New York, E. DeA. Werner; Historical Register of Officers of the Continental Army, by Heitman).

In 1779 Jonathan Platt was in General Sullivan's army which crossed from Trenton, N. J. to the Susquehanna River, and drove the Indians out of the Wyoming Valley. It was this expedition which led Jonathan Platt to sell his land in Westchester and return to Owego which is on the Susquehanna River. In 1793 Jonathan moved with his children and grandchildren to Nichols which is six miles from Owego. He died there in 1795.

Orton

Douglas. This was a mistake as his name was Dalgleish. In the records of the First Presbyterian Church at Hanover, N. J., there are many entries of Dalgleish, including the marriage of Nathaniel Dalgleish and Sarah Bates. Nathaniel was the son of David Dalgleish. There is not a single Douglas entry. The Dalgleish family is a good old Scotch family with a coat-of-arms, and goes back to the 14th century. Marcus Brutus Douglas, the grandson of David, changed his name, for some reason known to himself, from Dalgleish to Douglas. ESTHER REED was his second wife. He married October 29th, 1755. Nothing is known of his wife except her name and the fact that she married William Ely after the death of David Dalgleish. He died in Hanover in 1765.

He died September 7th, 1820. He married PHOEBE TAPPAN, a widow. Her name was sometimes spelled Topping. David Bates was in the Revolutionary War. He did great service to his country as the following letter from Frederick Gilcinson, Adjutant General of the State of New Jersey will show:

> Was in service as Captain of Minute Men Morris Co militia previous to September 14, 1775. On that date appointed Major, Colonel William Winds regiment of Minute Men Morris Co N. J. militia. Captain eastern Battalion Morris Co N. J. militia previous to May 1776. Captain in Colonel Ephraem Martin's Regiment, Brigadier-General Nathaniel Heard's Brigade, N. J. State Troops, June 1776. The regiment consisted of four companies each from Morris and Sussex Counties. It was raised under act of June 14, 1776 to serve until December 1, 1776. At the battles of Long Island

N. Y. August 27, 1776, White Plains N. Y. October 28, 1776. He was Captain in Colonel Silvanus Seely's eastern Battalion Morris Co N. J. militia. He commanded a Company of 90 men under Brigadier-General William Winds at Elisabethtown June 10 to July 10, 1778.

He married 2nd, ANABELLA ——. He died in Hanover, Morris County, N. J. Will on file State Department at Trenton, N. J., dated February 17th, 1818; proved June 19th, 1821 (Reference: History of Morris County, page 32; also Minutes Provincial Council of Safety of New Jersey, 1776, 1775, page 204).

I. According to Douglas Genealogy, David Bates married Phoebe Tappan of Morristown. In the combined register of Morristown, page 305, is this notice: "Will of Thomas Halsey Southampton L. I. son of Isaac Halsey dated January 10th, 1764 names his daughter Phoebe Topping." This is undoubtedly Phoebe Tappan. There are no Toppings mentioned in Morris County, and many Tappans. March 24th, 1771, Phoebe, wife of David Bates, became a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Hanover. The minister was Jacob Green. Phoebe was a great belle and was spoken of as "the beautiful Phoebe Bates."

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, JR. (William Brookfield IV, page 101) was probably born in Elizabeth, N. J. From various land, court and other records, William, Levi, Job were sons of William Brookfield. We find a number of references to William, Levi and Job in the New Jersey Archives. Job was the ancestor of the Rahway and Morris County Brookfields. September 14th, 1714, William Brookfield is referred to as owing money to the Estate of John Bowne of Mattawan, Middletown, Monmouth County, N. J. (Reference: New Jersey Archives, page 53, Vol. XXIII). Page 478, same volume, Levi and William Brookfield are referred to as owing money to the estate of Lawrence Van Hook of Monmouth County. The next reference that we have of Levi is in Evesham, Burlington County, N. J., February 1st, 1739, when his daughter married Isaac Prickett (copy, in Appendix A, of the marriage license). William was married in New London, Conn., April 15th, 1720 to CATHERINE ROGERS. In 1740, Catherine was a member of the Baptist Church of Hopkinton (Reference: Vital Statistics of Rhode Island, page 96, Vol. X). From all these references, William must have been a sea-faring man. We next find him in Little Egg Harbor Township, Burlington County, N. J. In 1748, William Brookfield and John Dearndal were appointed to appraise an estate in Egg Harbor (Reference: New Jersey Archives). In 1750, William Brookfield died intestate in Little Egg Harbor Township. July 2nd, 1751, Catherine Brookfield of Little Egg Harbor, Burlington County, N. J., was made Executrix of her husband, William Brookfield. Charles Brookfield, his son, went on her bond. He was then 27 years old (Reference: Cal. of Wills, New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXXII, page 42).

CATHERINE ROGERS (Jonathan Rogers IV, page 102), (James Rogers III, page 125), wife of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, JR., was born in New London, Conn., in 1694. She was married April 15th, 1720. In 1740, she was a member of the First Sabbatarian Church of Hopkinton, R. I. (Reference: Vital Statistics of Rhode Island, page 96, Vol. X). Page 78, Descendants of James Rogers of New London, Conn., states she married William Brookfield of Elizabeth, N. J.; also gives the date of her marriage, and their four children. The next reference to Catherine (Rogers) Brookfield is when she was made Executrix of her husband, who died intestate. The date was July 2nd, 1751, Little Egg Harbor, Burlington County, N. J. Her son, Charles Brookfield, went on her bond. He was born July 27th, 1726. It is probable that their home was near the Egg Harbor River. Her daughter, Elisabeth Brookfield, married Matthias Johnston in 1746. The oldest son, Uriah Brookfield, in 1764, was given a Mediterranean Pass as master of the schooner Phoebe. His boat was a privateer. Uriah was born May 7th, 1722. In 1785 we find he was living in Dagsboro, Sussex County, Dela. The only child not accounted for was Stephen Brookfield, who was born August 20th, 1724. The family was undoubtedly a sea-faring one. Catherine Rogers' father, Jonathan, probably followed the sea for a living.

JAMES SOMERS (John Somers IV, page 103), (John Somers III, page 126), (John Somers II, page 151), (Nicholas Somers I, page 169), (Nicholas Somers, page 169), (William Somers, page 169), (John Somers, page 169), (John Somers, page 169) was born in Great Egg Harbor, July 13th, 1695. He died in the same place, February 22nd, 1761. His will was made April 30th, 1758; inventory of his estate made April 10th, 1761; probated April 15th, 1761 (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXX, page 401); mentions his wife ABIGAIL (ADAMS) SOMERS, his sons John, James, Jr.; his daughters Sarah Steelman, Judith Swain, ABIGAIL SMITH, Rebecca Badcock, Mary and Rachel Somers. Executors were his wife, Abigail, and his son, James Somers, Jr.

He witnessed a will April 20th, 1715 (New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, page 192). (Same reference, page 108), February 5th, 1730, an account of money owed him. He was Justice of the Peace, Great Egg Harbor (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXX, page 192). He owed money, January 2nd, 1732-33 (Reference: page 14, Vol. XXX, New Jersey Archives). In May 16th, 1751, he made an inventory of an estate (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXXII, page 94). In the same volume, he made another inventory, May 9th, 1755 (Colonial Families of America, Vol. VI, page 312).

ABIGAIL ADAMS (Jeremiah Adams IV, page 104), (John Adams III, page 126), (Jeremy Adams II, page 152), wife of JAMES SOMERS, was born July 21st, 1695. She died in Great Egg Harbor, Gloucester County, N. J., September 5th, 1772. Her will mentions five daughters, including ABIGAIL SMITH, October 20th, 1769 (Reference: Vol. XXXIV, New Jersey Archives).

Vol. VI, page 312, Colonial Families in America, by Ruth Lawrence, states: Abigail Adams was the daughter of Jeremiah and Rebecca Adams, granddaughter of John Adams, great granddaughter of Jeremy Adams of Hartford.

Will of Rebecca Adams mentions her daughter Abigail Somers, date August 31st, 1750; also following children:

DAVID ADAMS, my grandson-in-law, son of Jeremiah Adams IV, deceased, and his first wife.
ABIGAIL SOMERS.
ISAAC ADAMS.

LEVI BROOKFIELD (William Brookfield IV, page 101) was probably born in Elizabeth, N. J. He wandered about considerably. He was living in Middletown, Mattawan, Monmouth County, N. J.; then in Burlington County, Township of Evesham. His daughter Mary was married to Isaac Prickett, February 21st, 1739. Levi was then living in Evesham. His wife's name is not known.

WILLIAM SMITH came from Long Island, and purchased land from Dr. Daniel Cox in Cape May County in 1690-91. His ear-mark for cattle was registered in 1694. The First Baptist Church of which he was a member, was established in Cape May Court House (Portsmouth) in 1712. He was Justice of the Peace in 1723 and 1733. In 1734 was appointed one of the Commissioners of the Peace. His will, proved August 3rd, 1744, mentions seven children. JEREMIAH, SR., was the sixth.

JOSEPH BADCOCK. Pages 115-16, History of Petersburg, New Jersey, by Craig states that he bought land in England in Cape May County about 1691 and came to that County in 1691. His will was executed on August 30th, 1709, and proved September 25th, 1710. He mentions seven children, Joseph, Jr., was the third (Reference: pages 392-93, Stillwell's Historical and Genealogical Miscellany, Vol. I). John Townsend was appointed to take charge of the real and personal estate of Joseph Badcock for the benefit of his wife, ESTHER. Joseph had deserted his family. This was on December 18th, 1694 (page 380 of the same book). Joseph Badcock registered his ear-mark for cattle, etc., April 8th, 1694. The same ear-mark was used by Joseph Badcock, Jr., in 1760. His wife ESTHER —— died before March 17th, 1696. On that date letters of administration were granted to John Townsend as executor of Esther Badcock, deceased (page 396, same book).

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH, 2nd (Timothy Brandreth I, page 106). Little is known of this man. His wife's name was MARY ——. January 4th, 1733, he witnessed a will in Cape May County (Reference: New Jersey Archives, 1st Series, Vol. XXX, page 161). (Same vol., page 486), he is referred to as having transferred 200 acres of land to another party. For further details see History of the Brandriff Family in Appendix B. This history states that during Timothy's life the name got changed from Brandreth to Brandriff.

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH, 2ND married January 21st, 1756, MARY, widow of James Hughes of Burlington County.

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH, 2ND.

CHILD OF

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH (page 106) AND HIS SECOND WIFE WHOSE NAME IS NOT KNOWN.

JAMES HUGHES married first, 1737, RACHEL LORD. He married a second time, Mary, widow of Timothy Brandreth, 2nd, January 21st, 1756. There is a marriage bond on file at Trenton which was omitted from the New Jersey Archives. Date January 21st, 1756, for James Hughes of Burlington County, and Mary Brandrith, widow (signed Hughs); also marriage bond printed in the New Jersey Archives as follows: Dated October 16th, 1768, for James Hughes of Great Egg Harbor, County of Gloucester, and Hannah Brandref. "Timothy Brandref" of Great Egg Harbor also signed as fellow bondsman. The evidence is that Timothy Brandreth, Jr., married Mary —— and that he died before January 21st, 1756, the date of marriage bond of Mary Brandrith, widow, and James Hughs of Burlington County, her second husband and he a widower.

James Hughes' will dated April 15th, 1788, describes himself as of the Township of Great Egg Harbor. Two of the witnesses of the will were Timothy Brandreff, 3rd, and Elisabeth Brandreff.

Timothy Brandreff, 3rd, son of Timothy, 2nd, married per bond December 11th, 1766, Elisabeth Hughes spinster, daughter of the above James Hughes of Burlington County, by previous marriage. Also that James Hughes, Jr., son of the said James Hughes by previous marriage, and brother to Elisabeth who married Timothy Brandreth, 1766, married said Timothy's sister, Hannah Brandref per bond dated October 16th, 1768. This sounds complicated but it is really just the marriage of the two Brandriff children Timothy and Hannah, to the widow Hughes' children, Elisabeth and James. The widowed mother of the first two having already married the widowed father of the last two, ten years before, and they having probably all four grown up together in one family.

RACHEL LORD (Robert Lord IV, page 107), wife of JAMES HUGHES, was born in Woodbury, October 8th, 1708. She married per license 1737. She died before 1756.

WILLIAM MORGAN, SR. (Lieut. John Morgan III, page 128), (James Morgan II, page 153), (William Morgan I, page 169) was born in Groton, Conn., in 1693. He died October 1729. He married MARY AVERY of Groton, July 3rd, 1716.

William had a pair of gold sleeve buttons marked W. M. that had belonged to the first William Morgan of Llandaff, Wales. There was a tradition that this William used to say that his father John had a very old book in which was written the name of William Morgan of Llandaff, Wales, dated before 1600. He said he was the father of the first emigrant James.

THOMAS BARBER (John Barber IV, page 111), (Thomas Barber III, page 133) was born February 4th, 1674. He died January 16th, 1714. He was buried in the old Springfield Cemetery. He married February 14th, 1704, SARAH BALL (Reference: page 21, Barber Genealogy, by John Barber White and Lillian May Wilson). The Barber Genealogy states that Thomas had no children. I have the Bible of Nancy Morgan Barber, his great granddaughter. Photoscopic copies have been sent to New England Historic Genealogical Society, also to New York Genealogical and Biographical Societies, of the entries in this Bible. These entries show that the Rev. Jonathan Barber was his son. He also had a son Thomas, who lived only one year. The Town records of Springfield also states that Jonathan was the son of Thomas. Also Dexter's Yale Biographies and Annals, pages 410-11, states that Jonathan Barber, son of Thomas and Sarah Ball Barber of West Springfield, Mass., was born in West Springfield, January 31st, 1712-13. A copy of the Bible entries above referred to will be found in the Appendix. Thomas Barber was undoubtedly the father of the Rev. Jonathan Barber.

She married for her second husband, John White of Hatfield (Reference: page 50, Stile's History of Windsor, Conn.); also in the Bible of Nancy Barber Morgan, the Rev. Jonathan Barber states: "there was a young lady converted in the family, father-in-law's sister, Martha White." When John Barber White wrote his genealogy, he did not know of the entries in the Morgan Bible above referred to.

BENONI PLATT (Jacob Platt IV, page 115), (Isaac Platt III, page 138), (Richard Platt II, page 161) was born in Huntington, L. I. Two genealogists have done a great deal of work in regard to the parentage of Benoni; both have decided that he was the grandson of Isaac Platt of Huntington, L. I. Mr. Alrick Mann has decided that our Benoni was the son of Jacob Platt and Abigail Corey. She married George Dibble, after her first husband's death, and moved to the vicinity of Greenwich, Conn. George Dibble's will was proved in Stamford, February 2nd, 1741. The data will be found in detail in the appendix of this volume. Mr. Mann intended to publish a genealogy of the Platt family, and the pages in the Appendix are as he intended to publish them in his book.

The Platt Lineage, by G. Lewis Platt, states as follows, page 190: Benoni Platt resided in Northcastle, Westchester County, as early as 1730. Registered in records as Town officer. He died in 1763, leaving widow and two sons, Jonathan and Benoni, Jr., also a daughter Abigail. His will is recorded in the Surrogate's office in New York, Liber 6, page 31, dated May 20th, 1761; proved May 14th, 1763, Northcastle. The New York Historical Society publication, 1897, states: His will proved May 14th, 1763, Liber 25, page 233. He leaves property to Jonathan and Benoni, Jr. Judge Platt of White Plains believed Benoni, Sr. was the grandson of Isaac Platt of Huntington, L. I. He married HANNAH BANKS.

SARAH EDWARDS (John Edwards IV, page 118), (Joseph Edwards III, page 142), (John Edwards II, page 163), wife of DAVID GOODRICH, was born December 16th, 1710. She died May 11th, 1790 (Reference: Stiles, Ancient Wethersfield, page 377; Goodrich Genealogy, page 43, gives the dates 1709 and May 11th, 1799).

JAMES LELAND (Ebenezer Leland IV, page 119), (Henry Leland III, page 143) was born in Sherborn, Mass., September 22nd, 1687. He died in Grafton, Mass., February 13th, 1768. He married in Sherborn, HANNAH LARNED, April 5th, 1710. He was a farmer and was appointed Captain of a trained band (Reference: Leland Genealogy).

Prince's History of Grafton, pages 515-16-17 states: James Leland 1687-1768 born in Sherborn, Mass. left there in 1723 and went to Hassanamisco afterward called Grafton. He bought land on the eastern bank of the Blackstone River. Six of his children were born in Sherborn, three in Grafton. Our ancestor Phineas was the youngest.

NATHANIEL DALGLEISH (John Dalglish IV, page 121), (Robert Dalglish III, page 147) lived in Hanover, Morris County, N. J. He was probably born in Newark. The History of Hudson and Essex Counties, by Shaw, page 361, states that Nathaniel and Samuel, sons of John, were living in 1730. Also that Nathaniel, perhaps Junior, was living in Hanover in 1764. For obvious reasons Nathaniel was the grandson and not the Junior of Nathaniel. In 1748 and in 1749 Nathaniel Dalgleish was manager of a lottery to buy a parsonage for Rev. Samuel Kennedy in Hanover (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Series I, pages 492, 556).

IV GENERATION

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD was the first of this family to arrive in America. In 1684 he owned an acre of land in Perth Amboy, N. J. (In Whitehead's Contributions to East Jersey History, is a map of Perth Amboy.) This is a copy of a map dated 1684. It shows William Brookman owner of an acre. Conveyances of property adjacent to this lot call the owner William Brookfield, so that the name was undoubtedly Brookfield instead of Brookman. Whitehead states that most of these lots were bought in England.

In 1687 Richard Beach of Elizabethtown deeded 40 acres of land to William Brookfield (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXI, page 117). In 1699, he was still in possession. Under date of September 9th, 1712, he signed a bill to Anthony Littell for a horse.

From court records and other records in Elizabeth, William had three sons: William, Jr., Job and Levi. Benjamin Brookfield, who died at the age of 78, in Milwaukee, February 9th, 1880, wrote a little history of the Brookfield family. He stated that Job Brookfield emigrated from England about 1709. He also says that Job had two brothers, one went to Burlington County, N. J., the other went to New England. We find Levi in Evesham, Burlington County, and William in New London, Conn. He married Catherine Rogers there, in 1720. Later he went to Little Egg Harbor, Burlington County, N. J., and died in that place, in 1750. The Morristown and Rahway Brookfields were descended from Job.

The History of the Brookfields, by Benjamin Brookfield, is in the Appendix.

The New London, Connecticut Vital Records, Vol. II, page 29, states that William Brookfield, son of William Brookfield of Elizabethtown in the Province of Jersey, and Katherine Rogers, daughter of Jonathan of New London, were married April 15th, 1720. This of course is evidence of great importance and proves the descent.

William Brookfield's wife was named ELISABETH. (An error in the New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, stated John Brookfield was granted letters of administration on the estate of his mother, Elisabeth, December 29th, 1725.) The original entry was as follows:

> Administration on the estate of Elisabeth Bissel late of Elisabethtown was granted December 29th, 1725 to Job Brookfield son and administrator.
> In the State House—An account by Job Brookfield Administrator of the estate of Elisabeth Bessel deceased. Endorsed on the reverse:—"Inventory of the estate of Elisabeth Besel als Brookfield. 1726 Essex."
> "November seventeenth in the year 1725, Elisabeth Besel deceased and Departed this life in the house of Jobe Brookfield her son."
> Inventory of the estate of Elisabeth Bessel late widow and "Relike of Joshua Besel deceased which widow deceased in Elisabethtown in the county of Essex." dated 25 Nov. 1725.

JONATHAN ROGERS (James Rogers III, page 125) was born according to the Milford, Conn. records, June 7th, 1656. He was drowned 1697 near Gull Island. He married March 2nd, 1678, NAOMI BURDICK of Newport, R. I. He was baptized in New London, Conn., March 2nd, 1674-75, by Elder Hiscox of Newport; and immediately following the baptism Jonathan and his brothers, James and John, were received as members of the Newport church, having been baptized some time previously by Mr. John Crandall of Westerly, R. I. (Reference: Hubbard's Record). He always adhered to the Sabbatarian principles. Jonathan Rogers lived on a farm on the Great Neck, given him by his father.

The inventory of the estate made by Daniel Witherell, taken in 1697, mentions seven children; the youngest, Katherine, married WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of Elizabeth, N. J. (Reference: James Rogers of New London, Con- necticut and his Descendants, by James Swift Rogers, pages 46-47).

JOHN SOMERS (John Somers III, page 126), (John Somers II, page 152), (Nicholas Somers I, page 169), (Nicholas Somers, page 169), (William Somers, page 169), (John Somers, page 169), (John Somers, page 169), the pioneer, was born in Worcester, England in 1641. He died in Somers Point, Gloucester County (later Atlantic County), N. J. in 1723. He became a Quaker before leaving England, and was obliged to leave on account of this. He was Clerk of the Court, and Surveyor for the Egg Harbor District before 1690. He was one of the founders of the Egg Harbor Meeting. He built his house of bricks which he baked himself. It is still standing, and is occupied by one of his descendants. He was buried in the pine woods of his own plantation. His first wife died on the voyage to America. His second wife was HANNAH HODGKINS. The Somers family possessed an estate at Clifton in the parish of Severn Stoke, County of Gloucester, England.

The will of John Somers was made in Great Egg Harbor, N. J., January 8th, 1720-21; probated January 14th, 1739 (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXX, page 447). He mentions his wife HANNAH, his sons Richard, JAMES and four others, also four daughters. He witnessed a will March 21st, 1704-05 (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, page 112). He made an inventory at Great Egg Harbor. (Same vol., page 180.)

HANNAH HODGKINS, wife of JOHN SOMERS, was born in Worcester, England, 1667; she died in 1738 at Great Egg Harbor. Her will was made at Great Egg Harbor, October 12th, 1737 (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXX, page 442). The will mentions Richard, JAMES, Samuel, Job and Edmund.

May 17th, 1729, money was paid to HANNAH SOMERS (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXII).

JEREMIAH ADAMS (John Adams III, page 126), (Jeremy Adams II, page 152) was born in August 1664; went with his mother, Abigail, and his step-father, John Betts, to Huntington, L. I. June 18th, 1688, John Betts conveyed to Jeremiah Adams a part of his farm on Crab Meadow Neck at Huntington. Jeremiah married ——, and removed to Great Egg Harbor, N. J., where letters of administration on his estate were granted to his son Jeremiah, December 16th, 1735. He evidently married twice. Jeremiah was the son of his first wife. He married 2nd, REBECCA —— (Reference: New England Historical and Genealogical Register, page 317, 1905; also will of Rebecca Adams, August 31st, 1750).

REBECCA —— ADAMS, wife of JEREMIAH ADAMS, left a will dated August 31st, 1750. It is not known what her name was. As she mentions her grandson-in-law, David Adams, son of Jeremiah Adams deceased, she evidently was not the mother of Jeremiah Adams who was made executor of his father's estate in 1735. She made Joseph Adams "her loving son," her executor. She also mentioned her daughter ABIGAIL SOMERS.

WILL OF REBECCA ADAMS

IN THE NAME OF GOD. Amen. This 31st day of August in the year of our Lord 1750. I Rebecca Addams, of Great Egg Harbor, Gloucester Co. in the Province of West New Jersey, widow, being sick of body, but of sane mind and memory and understanding as usual, do make this my last will and testament in manner and form following: etc. etc.

I give and bequeath unto my grandson in law David Adams son of Jeremiah Adams desceased 5 shillings.

I give to my loving daughter ABIGAIL SOMERS 5 shillings.

I give to my loving son Isaac Adams one cow and 2 stears.

I give to my loving daughter Sarah Conover one cow.

I give to my loving daughter Elisabeth Van Golder one cow.

I give to my loving daughter Estor Roberson one cow.

I give to my loving son Joseph Addams one cow.

I give to my loving great grandson John Hickman one yearling heife.

Isaac Addams, Sarah Conover, Elisabeth Van Golder, Estor Roberson, Joseph Addams were made residuary legatees.

Estor Hickman granddaughter was left her largest iron pot. Joseph Addams was made executor.

The above taken from a photoscopic copy in possession of the Sec'y of State of New Jersey at Trenton, N. J. Also I have a photostatic copy of the inventory and accounting of Joseph Addams dated December 28th, 1754.

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH was the first of this family to arrive in America. There is an account of him in the Appendix written by Charles P. Brandriff, a great-great-grandson. The History of the Brandriff Family is very accurate except for a few facts concerning the first Timothy. Mr. Lewis D. Cook has made some corrections and additions to the above, which will also be found in the Appendix. Timothy seems to have travelled about considerably after he reached the new world.

There was a marriage September 26th, 1674, in London, of a Mary Brandreth, daughter of Daniel Brandreth. While there is no proof to hand, Daniel was probably the father of our Timothy.

The first record we have of Timothy's presence in the Province of West Jersey was October 8th, 1681. He is referred to as owning land (Reference: New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, page 378). March 20th, 1683-84 he witnessed a marriage at Burlington (Stillwell's Historical and Genealogical Miscellany, Vol. II). From the same records, his ear-mark was registered August 8th, 1685. In 1705, Timothy was a resident in "Cohansey," Salem County (Quaker Records). He is next found in Cape May County (Reference: New Jersey Archives, 1st Series, page 556), a deed for 300 acres of land to him. Timothy married for his first wife before 1686 in the parish of Christ Church, Island of Barbados, Catherine Rodman; by her he had an only child, Mary. February 29th, 1706, asked permission from the Quaker Church to visit Flushing, L. I. According to the Quaker Records, February 9th, 1709, Mary Brandreth, daughter of Timothy Brandreth of West New Jersey, was married in Flushing, L. I. to Jonathan Hewstis of Westchester.

Timothy married a second wife whose name is unknown. He married for a third wife in 1706 Sarah Shaw, widow of Edmund Shaw of Salem County. The second wife whose name is unknown, was the mother of several children including our Timothy, Jr. Timothy, Jr. was a minor when Timothy, Sr. died in 1714. Timothy, Sr. is frequently mentioned in the

New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, 1st Series, pages 382, 389, 536, 58, 310, 448. His will, July 3rd, 1714, refers to wife Sarah, his son Timothy, Jr., and several other children. He left 400 acres of land on Middle Creek of Great Egg Harbor (Reference: page 58, Vol. XXIII, New Jersey Archives, Series I).

May 20th, 1697, he was a member of the House of Representatives. He is referred to as one of the House who together with the Governor and Council signed an agreement to uphold the authority of the King. He was the first Sheriff of Cape May County. He was a Quaker, but frequently did things of which the Quakers did not approve. He married once at least outside the Quaker Church. When he became ill he recanted and was received back in the Church.

ROBERT LORD came from Springfield, Burlington County, to Woodbury, N. J. He died in 1735. He was a Quaker from Bury in Lancashire, England. He married ELIZABETH ——. Their daughter, Rachel Lord, married James Hughes.

JACOB PLATT (Isaac Platt III, page 138), (Richard Platt II, page 161) was born in Huntington, L. I., September 29th, 1682. He married ABIGAIL COREY (Reference: Mr. Henry B. Platt employed a genealogist named Sheppard to find out the parentage of Benoni Platt of Bedford, N. Y.). He spent considerable time looking up records of Huntington. He came to the conclusion that Benoni was the grandchild of Isaac Platt and that either Jacob or John Platt, sons of Isaac, was his father. Mr. Alrick Mann, a very clever genealogist, went into further details. He decided that Jacob was undoubtedly the father of Benoni. His arguments will be found in the Appendix of this volume.

ISAAC PLATT (page 138) AND ELISABETH WOOD (page 139)

ABIGAIL COREY (John Corey III, page 139), (John Corey II, page 161), wife of JACOB PLATT, was born in Huntington, L. I. She married first, JACOB PLATT, then George Dibell, and moved over to Greenwich, Conn. They joined the church there, and George Dibble and family are mentioned, also his wife's son Benoni. It is presumed that her first husband, Jacob Platt, only lived a short while after their marriage. Benoni means "Son of my sorrow" (Reference: New York Genealogical and Biographical Register, page 19, A 1900 for Corey Family).

JOHN INGERSOLL (John Ingersoll III, page 140) was born May 11th, 1674, in Huntington, L. I. He married

ELISABETH ——, and lived at Huntington until October 21st, 1710. He probably moved to Oyster Bay. He resided there in April 1719, when he bought from Thomas Brush a tract of land in Connecticut. John Ingersoll is first mentioned in Stamford Town Records, 1720, as living toward the north end of "Long Ridge." April 18th, 1727, he bought of John Lyon, Jr. of Greenwich, 100 acres in "not yet divided in Fourcorners purchase," Westchester, N. Y. (Reference: Vol. C, page 170, Stamford Land Records). It is probable that he took up his residence in Bedford soon after giving deeds of "Long Ridge" to his sons, in 1731-33, Nathaniel, Simon, Samuel, John, Daniel, and Josiah (Reference: Genealogy of the Ingersoll Family in America, by Lillian D. Avery, page 351).

THOMAS ORTON was born in England in 1618. In just what year he reached Windsor is unknown, probably in 1636. He married there, June 16th, 1641, MARGARET PRATT. He remained in Windsor, Conn., fourteen years. In 1655 he moved with his family to Farmington where he resided the remainder of his life. He was one of the original settlers and proprietors of Farmington. In 1672 a list of the valley lands shows him owning property. He died after May 7th, 1688. On that date THOMAS disposed of his estate by gifts of deeds to his children (Reference: Town Records of Farmington). He left several daughters and one son JOHN (Reference: Genealogy of the Descendants of Thomas Orton of Windsor, Conn., by Edward Orton).

JOHN JUDSON (Captain Joseph Judson III, page 146), (William Judson II, page 166) was born December 2nd, 1647. He died January 12th, 1709. He was married March 12th, 1673-74 to ELISABETH CHAPMAN (Reference: Cothren's History of Woodbury, Conn.).

III GENERATION

JAMES ROGERS. In the Genealogy of James Rogers of New London and his Descendants, page 47, it says: James Rogers of New London might have been the James Rogers who came over in the Increase, in 1635, instead of the James Rogers afterward prominent in Rhode Island.

In 1637 he was one of six men from Saybrook who under Captain Underhill took part in the Pequot War. He went to Stratford, and married there, ELISABETH ROWLAND, daughter of Samuel Rowland. He joined Mr. Prudden's Congregational Church in 1654; his wife had joined the same church in 1652. Some of the children were baptized there. He had dealings in New London as early as 1656. He was made Freeman, March 14th, 1660-61. He was probably a native of England. He is supposed to have been born there in 1615. He died in New London in 1687. He was married in Stratford to ELISABETH ROWLAND. Their children were Joseph, John, Bathsheba, James, Jonathan and ELISABETH.

ELISABETH ROWLAND (Samuel Rowland II, page 151), wife of JAMES ROGERS of New London, was married in Stratford. She joined Mr. Prudden's Congregational Church in 1652. Her children were baptized in the Milford Church.

JOHN ADAMS (Jeremy Adams II, page 152). Of this man little is known except the date of his death which was September 16th, 1670, and the inventory of his estate. His widow ABIGAIL SMITH, married John Betts of Wethersfield. On January 26th, 1680, John Betts bought a farm at Huntington, L. I. It is probable that at this time John Betts and his wife Abigail, widow of John Adams, removed with the Adams children to Huntington. They were there by 1684.

John Adams married August 26th, 1657, ABIGAIL SMITH, daughter of Richard Smith (Reference: New Eng-

TIMOTHY BROOKS (Henry Brooks II, page 152) was born in Concord, Mass., shortly after his parents came to America. He moved to Woburn with his parents, 1648-49. His will was made March 12th, 1708; proved November 7th, 1712. He married in Woburn, December 21st, 1659, MARY RUSSELL. About that year the couple moved to Billerica. He became a strong supporter of the Baptist Church. With fifty-four others he petitioned the Court of New Plymouth for the formation of the township of Swansea. Here was one of the first Baptist Churches in America. In 1675 Timothy Brooks was allowed two soldiers to defend his property from the Indians of "King Phillip" in Billerica. His wife died September 15th, 1680. He then moved to Swansea. He married Mehitable Kinsley, a widow.

About 1687 a little colony of Baptists located along the river in New Jersey called by the Indians "Cohanso." During the summer of 1690 a band of Baptists came to the Cohansey settlement, in Cumberland County, N. J. Among others was TIMOTHY BROOKS. They named their settlement "Bowentown" (Reference: Timothy Brooks of Massachusetts and His Descendants).

ROBERT AYARS was born about 1650. In 1664 he was in Hopkinton, R. I., now known as Westerly. He was a Sabbatarian. In 1685 with his family he removed to New Jersey. November 21st, 1705, he purchased 2,200 acres in what is now the town of Shiloh. That part of the country was called Cohansey. He lived there thirty years. His will was made February 25th, 1716; proved May 1st, 1719. He married ESTHER BOWEN (Reference: Robert Ayars and and his Descendants, pages 5, 6, 7, 8).

LIEUTENANT JOHN MORGAN (James Morgan II, page 153), (William Morgan I, page 169) was born in New London, March 30th, 1645. He died in 1712 (Caulkins, page 311). The Genealogy of James Morgan and his Descendants, by Nathaniel H. Morgan, states as follows:

JOHN MORGAN married Rachel Dymond by whom he had seven children. After her death he married Widow Elisabeth Williams (daughter of Lieutenant-Governor William Jones of New Haven, and granddaughter of Governor Theophilus Eton) by whom he had eight children. He removed to Preston about 1692, and died in 1712, aged sixty-seven. In his will dated August 23rd, 1711; proved February 12th, 1712, he names his wife Elisabeth and thirteen of his children as then living. He also, like his father and brother James, was a prominent public man; Indian Commissioner and Adviser, Deputy to the General Court in 1690 from New London, and in 1693-94 from Preston. Reference: besides Morgan Genealogy, Savage, Vol. II, page 568, says, "John Morgan and Elisabeth's first child was born 1690. Her name was Elisabeth". Savage, Vol. II, page 97, states that Elisabeth Jones married John Morgan. "She was the daughter of Lieutenant-Governor William Jones".

CAPTAIN JOSEPH JUDSON (William Judson II, page 166) was born in England in 1619. He was fifteen when his father brought him to this country in 1634. He lived with his father four years in Concord, then moved to Stratford at its settlement in 1639, with the family. He married 1644, in his twenty-fifth year, SARAH PORTER, she being eighteen. He died October 9th, 1690; was buried in Stratford, though he lived in Woodbury most of the time (Reference: Cothren's History of Woodbury, Connecticut, pages 587, 600; also Orcutt's History of Stratford, pages 197, 222; Epitaph: Joseph Judson died October 9th, 1690. Sarah his wife died March 16th, 1696).

Joseph Judson was a member of the General Court of Connecticut, 1659, 1665, 1684, 1685, 1686, 1687, 1688, 1689. He was a military officer of much trust and responsibility. February 22nd, 1665, he was a member of the Colonial Committee of Safety against the invasion of the Dutch under DeRuyter, concerning which a proclamation had been issued in London. He was commissioned a Lieutenant, June 26th, 1672. He was recommended by Governor William Leete and commissioned by the General Council of Connecticut to raise and provision troops, for the expedition against the Narragansetts in King Philip's War. He was Captain, 1676 (Reference: Colonial Records of Connecticut, pages 340, 13, 21, 181, 279, 395, 139, 156, 169, 194, 214, 230, 252; also History of Ancient Woodbury, by Cothren, Vol. I, pages 54, 61; Vol. IV, page 588; also Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, Vol. III, page 460).

SARAH PORTER.

WAS THE CHILD OF

JOHN PORTER (page 146) AND (wife's name unknown).

ROBERT DALGLEISH (DALGLISH). The first we hear of him was in Milford, Conn., in 1645. The Dalgleish Family of Tinnygask derives its surname from the lands of Dalgleish in the parish of Rankleburn, County Selkirk, Scotland. The Junior branches appear to have established themselves in the County of Fife early in the 16th century, some going to Perthshire.

According to the Descendants of George Denison, Appendix, page 338, Robert Dalglish married MARY DENISON in Milford, Conn., about 1660. Robert Denison and his son-in-law, Robert Dalglish, with their families, removed to Newark, N. J., in 1666. He is referred to in the History of Essex and Hudson, by Shaw, page 361. In the Records of Newark is a map showing a lot belonging to Robert Dalglish. In 1667 Robert is on a list of the settlers of Newark. Thereafter his name recurs frequently, until his death in 1693, in the Records of Newark. He was evidently one of the very prominent men who settled Newark.

MARY DENISON (Robert Denison II, page 166), wife of ROBERT DAGLISH, was married in 1660, in Milford. She died in Newark, in 1694.

SAMUEL ROWLAND lived in Stratford, Conn. He was the father of ELISABETH who married JAMES ROGERS of New London.

SAMUEL HUBBARD (Father's name unknown), (James Hubbard). The Hubbard History and Genealogy, by Day, pages 53, 55, states: Samuel Hubbard was the grandson of James and Naomi Cocke Hubbard of Mendlesham, England. His father's and mother's name is not known. Samuel spent the latter part of his life about Newport, R. I. or Mayford, as he called it. For twenty-three years he belonged to the First Baptist Church of Newport. He was sent to Boston August 7th, 1651, by the Church on a mission. In 1664 was appointed Solicitor of the Colony. December 23rd, 1671, with his wife, one daughter, and four other persons, he formed the first Seventh Day Baptist Church in America. He was made Freeman May 22nd, 1655; died 1692. Children were Robert Naomi, RUTH, Benjamin, Samuel, Lucy, Deborah. Page 44, same book, states that he married TACY COOPER. She was born in England 1608, came to Dorchester, Mass., June 9th, 1634; to Dorchester (Windsor), Conn., 1635. Samuel arrived in Salem October 1633; Dorchester (Windsor), Conn., 1635. Married there and went to Wethersfield, 1637. May 10th, 1639 to Springfield, Mass. He left there and went to Fairfield, Conn., in 1647. He went to Rhode Island. He and his wife were baptized November 3rd, 1648. He spent the remainder of his life in Newport. He was a zealous Baptist.

JEREMY ADAMS came from England with the Rev. Mr. Hooker's Company. This Company settled first at Braintree, but soon removed to Newtown (now called Cambridge), where Jeremy was as early as 1632. He was Freeman at Cambridge on May 6th, 1635. On the removal of Hooker's Company to Hartford in 1636, Jeremy went with them.

About 1635 he married REBECCA, the widow of Samuel Greenhill. March 13th, 1661-62 the General Court granted to Jeremy Adams 300 acres of upland. About the same time the Court established Jeremy as keeper of the "Ordinary." His wife died in 1678 and he married a second Rebecca. Jeremy Adams died August 11th, 1683. His property was valued at 243 pounds and was given to his grandson Zachariah Sanford, the children of his son JOHN, and those of his son-in-law Willet.

HENRY BROOKS was born in England in 1591. He died April 12th, 1683. The first record we have of him is of March 14th, 1638, when he was made Freeman in Concord, Mass. From 1649 until 1657 he appeared on the tax list of Woburn, Mass. He was one of the first settlers of Concord, as he lived there with his wife and four sons and two daughters until he moved to Woburn. During the years 1669, 1671, 1672, he was a Selectman. He left England for religious freedom, which he could get in America (Reference: Timothy Brooks of Massachusetts and his Descendants, by Robert F. Brooks, pages 7, 8, 9).

JOHN RUSSELL, SR., died at Woburn, June 1st, 1676. He married ELISABETH ——. She died December 16th, 1644.

JAMES MORGAN (William Morgan I, page 169) was the first of this large family to emigrate to America. He was born in Wales in 1607, probably in Llandaff, Glamorgan County. The family appears to have moved to Bristol a few years prior to 1636. In that year he came over in the "Mary" to Sandy Bay near Gloucester, Mass. He was made Freeman in Roxbury 1643. He settled in New London in 1650. He died in Groton, across the river from New London, in 1685. In Roxbury he married MARGERY HILL, August 6th, 1640. From 1650 until March 1657 he lived in New London. He then moved over the Thames River where the land was much better. In May 1705 the town of Groton was separated from New London. In 1836 the town of Ledyard was set off from Groton. The Morgan family has ever resided in these two towns. The first two generations were all buried in Groton, and Nathaniel Morgan, the writer of the Morgan Genealogy, was able to identify their tombstones.

The place where he first built his house in Groton in 1657, and where he resided and died, is about three miles from the Groton Ferry on the road to Poquonoc Bridge. The site in 1868 was a few rods distant from the house of Elijah S. Morgan. Eight generations of Morgans have occupied the house in which Elijah lived.

James Morgan was a very prominent and influential citizen. He was one of the Selectmen in the town of New London for several years. He was Deputy to the General Court for many years. The first time he was selected was in 1657.

MARGERY HILL, wife of JAMES MORGAN, lived in Roxbury, Mass. She was married in Roxbury, August 6th, 1640. She had seven children. They were all born in Roxbury except the youngest who only lived a week. She died in Groton, Conn.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR WILLIAM JONES (Colonel John Jones I) was born in England. He married July 4th, 1659, HANNAH ETON. He came over to America and arrived at Boston from London July 27th, 1660. He went to New Haven. He died in that town in his eighty-second year, October 17th, 1706.

He was of good talents, a very active public servant. He was Assistant and Deputy Governor of New Haven (Reference: Savage's Genealogical Dictionary, Vol. II, pages 97, 567).

ANN MARBURY (Rev. Francis Marbury I, page 171), (William Marbury, page 171) was born in Alford, Lincolnshire, England. She was baptized in that place, June 20th, 1591. She came to America with her husband WILLIAM HUTCHINSON in the "Griffin" in 1634. They settled in Boston.

She took sides almost immediately in a religious controversy and held meetings with the principal women of the Colony. She was very successful at first, but Winthrop, who did not approve of her teachings, finally got the upper hand and she was banished from the Colony in 1638. She followed her husband to Rhode Island. She remained in Aquidneck until the death of her husband in 1642. She left Rhode Island and went to New York. It was then a Dutch Colony (Reference: History of Massachusetts, by Barry, Vol. I, pages 234 to 261; also Bancroft's History of the United States, Vol. I, pages 262, 264, 505).

Mr. Lemuel Ely Wells has written several papers on Ann Hutchinson. He went up to Albany to look at an old map. He found the place where she located in New York. It was in what is now Eastchester in Westchester County. It was where Hutchinson's Brook flows into the Hutchinson River. Hutchinson's Brook is now known as Black Dog Brook. Ann Hutchinson's house was three or four hundred feet south of Bayswater Avenue at the point where Black Dog Brook flows into the Hutchinson River. Bancroft states that Governor Kieft set the Indians on the Hutchinson Settlement. At any rate the Indians killed Ann and all of her children except the one who had married John Sanford,

MARGARET (CHANDLER OR MONCK), wife of WILLIAM DENISON, died February 3rd, 1646 (Reference: Savage).

JOHN BORRODALE was the father of ANN, wife of Colonel George Denison. He was said to be an Irish Lord.

ELDER WILLIAM BREWSTER (William Brewster I, page 171). Barry's History of Massachusetts, Vol. I, page 49, states that he was born in Suffolk, England, in 1560 or 1564. He was a student at Cambridge, and afterwards an attache to William Davison, Esq., a polished courtier of the reign of Elizabeth, her Secretary of State, and her Ambassador to Holland. Mr. Brewster accompanied him there, being esteemed rather as a son than a servant, Withdrawing from public life when his employer was displaced, Mr. Brewster received an appointment before April 1594, as Postmaster at Scrooby.

He there resided until his removal to Holland, faithfully discharging the duties of his office and devoting himself to the interests of the Church with which he was connected. After several attempts to leave England, Brewster and others, in 1608, were able to settle in Holland where they remained until 1620 when they sailed to Plymouth.

William Brewster was the fourth signer of the Mayflower Compact. He died April 20th, 1644, in Plymouth, Mass. He married before 1593 in England, MARY —— (Reference: Mayflower Descendants, page 223). He was ruling Elder of the Church from 1620 to 1644; Deputy 1636; Chaplain of the Military Company.

Mr. Brewster brought with him in the Mayflower his wife Mary, also his two sons, Love and Wrestling. His son Jonathan came in 1621. His two daughters came later in 1621. Their names were Fear and Patience. MARY ——, wife of William Brewster, died at Plymouth April 27th, 1627.

JOHN OLDHAM came over in the summer of 1623. His name is listed among those who sailed in two ships, the "Ann" and "Little James" (Reference: Lists of Persons Who went from Great Britain to the American Plantations, by Hotten, page xxviii). The "Ann" arrived in June 1623, and the "Little James" a week later. Barry's History of Massachusetts, Vol. I, page 131, states that a person named Lyford caused a disturbance in the Colony. When Oldham arrived in 1623, he plotted with Lyford. Oldham resided in Nantasket as he was banished from the Colony. In March 1625 he was allowed to return and became a prominent planter. July 20th, 1636, John Oldham was murdered by a party of Block Island Indians. This was one of the causes of the war against the Narragansetts.

DR. COMFORT STARR was living in Ashford, England. He came to New England in 1634, in the "Hercules" of Sandwich, with three children and three servants. His wife's name was MARY ——. Dr. Starr's will was made April 22nd, 1659 (Reference: New England Genealogical and Biographical Register, Vol. X, page 229).

RICHARD PLATT came to this country in 1638. He landed in New Haven. He had eighty-four acres on the south side of what is now Chapel Street near College Street, near what was known as the Hertfordshire Quarter. August 22nd, 1639, a church was founded in Milford. Richard Platt removed there and was on the list of planters in 1646. He was a deacon in the church in 1669. His wife MARY died in January 1676. His will was made in 1683. He died in 1684. His children were Mary, John, ISAAC, and Sarah, born in England; and Epenetus, Hannah, Josiah and Joseph, born in Milford.

John went to Norwalk. ISAAC and Epenetus went to Huntington, L. I. Joseph and Josiah remained in Milford (Reference: Platt Lineage, pages 14, 15, 16).

JOHN CONKLIN was born in Nottingham, England, about 1600. He married in St. Peter's in Nottingham, on January 22nd, 1625, ELISABETH ALLSAEBROOK. A glass man by trade, he first appeared in this country in Salem, Mass., in 1638. He was admitted a Freeman of the Massachusetts Bay Colony May 14th, 1640; voted 5 acres of land and the glass house; in 1650 at Southold. He removed to Huntington, L. I., and died there, February 23rd, 1684. He was a Representative from the Town of Huntington at the surrender of the English to the Dutch in 1673 (Reference: St. Nicholas Society Genealogical Register, 1923, page 61).

JOHN COREY. New York Genealogical Register, 1900, page 225, states that the Corey family of Southampton and Southold came from England. John Corey, October 8th, 1649, was a resident of Southold as he and Ann Corey witnessed a will on that date. He was made Freeman in 1662. He was a Quaker. His estate was inventoried on March 7th, 1686. He married ANN —— before coming to Long Island, about 1638. In 1686 he had six children. His daughter Johannah married Richard Brush (IV Generation).

JOHN GOODRICH (William Goodrich I) lived in Hegesset, England. He died in 1632 and left a will (Reference: page 20, Goodrich Genealogy, by Lafayette Wallace Case; page 30 gives a table showing that he married MARGERIE ——).

Matthew was one of the original settlers of Hartford. He owned land in that town. He resided on the corner of Village and Front Street for a number of years. He left there and went to Norwalk, Conn. He represented the town of Norwalk at the General Court in 1654 (Reference: Marvin Genealogy, by T. R. Marvin, pages 3, 4). He died in 1680.

THOMAS COLEMAN was born in 1600 at Eversham, England. He died in 1674. He was in Wethersfield in 1639; Representative in 1652-56. He moved to Hadley; Freeman there in 1661. He left a will leaving an estate to two sons and three daughters, one of whom married RICHARD TREAT, 2nd (Reference: Treat Genealogy; also Savage, Vol. I, page 431).

GEORGE HUBBARD was born in 1601 in England. His name appears first, 1639, in a list of early settlers of Hartford, Conn. These settlers came overland from the vicinity of Boston, 1635-36. He married ELISABETH WATTS, daughter of Richard Watts, 1640. Up to 1649 there are a number of records of him. About 1650-51 he disposed of his lands and went to Mattabeset, so called until 1653 when it became Middletown, Conn. He owned large tracts of land on the east side and west side of the river which were recorded September 5th, 1654. December 17th, 1666 he had charge of the old first meetinghouse. An appraisal of his property March 22nd, 1670, he was worth 90 pounds. At his death he was wealthy for those days. His will was made May 22nd, 1681. He described himself as being 80 years old. His inventory states he died March 18th, 1684. Mary Hubbard was his oldest child (Reference: pages 269-274, Hubbard Genealogy, by Day).

ELISABETH WATTS (Richard Watts I, page 172), wife of GEORGE HUBBARD, was married in 1640.

Appendix A

PEDIGREE OF THE BROOKFIELD FAMILY OF ELIZABETHTOWN, EAST JERSEY

With Especial Attention to the Line of Descent of Henry Morgan Brookfield of New York City

1. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD appears as a resident of Elizabethtown, Essex County, East New Jersey, as early as 1688. His antecedents in England, to which no definite clue has been found in the public records of the Colony, have not been traced by any more than a preliminary search for the surname in English records which are available in print. This resulted in the discovery of a family descended from one George Brookfield as appears in the parish register of Sheffield, in Yorkshire, in 1640 and continues of record therein for a century or more, but without mention of a William Brookfield. (See footnote.) If this progenitor, William Brookfield, came into East Jersey by way of New England (and the only suggestion for that possibility is the fact that his son William went from Elisabethtown to New London, Conn., for his marriage and resided there some time); trace of him is not mentioned in Savage's Dictionary of the Early Settlers of New England, a very comprehensive work. A more particular search in the records of the several Colonies of New England might discover some proof of residence therein.

No settlement of the estate of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD has been found in the probate records of the several Counties of the Provinces of East Jersey and of West Jersey. (The original Wills, Inventories, Bonds, Will Books, etc., have been collected in the Office of the Secretary of State, in the State House at Trenton, and abstracts to 1780 have been made of them and published in New Jersey Archives, as also have digests of the land records to 1703, references to which follow.) Accordingly, the date of death of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD cannot be determined more definitely than the following items from contemporary records indicate.

ELISABETH —— was the wife of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD. New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, shows John Brookfield administrator of Elisabeth Bisset, December 25th, 1725. This was an error. Three original papers in State House at Trenton show:

1. Account of widow Bessel's estate sold at a vendou January 4th, 1725/6 (Items sold to Jobe Brookfield).

2. Inventory of the estate of Elisabeth Bessel late widow of Joshua Bessel, November 25th, 1725.

3. Account by Jobe Brookfield, administrator of the estate of Elisabeth Bessel. "On the reverse, Inventory of Elisabeth Besel als Brookfield 1726 Essex. November 17th, in the year 1725, Elisabeth Besel deceased in the house of Job Brookfield her son."

The above proves that William Brookfield and Elisabeth —— his wife did not have a son John. The entry New Jersey Archives, December 25th, 1725, should have been Job instead of John.

(The six items above are from the land records published in New Jersey Archives, 1st Series, Vol. XXI.)

INVENTORY of the personal estate of John Bowne of Mattawan, Monmouth County, N. J., dated April 9th, 1716, includes in a very long list of mortgagors, WILLIAM BROOKFIELD.

INVENTORY of the personal estate of Lawrence Van Hook of Monmouth County, N. J., dated November 20, 1725, includes inter al., bonds and mortgages due the estate from William and Levi Brookfield (who are evidently of next generation. LDC.).

(The two items above are from New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII.)

No evidence of the names of children of William Brookfield (except in the case of his known son William as will appear under the latter's marriage record) has been found in the public records, but from the fact that three of them are of record as residents of Elizabethtown, it is presumed without doubt that they were the three sons of the said progenitor, WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, of that settlement.

Children of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, SR. (Nos. 2-5):

2. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, married April 15th, 1720, Katharine Rogers in New London, Conn.

3. LEVI BROOKFIELD, removed to Evesham Township, Burlington County, N. J., before 1739, where his daughter Mary Brookfield married (1st) Isaac Prickett and (2nd) Charles Brookfield. No further record found.

4. Job Brookfield, founder of the family of this surname in Morristown, Rahway, etc., a pedigree of which is said to have been filed with the New Jersey Historical Society at Newark. In St. John's Churchyard, Elizabeth, is inscription "Here Lyeth ye Body of Job Brookfield who Deped. this life August ye 3rd. A. D. 1733, in the 49th year of his age." Administration upon the estate of Job Brookfield of Elizabethtown granted August 20th, 1733 to Sarah Brookfield, widow (Essex County, New Jersey Probates Book B, page 208).

5. JOHN. New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII, Letters of Administration granted to John Brookfield on estate of Elisabeth Bisset was wrong. The original states Letters granted to Job. His mother's name was Bessel instead of Bisset. There was no John son of the first William.

2. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, JR., son of No. 1. William Brookfield of Elizabethtown, was apparently born there about 1699; he removed to New London, Conn., where he married, April 15th, 1720, Katharine Rogers, daughter of Jonathan and Naomi (Burdick) Rogers of that place (as see James Rogers of New London and His Descendants, page 78). William Brookfield and his family resided in New London at least until 1731, after which they removed to Little Egg Harbor Township, which is on the Atlantic front of Burling-

MARRIAGE: "William Brookfield, son of William, of Elizabethtown in the province of Jerseys, married Katharine Rogers, daughter of Jonathan, of New London, April 15th, 1720." (From New London, Conn., Vital Records, Vol. II, page 29, transcript of in Connecticut State Library. In Vol. I, page 60, another entry of this record states the date as April 10th, 1720.)

1728 October 14th: "In the afternoon I was at home to hear a case between WM. BROOKFIELD & S. Williams."

1730 March 24th: "I was at Court forenoon . . . BROOKFIELD & Jno. Darte, 2 actions."

1731 July 23rd: "Afternoon with the Committee of the Comons, T. Prenttis Jno. Richd. & Capt. Douglas at Capt. Stephen Prenttis & at Bruens Neck pulling down the fence Set up by WILLIAM BROOKFIELD. We notified him to pull it down by the first (of) July."

(The above three items are from the Diary of Joshua Hempstead of New London, Connecticut, 1711-1758, published by New London Historical Society.)

1748 April 2nd: Inventory of the personal estate of David Gale of Egg Harbour, Burlington County, N. J., decd., intestate, made by John Deandale and WILLIAM BROOKFIELD.

1751 July 2nd: "Letters of Administration of the Estate of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, were granted by His Excellency Jonathan Belcher, Esq., Governor of the Province of New Jersey, to Catherine Brookfield" (Burlington Will Book 7, pages 104-105).

1751 July 2nd: Bond of CATHARINE BROOKFIELD of Little Egg Harbour, Burlington County, N. J., widow, as Administratrix on estate of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of Burlington County, deceased intestate. John Inskeep and Charles Brookfield, both of said County, securities (from original Bond, now in Office of Sec'y State).

1751 August 8th: Inventory of the estate of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, late of Burlington County, decd. intestate, made by Stephen Cramer and John Dearndal, amounted to 379 pounds, 4 shillings, 1 penny, including bills, bonds, and book debts of 148 pounds, 19 shillings, 1 penny, and a negro man valued at 50 Pounds.

Children of WILLIAM and KATHARINE (Rogers) BROOKFIELD (Nos. 6-9) (Names and dates of births are from New London, Conn., Vital Records):

6. URIAH BROOKFIELD, son of William and Katharine, born May 7th, 1722 in New London, Conn.; died 1789 in Dagsboro Hundred, Sussex County, Del. (see below).
7. STEPHEN BROOKFIELD, son of William and Katharine, born August 30th, 1724 in New London, Conn.; no further record; probably died young.
8. CHARLES BROOKFIELD, son of William and Katharine, born July 27th, 1726, New London.
9. ELIZABETH BROOKFIELD, daughter of William and Katharine, born July 31st, 1728.

6. URIAH BROOKFIELD, born May 7th, 1722, in New London, Conn., son of No. 2, William and Katharine (Rogers) Brookfield (see above); came with his parents to Little Egg Harbor Township, Burlington County, N. J., and supposedly resided there until his father's death in 1751. In 1757 he is described as "Uriah Brookfield, Marriner," of Dorchester County, Maryland, in a Deed conveying 100 acres in Sussex County, Del. In the year previous, a warrant for survey of 45 acres in Sussex County had been issued to him as "Uriah Brookfield of Worcester County, Md." Between 1757 and 1788, he removed from Maryland into Sussex County, Del., and died there in 1789, leaving a Will. In 1764, the schooner "Phoebe" of 15 tons, with Uriah Brookfield, master, was registered in the port of Philadelphia. The evidences for this account follow:

1756 May 24: Warrant for survey of 45 acres, the tract called "Oak Ridge," originally granted 21 November 1749 to John Haines (Hines ?), was issued to "Uriah Brookfield of Worcester County," Maryland (Round's Surveys, Book A, page 259, Sussex County, Delaware).

1757 May 3: Deed from John Phillips of Dorchester County, Province of Maryland, and Territories thereunto adjacent, yeoman, conveying to "Uriah Brookfield, Marriner" of the same place, for 80 Pounds of money of Penna., 100 acres, more or less, in Sussex Co., Del., bounded by Bracy's

Branch, and lines of Woodman Stockley and Ephraim Darby (Sussex County Deed Book, I-IX, page 144).

1764 May 24: Schooner Phoebe, 15 tons. Uriah Brookfield, master (from Ship Registers, 1762-1776, published in "Pennsylvania Archives," 5, 1, 389).

1788 December 15: WILL OF URIAH BROOKFIELD of the County of Sussex, Delaware, Gentlemen. My dear wife Ann Brookfield, the use of all my real estate during her natural life or widowhood, including the marsh and two tracts of land in Dagsboro Hundred,—one containing 200 acres swamp and upland called "Greenswamp," and one whereon I now live called "Oak Ridge" of 250 acres, also a tract in Indian River Hundred bought of John Phillips and containing 100 acres. After the death or widowhood of wife, the estate to my three grandchildren viz: Uriah Brookfield, Uriah Thomas, Azariah Brookfield, when the two eldest arrive at full age and with the consent of guardian of the youngest. All personal property to my wife Ann during her widowhood, and then to be divided between my grandchildren viz: Nancy Brookfield, Sarah Jump, Nancy Thomas, Rebecca Thomas, Mary Thomas. My wife Ann, and Michael Thomas to be executors of my will. Witnesses: Simon Kollock, Miller Thorogood, Elisha Thorogood. Proved February 12, 1789 (Sussex County Delaware, Will Book, D, page 207).

1794 March 21: Application made by Michael Thomas and Betty his wife, and other heirs and representatives of Uriah Brookfield, for a warrant. Granted (Sussex County, Delaware, Warrant Book, R-17, page 193).

1805 December 5: Letters of Attorney by Nancy Brookfield, spinster, to Armwell Long to receive goods, chattels, lands, etc. for her by the death of her father, Azariah Brookfield (Sussex County, Delaware, Deed Book, AB-25, page 242).

1798 June 20: Azariah Brookfield, a minor, with consent of his mother Sarah Wattson and Woolsey Burton, guardians, was apprenticed to William Warrington, ship-joiner, to learn trade (Sussex County, Delaware, Orphans Court, G, page 65).

1801 April 23: Petition to value land of Azariah Brookfield, minor son of Eli Brookfield, the land being in Indian River Hundred. Woolsey Burton, his guardian. Court appointed a commission (Ibid., Book H, page 73).

1803 February 10: Petition of William Dickerson, in re. lands of Azariah Brookfield.

1803 July 10: Petition of Azariah Brookfield, aged 15 years, to choose William Dickerson his guardian. Court appoints a commission to value his lands (Sussex County, Delaware, Orphans Court, Book H, page 338).

The maiden name of Ann the wife of said Uriah Brookfield has not been traced. She was evidently deceased by June 20th, 1791, the date of a Deed of division of the lands of Uriah Brookfield, deceased, between his minor grandson Azariah Brookfield and his grandson Uriah Thomas of full age, recorded in Sussex County, Delaware, Deed Book, A-1, pages 111-113.

Children of URIAH and ANN (——) BROOKFIELD (Nos. 10-13) (from the evidence cited above):

10. CONSTANCE BROOKFIELD, married June 10th, 1770, Samuel Jump, per records of the Presbyterian Churches of Lewes, Indian River, and Cool Spring, in Sussex County, Delaware (transcript in Genealogical Society, Pennsylvania). She had a daughter Sarah Jump, as named granddaughter in Will of Uriah Brookfield, 1788, q. v.

11. AZARIAH BROOKFIELD, bought 15 acres called "Sandy Ridge" in Baltimore Hundred, and a tract called "Chance" formerly of Thos. Collins and of Levi Collis, per Sheriff's Deed of 13 September 1787, recorded in Book O, page 489 of Sussex County, Delaware, Deeds. Administration upon the estate of Azariah Brookfield was granted March 6th, 1789 to Uriah Brookfield (per Administration Book, A-60, page 155, in State Archives at Dover, Del.). The name of his wife does not appear, unless she was the Ann Brookfield upon whose estate administration was granted November 11th, 1806 to Edward Dingle (Ibid, page 153). Azariah Brookfield had a daughter Nancy Brookfield named as a granddaughter in Will of Uriah Brookfield, 1788, q. v., and she was living in 1805, being then aged 21 years, when she gave power of attorney, q. v.

12. ELIZABETH BROOKFIELD, married Michael Thomas who was named a co-executor of the Will of her father, Uriah Brookfield, 1788, as above. They were both living in 1794. Their children were: Uriah Thomas, Nancy Thomas, Rebecca Thomas, and Mary Thomas, all named as grandchildren in the will of Uriah Brookfield, 1788.

13. ELI BROOKFIELD, married Sarah —— (who married secondly, July 9th, 1789, John Watson per records of Presbyterian Churches of Lewes, Indian River and Cool Springs, Sussex County, Delaware). Administration upon the estate of Eli Brookfield was granted to John Watson and his wife Sally formerly widow of said Eli Brookfield, in 178– (per Administration Book, A-60, page 151, filed at Dover). His children were: Azariah Brookfield, born 1788, died before March 2nd, 1808, when administration on his estate was granted to Wm. Harris; and Uriah Brookfield, born before 1788, who died before November 22nd, 1808, when administration on his estate was granted to Cornelius Wiltbank (per Administration Book, A-60, pages 156 and 160), both named as grandsons in Will of Uriah Brookfield, Sr., 1788.

9. ELIZABETH BROOKFIELD, born July 31st, 1728, in New London, Conn., daughter of No. 2, William and Katharine (Rogers) Brookfield and came with her parents to Little Egg Harbor Township, Burlington County, N. J. She married in 1746, Matthias Johnston (or Johnson) of Little Egg Harbor Township, and was living at the date of his Will, August 13th, 1773, as follows:

1746 December 8: Memo. of License granted to Matthias Johnston of Egg Harbour, to marry Eliza Brookfield, spinster (Marriage Bonds Book, 1727-1734, page 111½, in office of Secretary of State, Trenton).

William Pettit of Northampton, Burlington County, N. J., yeoman, 8 December 1746, "hath obtained a license of marriage for Matthias Johnston of the one party and for Elizabeth Brookfield, spinster," of the other. Signed by William Pettit (From original in Marriage Bonds Book, A-W, page 230).

(The reason for the most unusual procedure in which one other than the prospective bridegroom filled out the printed form of Bond, as above, is not apparent. See New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXII, for Calendar of these Marriage Bonds.)

Abstract of the WILL OF MATHIAS JOHNSON of Little Egg Harbor, Burlington County, N. J., dated August 13th, 1778; proved November 26th, 1778, names wife Elizabeth, eldest son William, sons Jacob, Jonathan, Mathias, Joseph, and minor sons Uriah and Esiah, and daughters Elizabeth and Hannah; appoints executors sons William and Jonathan (From New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXXIV).

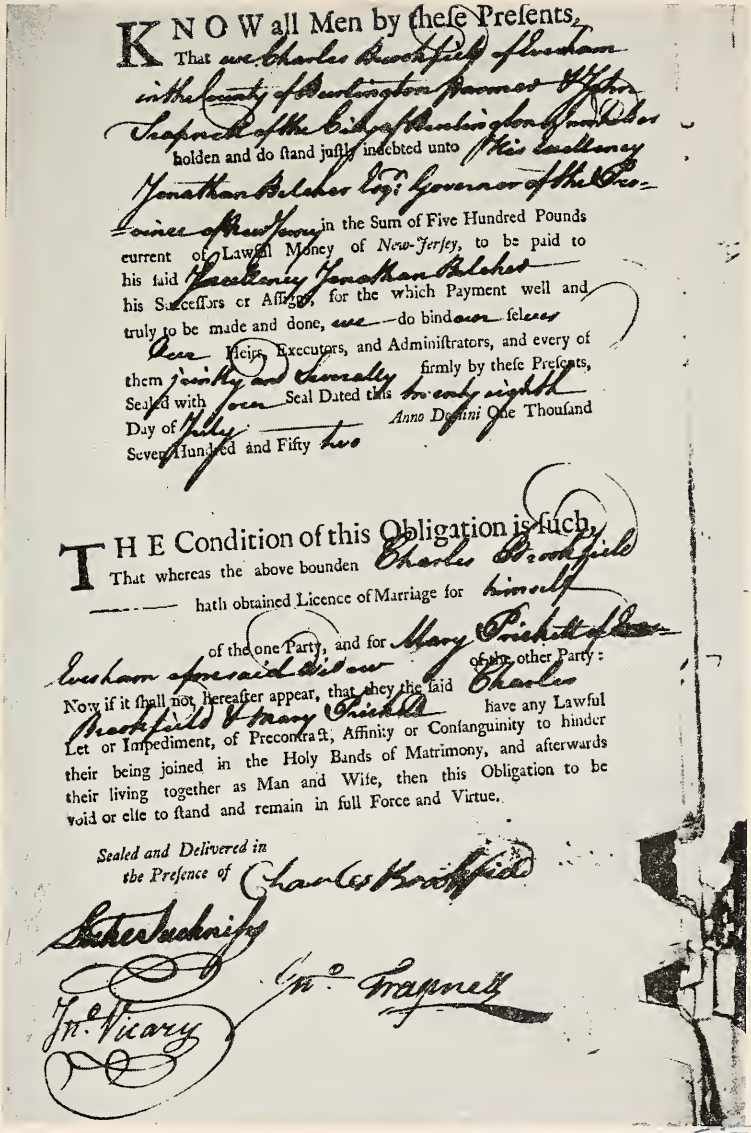
8. CHARLES BROOKFIELD, born July 26th, 1726, in New London, Conn., third of the four known children of No. 2, William and Katharine (Rogers) Brookfield; came to Little Egg Harbor Township, Burlington County, N. J., with his parents between 1731 and 1748. He was described as a farmer living in Evesham Township in that County in 1752 when he married his first cousin, Mary Brookfield Prickett,* daughter of No. 3, Levi Brookfield of that place, and widow of Isaac Prickett who had died there in 1750.

No record of settlement of the estate of CHARLES BROOKFIELD appears in the probates of Burlington County, nor in those of the adjacent Gloucester County, and the date of his death cannot be more definitely stated than as after 1753.

The following evidences from contemporary records are cited for the above account. And as this family was not connected with the Society of Friends, no records of the names and dates of their children has been obtainable from the registers and minutes of the Monthly Meetings of Burlington, Mt. Holly, Evesham or Haddonfield, after careful search therein. Family Bible records of this generation, if such exist and can be discovered, would be of material assistance here. The fact that this Charles Brookfield had a son William Brookfield as follows, is based on the statement of the latter's granddaughter, Hannah P. Brookfield of Philadelphia, made in 1897, and can be accepted as reliable in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

1751 July 2: Charles Brookfield of Burlington County, N. J., and John Inskeep of same place, fellow-bondsmen with Catharine Brookfield, administratrix of the estate of her late husband, William Brookfield late of Little Egg Harbor



KNOW all Men by these Presents, That we Charles Brookfield of Evesham in the County of Burlington Farmer & Mary Prickett Spinster of the City of Burlington & Province aforesaid are holden and do stand justly indebted unto His Excellency Jonathan Belcher Esqr Governor of the Province of New Jersey in the Sum of Five Hundred Pounds current of Lawful Money of New-Jersey, to be paid to his said Excellency Jonathan Belcher his Successors or Assigns, for the which Payment well and truly to be made and done, we do bind our selves our Heirs, Executors, and Administrators, and every of them jointly and severally firmly by these Presents, Sealed with our Seal Dated this twenty eighth Day of July Anno Domini One Thousand Seven Hundred and Fifty two

THE Condition of this Obligation is such, That whereas the above bounden Charles Brookfield ——— hath obtained Licence of Marriage for himself of the one Party, and for Mary Prickett of Evesham aforesaid Widow of the other Party: Now if it shall not hereafter appear, that they the said Charles Brookfield & Mary Prickett have any Lawful Let or Impediment, of Precontract, Affinity or Consanguinity to hinder their being joined in the Holy Bands of Matrimony, and afterwards their living together as Man and Wife, then this Obligation to be void or else to stand and remain in full Force and Virtue.

Township, Burlington County, N. J. (New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXXII).

1752 July 28: Bond given by "CHARLES BROOKFIELD of Evesham in the County of Burlington, Farmer, and John Trapnell of the City of Burlington, Innholder," for said Charles Brookfield to marry "Mary Prickett of Evesham, widow" (From original Bond in Book A-W, page 48, in the office of Secretary of State. (From original Bond in Book 1727-34, in office of Secretary of State at Trenton, page 51½. See also, New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXII.)

*"Letters of Administration of the Estate of Isaac Prickett, dated January 9th, 1750, were granted by His Excellency Jonathan Belcher, Esq., Governor of the Province of New Jersey, to Mary Prickett." (Burlington County Will Book, 7, page 102; also in published New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXXII.)

1753 March 13: "The account of Charles Brookfield and Mary his wife late Mary Prickett administratrix of all and singular the goods, chattels, rights, and credits of Isaac Prickett late of the township of Evesham and County of Burlington, deceased, as well of and for such and so much of the goods chattels and credits of the said deceased," . . . dated March 13th, 1753. Signed by Charles Brookfield and Mary Brookfield (from original account now filed in office of Secretary of State).

Child of No. 8, CHARLES and MARY (BROOKFIELD) (Prickett) BROOKFIELD:

10. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, born in 1753, or soon after, in Evesham Township, Burlington County (see below).

10. WILLIAM[4] BROOKFIELD, born in 1753 or soon after, only known child of No. 8, Charles and Mary (Brookfield-Prickett) Brookfield; died in or near the village of Billingsport on the Delaware River in Greenwich Township, County Gloucester, N. J. The account written in 1897 by his granddaughter Hannah Brookfield of Philadelphia (bound herewith), states that "William Brookfield & his son Jacob I believe died in 1797 of Yellow fever, buried in the field."

No evidence of the settlement of the estate of William Brookfield appears, however, in the probate records of Gloucester County, nor of any transactions as grantor or grantee in the land records of the same.

The Census of the Gloucester County Militia, 1794, includes the name of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of Greenwich Township (Copy of Census in Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia).

The marriage of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD and NELLY KING on October 18th, 1781, by the Reverend William Worth, pastor of the Baptist Church at Daretown in Pittsgrove Township, Salem County, N. J. (which township is adjacent to the lower line of Gloucester County) appears in the register of that church, published in The Genealogical Magazine of New Jersey, Vol. II, page 105.

The said "Nelly King" is found to have been Eleanor (Erwin) Willis King, widow of William King of Upper Alloways Creek Township, Salem County, who died intestate in 1777, and to have been daughter of John and Angelet (Hunter) Erwin of West Jersey (as see pages 243 and 244 of Erwin of Evesham, bound herewith).

In support of Hannah Brookfield's statement of the death of WILLIAM BROOKFIELD in the year 1797 as above cited, the following evidence is pertinent:

> "1798 Nov. 26: (Marriage) John Collis, son of decsd. John and Honor Collis, heret. in Phila., p. forty, widower—ELEANORE BROOKFIELD dr. of John and Angela Irvin,* heret. of W. N. Jersey, p. thirty eight, widow both of Billingsport W. N. Jersey." (From transcript of the register of Gloria Dei (Old Swedes) Church, Philadelphia, in Genealogical Society, Pennsylvania).

After the death of William Brookfield and his son Jacob in 1797 near Billingsport, and the marriage of the widow,

Eleanor Brookfield, to her fourth husband, John Collis in 1798 as stated above, it appears that her six surviving children Brookfield and two daughters, Elizabeth E. and Ellen H. by Collis, then formed the family and lived at Paulsboro. (See next page.)

The village of Paulsboro is only about two miles south of Billingsport. (See details in reference to Collis in the Erwin account bound herewith.) Eleanor (Erwin) Willis-King-Brookfield-Collis died "August 4th, 1826, in her 68th year."

Children of No. 10, WILLIAM and ELEANOR (Erwin-Willis-King) BROOKFIELD (Births from contemporary record written by their mother. See photo herewith):

11. JOHN BROOKFIELD, born January 27th, 1782; died October 2nd, 1803.
12. CHARLES BROOKFIELD, born October 6th, 1784. See below.
13. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, born February 7th, 1787. See page 192.
14. JOSEPH BROOKFIELD, born March 12th, 1789. See page 196.
15. ISAAC BROOKFIELD, born July 9th, 1791. See page 200.
16. JACOB BROOKFIELD, born August 17th, 1794; died in 1797.
17. CATHARINE BROOKFIELD, born April 13th, 1797; died April 13th, 1836. See page 200.

12. CHARLES BROOKFIELD, born October 6th, 1784, second son of No. 10, William and Eleanor (Erwin-Willis-King) Brookfield of Greenwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J. He died there March 21st, 1843, according to Hannah Brookfield's account (bound herewith), having married 1st, Elizabeth Richards by whom he had a son William who died young; and married 2nd, February 26th, 1824 at Billingsport, in said township, Sarah Paul who died without issue in 1873 at Paulsboro in same township. In a mortgage of 1824, he is described as "Captain Charles Brookfield of the city of Philadelphia," but his name does not occur in the directories of that city, and it is assumed that his residence there was but temporary. The gravestones of Charles Brookfield and his two wives have not been found in the Methodist Episcopal Churchyard at Paulsboro. The parentage of his second wife, Sarah Paul, has not been traced in this search.

1824 February 26: "To the Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas of the County of Gloucester in the State of New Jersey. I, John P. Vanneman, one of the Justices of the Peace in and for the sd. County, do hereby certify that on the Twenty sixth day of February 1824 at Billingsport in sd. County, married Charles Brookfield of Greenwich in the County of Gloucester in the State aforesaid, and Sarah Paul of the said place aforesaid, and them did pronounce man and wife agreeably to the laws of this State. In Testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand the day and year above written. Jno. P. Vanneman Justice of the Peace." (Gloucester County Marriages Book, B, page 157).

1822 September 3: DEED. Samuel P. Paul and wife Ann, of Township of Greenwich, County Gloucester, N. J., convey to Charles Brookfield, "waterman," of same place, for $35, a half acre in said township, beginning at a stone in the middle of Paulsborough Road at corner of James Hinchman's lot, etc. (Deed Book JJ, page 534).

1824 September 3: MORTGAGE. John Collis, cordwainer, of Township of Greenwich, County Gloucester, N. J., to Captain Charles Brookfield of the City of Philadelphia, to secure the payment of $50 in one year, mortgages a lot of land and premises on Paulsborough Road, bounded by lot No. 4, John V. Clark's line, lot No. 6, and said Road, containing 1.20 acres. Cancelled April 17th, 1826 (Mortgage Book L, page 212).

1827 February 16: DEED. Charles Brookfield and wife Sarah, of Township of Greenwich, County Gloucester, N. J., convey to Robert C. Warner of same place, for $120, the half acre lot purchased of Samuel P. Paul and wife per deed of 3 September 1822, with the buildings (Deed Book SS, page 500).

1831 June 11: DEED. Charles Brookfield and wife Sarah, of Township of Greenwich, County Gloucester, N. J., convey to James Devault of same place, for $190, 8¾ acres there, bought by said Charles Brookfield of John Nugent per deed of 24 October 1827, with the buildings, etc. (Deed Book C-3, page 488).

1843 January 14: DEED. Mark Ware, Esq., Sheriff of Gloucester County, N. J., conveys to Charles Brookfield of Greenwich Township, said county, 35 acres beginning at a stake in a line formerly Thomas Clark's land, thence by land of Joseph C. Gill, South 63 degrees, West 31 chains to a stake, thence by lands of Isaac Cooper, North 26 degrees 45 minutes West 11 chains 30 links, etc. (Deed Book A-4, page 458).

1843 May 13: DEED. Sarah Brookfield, executrix and Charles Reeves, executor, of the last Will and Testament of Charles Brookfield, deceased, late of Township of Greenwich in County Gloucester, N. J., convey to John G. Munyan of same place the 35 acres which said Charles Brookfield purchased per deed of 14 January 1843 (see item above). Said Charles Brookfield in his Will dated 6 February 1843, duly proved, directed all his real estate to be sold, and the executors did on the 20th of April, 1843 expose the same at public sale, and said John G. Munyan being the highest bidder, this tract was struck off to him for $231 (Deed Book D-4, page 47).

ABSTRACT OF THE WILL OF CHARLES BROOKFIELD (residence not stated): to wife Sarah Brookfield, all my household goods and the interest from sale of my stock and farming utensils. To Benjamin W. Fowler, $100 at the death of my wife. To my brother William Brookfield's children, the balance of my estate. Appoints executors, wife Sarah Brookfield and Charles Reeves. Dated 6 February 1843; proved 3 May 1843. Witnesses: Benjamin Devault, James M. Lodge, Jos. C. Hill (Will Book D, page 405).

ABSTRACT OF WILL OF SARAH BROOKFIELD of Paulsboro in the County of Gloucester, N. J. Executors to purchase head and foot stones for my grave for $40. To niece Susan P. Fish, my silver sugar bowl, large looking glass, lounge, also my house and lot in Paulsboro, adjoining the M. E. Church, during her lifetime and afterwards to her daughter Abigail L. Fish in fee. To nephew Nathan Henry my silver watch and chest. To niece Elizabeth P. Eldredge two dessert spoons marked C. S. B., and my bed. To niece Sarah Davenport, wife of Isaac Davenport, six silver teaspoons marked CEB. To niece Emily Fish, one table spoon and five small spoons. To Margaret Hurd, wife of John Hurd, of Elizabeth City, N. J., teaspoons marked CEB. To niece Sarah Henry dau. of Lemuel Henry, six silver teaspoons marked MM.

To each of nephews, Elemuel Henry, Nathan Henry, and Charles Henry, and niece Elizabeth P. Eldredge, one fifth of residue of personal estate. To the children and heirs at law of my deceased niece Hannah Sparks to wit Thomas, Lewis, Neal D., Anna, and Harriet Sparks, each one fifth of residue. Appoints friend S. Paul Loudenslager as executor. Dated 20 February 1873; proved 22 September 1873 (Will Book F, page 629).

13. WILLIAM[5] BROOKFIELD, born February 7th, 1787, third son of No. 10, William and Eleanor (Erwin-Willis-King) Brookfield (see page 187) of Greenwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J.; died April 19th, 1866 in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was buried in the Methodist Episcopal Churchyard at Haddonfield in Camden County, N. J., the gravestone being inscribed with these two dates.

In 1809, William Brookfield had migrated from Greenwich Township, Gloucester County to Maurice River Township in Cumberland County, and bought a lot in the village of Port Elizabeth there from Philip Stanger of Glassboro Township, Gloucester County. The latter was one of the seven Stanger brothers who in 1775 erected the pioneer glass-works at Glassboro, they having previously been working at Wistar's glass-works on Alloways Creek in Salem County. It is possible that William Brookfield had been connected with the Stanger concern at Glassboro and that he went to Port Elizabeth by reason of the glass-works which had been established there about 1801 by James Lee with other parties from Philadelphia for the manufacture of window glass (Cushing and Sheppard's History of Gloucester, Salem and Cumberland Counties, pages 222, 229 and 716). However, William Brookfield is described in his marriage record as "shoemaker."

While residing in Port Elizabeth in Maurice River Township, Cumberland County, N. J., WILLIAM BROOKFIELD was married on December 23rd, 1809, to Naomi Smith of Tuckahoe in Gloucester County (now in Atlantic), N. J., at the latter place, with the Rev. Nathan Swain of the Methodist Episcopal Church officiating. Naomi Smith, daughter of Jeremiah and Naomi (Badcock) Smith* of Tuckahoe, was born May 22nd, 1789; died in Brooklyn, N. Y., June 6th, 1867, and was buried with her husband in the Methodist Episcopal Churchyard at Haddonfield, Camden County, N. J., from the gravestone in which these dates are copied.

William Brookfield appears in ten deeds dated from 1809 to 1814, as grantor or as grantee, in the recorded land transactions of Cumberland County. In the latter year he appears as a resident of Woolwich Township, Gloucester County, as grantee in a deed conveying a lot in the village of Swedesboro, on the Sculltown Road which leads southward from that village through Sculltown (now Auburn) to Salem. In 1813 he was living at Cape May Court House, where his son James Madison was born.

1809 November 20: DEED. Philip Stanger of the Township of (blank) in County Gloucester, N. J., to WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of the Township of Maurice River, County Cumberland, N. J., conveys for $40 a lot in village of Port Elizabeth, in said Township of Maurice River, Beginning at corner of William Shough's lot in Glassborough on the road from Port Elizabeth to Budds Works, etc., etc., containing 63 square perches (Cumberland County Deed Book 16, page 174).

1809 December 23: MARRIAGE. "I, Nathan Swain, minister of the Gospel in the Methodist Church in America, Do hereby Certify that on the 23rd Day of December A. D. 1809 at Tuckahoe in said County, I married WILLIAM BRUCKFEALDE of Morris River (sic) Shumaker, and Naomi Smith of Tuckahoe aforesaid and them did pronounce man and wife agreeably to the laws of this State." (Gloucester County Marriage Book A, page 165).

1810 May 10: DEED. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of the Township of Maurice River, County Cumberland, N. J., and NAOMI, his wife, convey to James Lee, Esq., of same place, for $50 a lot in village of Port Elizabeth, in township aforesaid, beginning at corner of Wm. Shough's lot in Glassborough, on the road leading from Port Elizabeth to Budds

* (See Smith Family hereinafter.)

Works, thence binding on said lot south 42 degrees East 14 perches, thence North 49 degrees East 4½ perches, thence North 42 degrees West 14 perches, to the aforesaid road, thence binding thereon South 49 degrees West 4½ perches to place of beginning, containing 63 square perches (see Deed below) (Cumberland County Deed Book 16, page 170).

1811 August 2: DEED. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of Township of Maurice River, County Cumberland, N. J., and NAOMY, his wife, convey to George Gale of same place, for $55, a lot in village of Dorchester in said township, bounded North by High Street, said Brookfield's other lot, and Levi Steppeng's lot, containing 36 square perches, with the buildings, etc. (Cumberland County Deed Book 18, page 617).

1811 August 2: DEED. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of Township of Maurice River, County Cumberland, N. J., and NAOMY, his wife, convey to Capt. Edward Lafferty of same place, for $100, a lot in village of Port Elizabeth in said township, beginning at a stone in the offsett of the street leading from Port Elizabeth to Tuckeyhoe, opposite to the Smith's shop occupied by Thomas Ellet and William Ketchum, thence bounding on said street, to Jonathan Dolias', etc., etc., containing 102 square perches, with the building, etc. (Cumberland County Deed Book 19, page 373).

1812 March 9: DEED. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of Township of Maurice River, County Cumberland, N. J., and NAOMY, his wife, convey to Thomas Elliot of same place, for $225, a lot in village of Dorchester, in said township, bounded by George Gale's lot, a back street, the street from Port Elizabeth to Leesburgh and High Street, containing 36 square perches, with the buildings, etc. (Cumberland County Deeds, 20, page 523).

1814 August 16: DEED. Richard Tittermary of Township of Woolwich, County Gloucester, N. J., village of Swedesborough, conveys to WILLIAM BROOKFIELD of the township, county and state aforesaid, for $300, a lot of land in Swedesborough, in Woolwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J., set off in two smaller lots marked Nos. 4 and 5 on a map and beginning at a stake for a corner in John Logan's lot No. 3, in the middle of Sculltown Road, etc., etc., containing one acre (Gloucester County Deed Book, U, page 553).

The great grandson of this No. 13, William and Naomi (Smith) Brookfield, Henry M. Brookfield of New York City, records that the former removed to New Brunswick in Middlesex County, N. J., where William Brookfield became an inn-keeper, later taking to farming near Perth Amboy in the same County. In 1827, this couple returned to Tuckahoe, N. J., and were living there in Dennis Township, Cape May County, in 1830. The Census of that year names him as of that township and with a family of a wife, four sons and two daughters. The latter part of the lives of this couple was passed in Haddonfield, Camden County, N. J., where William Brookfield's brother Charles resided.

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD died, as before stated, at Brooklyn, April 19th, 1866, having been born February 7th, 1787. His wife Naomi (Smith) Brookfield, died June 6th, 1867, having been born May 22nd, 1789. These dates are from the gravestones in the Methodist cemetery at Haddonfield, abovesaid.

Children of No. 13, WILLIAM and NAOMI (Smith) BROOKFIELD:

18. ISAAC BROOKFIELD, born August 19th, 1810; d. 1848 (without male issue).
19. William E. Brookfield, born April 12th, 1812; died young.
20. JAMES MADISON BROOKFIELD, born October 2nd, 1813 in Cape May Court House, N. J. See page 201.
21. CHARLES J. BROOKFIELD, born ; died unmarried.
22. DANIEL WILLIS BROOKFIELD, born September 4th, 1821; died September 25th, 1888 at Long Lake, Adirondack Mts. (drowned). Resided in Elizabeth, N. J. Married Hannah Duffel and had an only child:
    22a. Almira Brookfield, married Will Rollo.
23. ELEANOR BROOKFIELD, born May 2nd, 1824; died July 31st, 1825.
24. HARRIET BROOKFIELD, born August 1st, 1828; died June 6th, 1855; unmarried.
25. SARAH BROOKFIELD, born November 17th, 1816; died September 13th, 1852; unmarried.

26. CHARLOTTE BROOKFIELD, born July 28th, 1832; died unmarried.

The above is from family records.

14. JOSEPH BROOKFIELD, M.D., born March 12th, 1789, fourth child of No. 10, William and Eleanor (Erwin-Willis-King) Brookfield (see page 187) of Greenwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J., appears in 1814 as a resident of Swedesboro in Woolwich Township in same County, conveying real estate to his cousins, Benjamin R. Erwin and Eliza S. Erwin of that village. The latter were children of his maternal uncle, Dr. Joseph Hunter Erwin (q.v.) of Swedesboro and it is presumable that Joseph Brookfield, his namesake, was living there with him at that date and was influenced by him to follow in the profession of physician. Accordingly, we find that Joseph Brookfield graduated from Jefferson Medical College in Philadelphia, 1836.

On January 8th, 1818, Joseph Brookfield married, as his 1st wife, Sarah Price, born in Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, Penn. (which is about four miles northwest of the center of Philadelphia.) She was a daughter of Rees and Hannah (Roberts) Price (from Hannah Brookfield's account, bound herewith). The gravestone of "Sarah, wife of J. Brookfield, M.D.," without dates, is in the burial ground at the Lower Merion Meeting House, at corner of Montgomery Pike and Meeting House Road. After her death, Dr. Joseph Brookfield married secondly, as follows:

> Dr. Joseph Brookfield of Phila., son of William and Elinor Irvin (sic) Brookfield, of Gloucester County, N. J., married 19th of June 1849, by Rev. Edwin N. Lightner, at the residence of her sister Mrs. Mary H. Amies of Bridgeport, Pa., Elizabeth Wayne Holstein, born Jan. 4, 1806, baptized by Rev. Slator Clay, daughter of Col. George W. and Elizabeth Wayne (Hayman) Holstein. She died in Phila. March 29, 1887 in her 81st. year and was interred in Friends Cemetery, Lower Merion Township by the side of her husband, Dr. Joseph Brookfield who died Dec. 17, 1872 aged 84 years. (Quoted from Swedish Holsteins in America, published 1892, page 111.)

In confirmation of the above, the marriage on "June 19th, 1849—Dr. Joseph Brookfield of Philadelphia and Elizabeth W. Holstein of Bridgeport," as well as the burial on "March 31st, 1887, of Elizabeth Wayne Brookfield, in Friends Cemetery, Wayne," appear in the register of Christ Church (Episcopal) in Upper Merion Township, Montgomery County, Penn. (See below.)

In the burial ground at Lower Merion Meeting House, above mentioned, are found the adjacent gravestones inscribed—Joseph Brookfield, M.D., Born March 12th, 1789. Died December 17th, 1872. Elizabeth W. Holstein relict of Dr. Joseph Brookfield Born January 4th, 1806. Died March 28th, 1887. (The Meeting House adjoins the General Wayne tavern, hence this section was known by the latter name or as Wayne.)

1814 July 27: DEED. JOSEPH BROOKFIELD of Woolwich, County Gloucester, N. J., conveys to Benjamin R. Erwin of same place, for $225, a tract there, beginning at a stake in middle of Sculltown Road, a corner to Richard Tittermary's land, thence by said land North 53 degrees, 30 minutes, West 5.43 to a stake for a corner of an intended back street adjoining Tittermary's land, thence with the same South 46 degrees, 30 minutes, West to a stake for a corner for a road adjoining Abigail Harker's land, 1.60, thence with the same South 58 degrees, 45 minutes East 5.50 to a stake in middle of Scull Town Road, thence with said road North 53 degrees East, 1.40 to place of beginning. Containing ¾ acres, the same which Richard Tittermary conveyed to said Joseph Brookfield per deed of date even herewith. Together with all and singular the buildings, etc. (Gloucester County Deed Book U, page 93).

1814 August 8: DEED. JOSEPH BROOKFIELD of Swedesborough in Woolwich Township, County Gloucester, N. J., conveys to Eliza S. Erwin of same place, for $400, the House and lot in Swedesborough aforesaid, adjoining lands of John Pearson and Ebenezer Turner, beginning at a corner of said Pearson's land, in middle of the main road, thence with his land South 58 degrees East, 7.40 to a corner, etc., etc., containing one acre, and is the same house and lot which said Joseph Brookfield bought of said Turner by Deed of even date herewith (Gloucester County Deed Book U, page 94).

1837 The name of "JOS. BROOKFIELD, M.D., s. w. cor. Walnut above 13th," appears in the City Directory of Philadelphia for the first time, and that of 1839 as "Joseph Brookfield, M.D., 1360 Chestnut"; in 1840, etc., as " Joseph Brookfield, M.D., c. Juniper & Filbert."

ABSTRACT OF THE WILL OF JOSEPH BROOKFIELD, M.D., of the City of Philadelphia. All household furniture and debts due, unto wife Elizabeth W. Brookfield and my daughter Hannah P. Brookfield, their heirs and assigns, share and share alike, also the income of the estate, and they to be executors. Dated 11 February 1868; proved January 2nd, 1872, both executors qualifying and giving their address as 1316 Filbert Street (Philadelphia Will Book 77, page 68).

Children of No. 14, Dr. Joseph Brookfield and 1st wife, Sarah (Price) Brookfield (Names from the account written by daughter, Hannah P. Brookfield):

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, died young.*

MARY PRICE BROOKFIELD, died August 10th, 1835 in 16th year, per obituary in Philadelphia paper.

JOSEPH HUNTER BROOKFIELD, died young.

CHARLES ELLIS BROOKFIELD, died young.

HANNAH PRICE BROOKFIELD, born January 11th, 1826; died February 8th, 1899 (per gravestone).

JOSEPH BROOKFIELD, died young.

The said Hannah Brookfield, only surviving child of No. 14, Dr. Joseph Brookfield (and with her death this line

*In the burial ground at Lower Merion Meeting House, Montgomery County, Penn., are the gravestones of: "William. J. Hunter Erwin. Charles Ellis Joseph. sons of Dr. Joseph and Sarah Brookfield." Two rows further back is that of: "Sarah wife of J. Brookfield, M.D." (no dates). Near the far end is the marker of: "Mary Price daughter of Dr. Joseph and Sarah Brookfield" (no dates). About three rows further are the three adjacent stones of: "Elizabeth W. Holstein relict of Dr. Joseph Brookfield, born Jany. 4, 1806. died March 28, 1887. Joseph Brookfield, M.D., Born March 12, 1789. Died December 17, 1872. Hannah Price daughter of Dr. Joseph Brookfield Born 1st. mo. 11. 1826. Died 2nd. mo. 8. 1899." (Inscriptions copied June 9th, 1937.)

became extinct) compiled in 1897 the account of the Erwin family which is bound herewith (and without which it would be impossible to assemble the genealogy of that family group) for her uncle William Brookfield's great grandson, Henry Morgan Brookfield and also transferred to him the records written by Eleanor (Erwin) Brookfield Collis of the births of the children of William Brookfield, which are bound herewith.

The Will of Hannah Brookfield of the City of Philadelphia, single woman, directs:

> —gravestone to be erected at my grave to be at side of my father, similar to those at grave of Elizabeth Wayne Brookfield. Devises $500 to the Trustees of Friends Meeting House in Lower Merion, Montgomery County, Pa., the interest to care for graves and gravestones of Dr. Joseph Brookfield, his wives Sarah and Elizabeth Wayne, and his children Mary Price, William, J. Hunter, Charles E., Joseph and myself.

Dated 6 October 1897; proved 25 February 1899 (Philadelphia Will Book, 206, page 264).

17. ISAAC BROOKFIELD, born July 9th, 1791, fifth child of No. 10, William and Eleanor (Erwin-Willis-King) Brookfield of Greenwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J.

Hannah Brookfield's account (bound herewith) states that this "Isaac Brookfield married Catharine .. .. .. & had one daughter Margaret who married John Hurt and had Kate, Mary, Charles, Caroline & Emma." without naming place of residence.

The City Directory of Philadelphia for 1824 includes: "Isaac Brookfield, cordwainer, Trotter's Alley." Those of 1824-1835 name "C. Brookfield, shop, 22 Strawberry St." and that of 1837 names "C. Brookfield, wid., boarding house 22 Strawberry.", after which her name is not carried in later editions.

In Poulson's Daily American Advertiser, Philadelphia, in the issue of August 31st, 1836, is the notice: "Died on the 27th. inst. in the 45th year of her age, Mrs. Catharine Brookfield." This may refer to the wife of Isaac Brookfield as named above.

No record of the estate of ISAAC BROOKFIELD is found, however, in the probate files of Philadelphia, nor in the land records, and any further identification of him has not been found in this search.

Child of ISAAC and CATHARINE (——) BROOKFIELD:

MARGARET BROOKFIELD, married John Hurd, and was residing in Elizabeth, N. J., according to the will of Sarah (Paul) Brookfield of Paulsboro, N. J., dated 20 February 1873 (see page 191), her uncle Charles Brookfield's widow. Not traced further.

19. CATHARINE E. BROOKFIELD, born April 13th, 1797, daughter of No. 10, William and Eleanor (Erwin-Willis-King) Brookfield of Greenwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J. (See page 187.)

Hannah Brookfield's account (bound herewith) states that this "Catharine Brookfield married Edward Walter

(and had issue) Rees Price Walter born October 13th, 1827; married Elizabeth Beechey & died March 12th, 1882 (and) had Kate born January 14th, 1855 (who) died October 22nd, 1860, and Edward born October 19th, 1861 (who) died May 1st, 1871. Joseph Brookfield Walter born March 28th, 1836, had children: Edgar Almerin born December 1870, died August 5th, 1875; Myrtle Hannah born October 10th, 1874. Ray Brookfield born January 22nd, 1885." No places of residence being named, search for this family has been hampered. Possibly they were of Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, Penn., as was Dr. Joseph Brookfield's two wives and in that event the following item may apply here:

ADMINISTRATION upon the estate of EDWARD P. WALTER of Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County, Pa., was granted March 10th, 1831, to Joseph Brookfield (Abstracts of Wills & Administrations of Montgomery County, Pa., to 1850, in Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania).

Children of EDWARD P. and CATHARINE (BROOKFIELD) WALTER:

REES PRICE WALTER, born October 13th, 1827; died March 12th, 1882; married Elizabeth Beechey and had issue as named in the account above.

JOSEPH BROOKFIELD WALTER, born March 28th, 1836; died ——; married Ellen ——; and had issue as named above. He is named in the Will of his cousin, Hannah P. Brookfield of Philadelphia, dated 1897 (see page 199) as of Howard Smith's, Dakota.

20. JAMES MADISON BROOKFIELD, born October 2nd, 1813 in the village of Cape May Court House, Cape May County, N. J., son of No. 13, William and Naomi (Smith) Brookfield (page 195); died January 17th, 1892 at Jacksonville, Fla. (while passing the winter there) and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery, Brooklyn, N. Y. (Obituary notice in New York Tribune.)

MARRIAGE: "Married on 9th. of May 1838, Mr. James Brookfield to Miss Catharine C. Brandriff. John Kennedy, Minister of the Gospel" (quoted from Marriage Book B, page 6, Cumberland County, N. J.).

The said Catharine C. Brandriff, born at Millville, Cumberland County, N. J., December 22nd, 1819, eldest child of John and Mary (Ayres) Brandriff (see Brandriff Family, hereinafter, page 234), died at her home in Brooklyn, N. Y., 115 Taylor St., February 28th, 1880, and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery there.

James M. Brookfield, entered the business of glass-making at Millville first, later at Greenbank, N. J., at Honesdale, Penn., and finally in Brooklyn, N. Y. At Honesdale he started in business for himself in 1853, being the first to use anthracite coal in manufacturing glass, and obtained a patent for burning hard coal. In 1860, his home and his factory both were destroyed one night by the bursting of the river dam, and he received no reimbursement from the water company for the damage. Thence, he went to Brooklyn, N. Y., and started the Bushwick Glass Works, in Greenpoint, in which he was successful. About 1880, he retired from business, passing the winters in Florida with his daughters, after the death of his wife.

The 1880 Census, Brooklyn, N. Y. (Vol. XXXV, 19th Ward), shows James M. Brookfield, 115 Taylor St., Glass Manufacturer, aged 65, born in New Jersey, as also were his parents, and daughter Mary, aged 35, born in New Jersey, daughter Jennie aged 20, born in Pennsylvania.

Children of JAMES MADISON and CATHARINE C. (Brandriff) BROOKFIELD:

36. SARAH JANE BROOKFIELD, born June 9th, 1839, at Millville, N. J.; married 1st, —— Raymond of Honesdale, Pa., and had J. Edward and William Brookfield Raymond. She married 2nd, —— Williams and had son Harry Williams.

37. MARY BROOKFIELD, born May 30th, 1841, at Millville, N. J.; died unmarried.

38. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, born May 24th, 1844, at Greenbank, N. J. (See page 203).

39. AMANDA BROOKFIELD, born February 14th, 1846, at Greenbank, N. J.; died unmarried.

40. CAROLINE BROOKFIELD, born April 15th, 1850, at Columbia, N. J.; married Royal Gage and had son James Brookfield Gage.

41. HARRIET BROOKFIELD, born ——; married Stephen Burgess* of Brooklyn, N. Y.

42. JENNIE ELIZABETH BROOKFIELD, born ——; died ——; married Charles Pope in London, Eng.; no issue. He married 2nd, ——.

*Married in Brooklyn, N. Y., and had a daughter Catherine Brookfield Burgess who resides 1937 in Great Barrington, Mass.

38. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, born May 24th, 1844 at Greenbank, N. J., son of No. 20, James Madison Brookfield (page 201); educated at Cayuga Lake Academy in Aurora, N. Y. He was associated with his father in establishing the glass works in Brooklyn with success.

MARRIAGE: William Brookfield married Kate Morgan, at Aurora, Cayuga County, N. Y., on June 23rd, 1870, the Rev. Dr. Howard officiating.

After marriage, William and Kate (Morgan) Brookfield resided for a year at the corner of 5th and So. 8th St. (No. 285 So. 5th) in Brooklyn, N. Y., and then moved to 516 Madison Ave., New York City, to a house presented by the latter's father, Henry Morgan, where they resided for the rest of their lives.

William Brookfield died May 13th, 1903, and was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery, New York. His wife, Kate Morgan Brookfield, born January 5th, 1847 at Aurora, Cayuga County, N. Y., daughter of Henry and Mary (Platt) Morgan of that place, resided there until her marriage. She died April 4th, 1918.

Mr. Brookfield, known for many years as an organization Republican, exerted his influence for clean politics. In 1885 he became leader of the 29th Assembly District, was Vice President of the Union League Club, President of the Republican Club, Chairman of the Republican State Committee 1892-1894 (and of the County Committee during the same term), a Presidential Elector in 1892. He supported Senator Thomas C. Platt until 1893, in which year at the Convention at Syracuse, he and Mr. Platt united in support of Edward T. Bartlett for the Court of Appeals, which campaign for good government was successful over the rival candidate in the election by 100,000 votes. Mr. Brookfield assisted in organizing the Committee of thirty for the reorganization of the party in New York County, and he first broke with Senator Platt whom he had long supported, on account of the latter's recognition of the machine leaders who opposed this Committee. In 1894, he was a member of the Committee of Seventy which nominated a fusion ticket for the overthrow of Tammany Hall, and when Mr. Strong was elected Mayor of the City of New York, he appointed Mr. Brookfield as Commissioner of Public Works. He was a member of the Downtown Club and of the Chamber of Commerce, a Trustee of St. John's Guild and a Director in several Insurance Companies as well as of the Market and Fulton Bank.

From an editorial in the New York Tribune:

> A useful life ended with the death of William Brookfield. A life employed largely for the public advantage, though for the most part not in the conspicuous ways which lead to wide reputation. He did not care for public office. The Commissionership of Public Works under Mayor Strong was the only governmental place which he ever held. He consented to serve the City for a short time in that capacity only because he felt circumstances required him to make the sacrifice. But while the usual rewards of party service did not attract him, he had a taste as well as a talent, for political work, and was always ready to give his time and strength to the support of his professions. Mr. Brookfield's personal character was beyond reproach; he was a faithful friend and a good citizen.

The will of William Brookfield was filed May 21st, 1903, devising all his property to his wife Kate M. Brookfield, and appointing his sons Henry M. Brookfield and Frank Brookfield executors.

Children of WILLIAM and KATE (Morgan) BROOKFIELD (Nos. 43-47):

43. HENRY MORGAN BROOKFIELD, born October 17th, 1871 in Brooklyn, N. Y.

44. JAMES HANFORD BROOKFIELD, born April 25th, 1874, at 516 Madison Ave., New York City; died July 16th, 1928 at Jamaica, B. W. I.; without issue; married twice.

45. FRANK BROOKFIELD, born November 18th, 1875, at 516 Madison Ave., New York City; married April 28th, 1909, Marcelline Dunning, and had issue:
45a. Kate Morgan Brookfield, born January 28th, 1910.
45b. Frank Morgan Brookfield, born May 16th, 1913.

46. EDWIN MORGAN BROOKFIELD, born September 22nd, 1877, at 516 Madison Ave., New York City; died unmarried, October 25th, 1910, at Kingston.

47. HERBERT KALBFLEISH BROOKFIELD, born July 4th, 1880, at 516 Madison Ave., New York City; died September 25th, 1895 from an accident at Little Moose Lake, Old Forge, N. Y.; unmarried.

43. HENRY MORGAN BROOKFIELD, born October 17th, 1871 at No. 285 So. 5th St., Brooklyn, N. Y., eldest of the five sons of No. 38, William and Kate (Morgan) Brookfield; was baptized September 15th, 1872 at Presbyterian Church, Aurora, Cayuga County, N. Y., by the Rev. T. Strong. In the same year, his parents removed to No. 516 Madison Ave., New York City, and he lived there until the time of his marriage. He attended J. H. Morse's School in that City for six years, entered Columbia College in 1889 for two years after which he left that institution and entered the Junior Class of Harvard University and graduated with degree of A.B. in the Class of 1893. Was associated in business with his father and grandfather in manufacture of glass insulators for telegraph and telephone companies' wire, and became President of the Company after the death of his father, with his brother Frank Brookfield as Vice President. The concern was dissolved in 1920.

MARRIAGE: Henry Morgan Brookfield and Louise Lord were married on February 15th, 1906, at Grace Church, Orange, N. J., the Rev. Alexander Mann officiating.

Louise (Lord) Brookfield was born October 8th, 1880 at No. 205 Center St. (later called No. 281 So. Center St.), in Orange, N. J., daughter of Samuel and Mary ("Minnie") Adele (Orton) Lord, Jr. She attended Miss Masters School in Dobbs Ferry, N. Y. After marriage they resided for two years at No. 27 Washington Square, North; then removed to No. 132 E. 78th. St.; and in 1922 to No. 580 Park Ave., where they now reside, all in New York City.

Children of HENRY MORGAN and LOUISE (Lord) BROOKFIELD (Nos. 48-50):

48. WILLIAM LORD BROOKFIELD, born February 8th, 1908, at 27 Washington Square North, New York City; baptized May 9th, 1908 in the Church of the Ascension, by the Rev. Percy S. Grant; attended the Allen and Stevenson School in New York City; graduated from St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., 1925; and from Harvard University with degree of A.B. in Class of 1929; married June 14th, 1929, in Boston, Mass., Louise Colburn Parker (born December 25th, 1909, daughter of Walter and Ann (Beals) Parker of Brookline, Mass.), the Rev. S. S. Drury officiating in Emmanuel Church. He has been employed for six years by the N. Y. Zinc Co. Residence: 179 Grace Church St., Rye, N. Y. Children:

    48a. William Lord Brookfield, Jr., born October 5th, 1932, at Doctor's Hospital, New York City; baptized January 5th, 1933, at St. James' Church, New York City.

    48b. Christopher Morgan Brookfield, born June 12th, 1926, at United Hospital, Portchester, N. Y.; baptized May 9th, 1937, at Grace Church, Rye, N. Y.

49. HENRY MORGAN BROOKFIELD, JR., born April 11th, 1911, at 132 E. 78th St., New York City; baptized April 20th, 1912, at St. James' Church, New York City; attended the Allen and Stevenson School for five years and the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., for same period; graduated from Yale University with degree of A.B. in Class of 1933.

50. SAMUEL LORD BROOKFIELD, born September 6th, 1915, at 132 E. 78th St., New York City; baptized May 12th, 1916, in St. James' Church, New York City; attended the Allen and Stevenson School for several years, graduated from St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., 1933; and from Yale University with degree of A.B. in Class of 1937. He married June 11th, 1937, Alyce Pressprich, at Christ Church, Rye, N. Y., born June 27th, 1915, daughter of Reginald William and Madeleine Smith Pressprich.

THE BRANDRETH-BRANDRIFF FAMILY OF WEST JERSEY

TIMOTHY BRANDRETH, the progenitor of this family in West Jersey, appears first, and by inference, in the parish of Christ Church, in the Island of Barbadoes, where he married as the first of his three successive wives, Katherine Rodman, before 1686, who was baptized there May 3rd, 1665, daughter of John and Ann Rodman, of that place. She apparently accompanied her husband to West Jersey and was deceased by 1706. The census of the inhabitants of the Parish of Christ Church, Barbadoes, taken December 22nd, 1679, does not include the name of Brandreth (Hotten, page 85); and it therefore appears that if he was a resident of the Island at that time, he was not a householder, and that if he arrived after that date, his stay was but transitory after his marriage, about 1683. The name of Timothy Brandreth first appears on record in West Jersey in a survey dated 1681 as follows, and the evidence of his presence in the Colony on March 20th, 1683/84, also. (See RODMAN FAMILY, page 210.)

1681 8mo. (October)—Return of survey for John and William Borton of 325 acres adjacent to Timothy Brandreth and Noell New (Revel's Book of Surveys, West Jersey, in State House).

1689/90 1st.mo. (March)—Return of Survey for William and Thomas Evans for 160 acres adjoining their former survey and Timothy Brandreth (ibid).

That this land was in Burlington County, appears from the fact that the will of John Borton describes him, named above, as "of Hilsdown, on the south side of Northampton River," dated 1687. Surveys for Timothy Brandreth or deeds conveying lands to him as above mentioned are not of record, unfortunately.

1683/4 March 20—Marriage of Peter Jennings and Anne Nott. Witnesses include: "Timothy Brandreth." Recorded by the Court of Burlington (See original court record book published in Stillwell's Historical and Genealogical Miscellany, 2). See also New Jersey Archives, 1st Series, Vol. XXII, page lxxxvi, for same marriages, in brief.

1685 6mo. 8th—Cattle-marks registered. "Timothy Brandreth—the right eare a crop & a slitt & the left an underhalfe penny next ye head." (Burlington Court Record, abovesaid).

No mention of Timothy Brandreth is found in the minutes and records of Burlington Monthly Meeting which are contemporary with the above period, but he appears as a member of the Society of Friends in Cohansey in 1705.

1693: Sheriff and County Clerk, Cape May County, West Jersey—Timothy Brandreth (Stevens' History of Cape May County, 463).

1695-1701: Clerk and Recorder, Cape May County—Timothy Brandreth (Leaming and Spicer Grants and Concessions).

1701 May 10: Return of survey of 200 acres at Cape May County for Thimo. Brandreth (New Jersey Archives, 1st Series, Vol. XXI, page 389).

1701 May 12: Return of survey of 300 acres at Cape May County, Thimo. Brandreth (ibid).

1701 September 24: Deed from The West Jersey Society to Timothy Brandreth, yeoman, of Cape May County, for 300 acres there (ibid, page 536).

1708 May 24: Deed from Jacob Spicer of County Gloucester, West Jersey, yeoman, to Timothy Brandreth of Greenwich in the County of Salem, in the Province aforesaid, cordwainer, for 200 acres of land and marsh to be taken up and surveyed in any part of the Western division of New Jersey for 14 pounds. Witnesses: Nicholas Johnson, John Jay. Endorsed: "May the 24th 1708 Cohansey. then Received of Timothy Brandreth the within mentioned sum of fourteen pounds for the premises mentioned, Jacob Spicer." (Liber BBB of Deeds, West Jersey, page 97).

1710 July 20: Deed from Timothy Brandreth of Cape May in the province of New Jersey, Western Division, cordwainer, to Samuel Holmes of Cohansey in the County of Salem and province aforesaid, yeoman, conveying the abovesaid 200 acres of land to be surveyed and taken up in any part of the western division of New Jersey. Witnesses: Obadiah Holmes, Richard Robins; justices (signed) Timothy Brandreth (ibid, page 99).

Having removed from Cape May County into the adjoining County of Salem, Timothy Brandreth, evidently a widower, became an important member of Cohansey Meeting in or before 1705 as follows, he being a resident of Greenwich Township in the latter County, as per deed second above, and apparently belonged to Greenwich Meeting which had been established in 1694 on the Cohansey River in the lower part of Salem County (since 1748, Cumberland County).

1705. 4.25—"At this meeting appeared from Cohansey, Timothy Brandreth and Joseph Eastland" (Minutes of Salem Monthly Meeting).

1705. 6.27—"At this meeting, Timothy Brandreth appeared from Cohansey Meeting" (ibid).

1706. 2.29—"Came Timothy Brandrith and acquainted frindes that he did intend to goe to long Eyland to visit his Relations* and frindes; therefor frindes hath appointed William Thompson and Richard Barkin to inquire into his affairs and bring thair Repoart to the next month's meeting" (See footnote explanation, ibid).

1706. 4.24—"Where as Will Thompson and Richard Darkin were appointed to inquier into the affairs of timothy brandrith in order to have a Sertifocat: the persons hath been with him and he Returns this answer that he hath no need of one, and those frindes with others having heard something of his going out from truth to take a wife, did disscourse him consarning that matter and brings this Repoart that he said he Resolved soe to doe and thearfore they do think he is in danger to fall if not fallen away from truth" (ibid).

FOOTNOTES: RODMAN FAMILY of the Island of Barbadoes, Newport, R. I., Block Island, and Flushing, L. I., N. Y. John Rodman, buried 15 October 1686 in the parish of Christ Church, Island of Barbadoes, appears in the Census of the parish taken December 22nd, 1679, as holding 7 acres of land and 3 negroes (Hotten, page 485). John and Ann Rodman had these children: 1. John Rodman baptized 21 March 1655/56; 2. William Rodman baptized 28 February 1659/60; 3. Ann Rodman baptized 8 December 1661; 4. Katherine Rodman baptized 3 May 1665 (who married Timothy Brandreth as stated on page 208); and 5. Thomas Rodman born "26

Dec. 1640." The will of John Rodman of the parish of Christ Church, Island of Barbadoes, dated 16 September 1686; proved 4 December 1686; names his 2nd wife Elizabeth as sole heiress and executrix, also sons Thomas Rodman and John Rodman, daughter Anne Twayt, daughter Katherine Brandreth to whom my plantation that is rented out, containing 4½ acres in the Irish quarter, so-called, of the parish of Christ Church. Of these children, the son Thomas Rodman came from Barbadoes in 1675 with Wm. Edmundson to Newport, R. I., the latter being a Quaker returning from a religious visit and the second son, John Rodman, came to Newport in 1682, removed to Block Island about 1688, and to Flushing, L. I. about 1691; became a freeman of New York 1698, returned to Flushing in 1702 and died there July 10th, 1731 aged 78 "an eminent doctor and a worthy minister of the gospel in this town 40 years" (see C. H. Jones' Genealogy of the Rodman Family, 1886 and New England Historical and Genealogical Register, 67, page 367).

*It would appear from the above and from the minutes of Salem Monthly Meeting quoted in the text, that Timothy Brandreth, being a widower in 1706, visited his late wife's brother, Dr. John Rodman in Flushing, L. I., and left a daughter Mary with him.

1706. 5.29—"This meeting having had sum consarne upon thair minds conserning timothy brandreth leaving frindes and the truth to take a wife, thearfore they have appointed bartholomew wiatt and Richard Darkin to go and disscourse the said timothy upon this account" (ibid).

1706. 8.28—"bartholomew wiat and Richard Darkin having been with timothy brandrith according to a former order, and disscorst him and found him in a very poor condition, ... they think it may be servisable for sum frindes to visit him in love and tendernes ons more" (ibid).

1708. 5.26—"Came timothy brandrith and brought a paper of Recantation and Red it in the meeting, which frindes kindly excepted of and ordered it to be Recorded. .. .. .. (extract) 'I took a wife out of the unity of friends all thow perswaded by hir not to differ with my brethren: but (she) said she would goe to meetings and be marryed according to friends order," .. .. .. (etc. at length) (ibid).

In reference to the above mentioned (third) marriage of Timothy Brandreth, it is evident that his obliging non-

Quaker wife, for whose sake he preferred to suffer the discipline of Friends Meeting, was Sarah Shaw, the widow of Edmund Shaw of Fairfield and Cohansey, Salem County, as deduced from the following data. This marriage took place, out of Meeting, between March 18th, 1706 and June 24th, 1706.

(1) 1705/06 March 18th—Administration upon the estate of Edmund Shaw was granted to his widow Sarah Shaw (New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII).

(2) 1714 July 3rd—The will of Timothy Brandreth names, inter al., wife Sarah, and "sons in law" (i.e. stepsons) Benjamin and Obadiah Shaw (ibid).

The name of the second wife of Timothy Brandreth has not been discovered after diligent research, but it is obvious that she was the mother of those of his children born after Mary, the eldest (born about 1690 and before 1706), if not of all except Mary.

Between 1708 and 1710, Timothy Brandreth removed from Greenwich in the lower part of Salem County, to the vicinity of Great Egg Harbor, in Cape May County in which he had lived formerly, as is evident from the two deeds of these dates cited before. His name does not appear, however, on the minutes and records of Great Egg Harbor—Cape May Monthly Meeting. Accordingly, no record of his death in 1714-1715, nor of the births of any of his children, has been found.

1714 July 3rd: WILL of Timothy Brandreth of Cape May County, names wife Sarah; children Timothy (a minor), Mary Hughstis, Sarah Midlton, Daniel, Margrate, Penelopey, and Elizabeth Brandreth; sons in law (i.e. stepsons) Benjamin Shaw, Obadiah Shaw. Devises 400 acres bought of John Lad on Middle Creek of Great Egg Harbor, a house and land between John Ludlow and Richard Townsend. Names as executors John Page, Joseph Ludlow, and Daniel Wells. Proved May 10, 1715. Renunciation of executorship by John Page and Joseph Ludlow. Bond of Sarah Brandreth as administratrix (New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII; Abstracts of Wills).

THE CHILDREN OF TIMOTHY BRANDRETH:

1. MARY[2] BRANDRETH, born about 1688 in West Jersey, only (surviving) child of Timothy Brandreth by his 1st wife, Katherine Rodman, is named as "daughter Mary Hughstis" in the Will of her father, July 3rd, 1714. "Johnathan Hewstis of Westchester (N. Y.) carpenter and Mary Brandreth, daughter of Timothy Brandreth of West Jersey" were married on 9th of 2nd month, April, 1709, at Flushing, L. I., per records of the Society of Friends in New York City and vicinity (published in New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, Vol. VI) and they removed to Burlington County, N. J. (see footnote). After her mother's death, this child had evidently been taken from her home in Salem County or in Cape May County, N. J., to live with her maternal uncle, Dr. John Rodman (q. v., page 210, footnote) in Flushing, L. I. "Jonathan Heusstis, Mary Heustis" among witnesses signing marriage certificate of Abraham Haines, Evesham Meeting, March 14th, 1719.
2. SARAH[2] BRANDRETH, born about 1693 in Cape May County, N. J., daughter of Timothy Brandreth by his 2nd wife, name unknown. She is named in the will of her father, July 3rd, 1714, as daughter "Sarah Midlton." She married William Middleton of Evesham, Burlington County, N. J., whose will dated February 12th, 1728/29; proved March 25th, 1729; names wife Sarah, and children: Timothy, William, Hannah, Elizabeth and Sarah and appoints the wife as executrix to be succeeded by Thomas Middleton and Thomas Ballinger. Witnesses: Jonathan Huestis (q. v. above), William Rogers, Joseph Heritage (New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXIII).
3. DANIEL[2] BRANDRETH, born about 1695-1700 in Cape May County, N. J.; died between 5.14. and 6.21, 1760 in Lower Penns Neck, Salem County, N. J., of whom hereafter.
4. MARGARET[2] BRANDRETH, daughter of Timothy Brandreth by his 2nd wife whose name unknown, is named in her father's will, July 3rd, 1714, evidently of age, and unmarried. One of this name signed as a witness to the will of Samuel Somers, Jr. of Great Egg Harbor, Gloucester County, dated November 19th, 1754, may have been of next generation. No further record.

5. PENELOPE[2] BRANDRETH, daughter of Timothy Brandreth by his 2nd wife whose name unknown, is named in the will of her father, July 3rd, 1714, evidently as of age and unmarried. No further record found.
6. ELIZABETH[2] BRANDRETH, daughter of Timothy Brandreth and his 2nd wife whose name unknown, is named in the will of her father, July 3rd, 1714, as evidently of age and unmarried. No further record found.
7. TIMOTHY[2] BRANDRETH, JR., born after 1793, he being named as a minor in the will of his father, July 3rd, 1714, son of Timothy Brandreth, Sr., by his 2nd wife whose name unknown, or by his 3rd wife, Sarah (see continued hereafter).

RODMAN—BRANDRETH—HUESTIS

Deed dated 5 mo. July 15th, 1710: Thomas Rodman of Rhode Island in New England, Chirurgion, conveys to "Mary Brandreth now wife of Jonathan Hustis late of West Chester," providence of New York, yeoman, "for divers good causes and valuable considerations him thereunto moving, especially in consideration of the exchange of a certain Tract by estimation four acres in the parish of Christ Church so called, in the Island of Barbadoes, which said tract formerly belonged unto John Rodman of said parish and island, deceased (who) did by his last Will and Testament devise unto his daughter Catharine, wife of Timothy Brandreth, mother of the abovesaid Mary Brandreth, now wife of Jonathan Hustis and only child and Heirs of said Catharine, which consideration I do acknowledge myself thereby fully contented and paid," conveys a tract in Evesham Township in Burlington County, N. J., 500 acres, which Thomas Marten, attorney for James Marten, conveyed to said Thomas Rodman per deed of 24 September 1686 (West Jersey Deed Book, EF, page 7 in Office of Secretary of State).

SECOND GENERATION

3. DANIEL[2] BRANDRETH, born between 1695-1700 in Cape May County, N. J., elder son of Timothy Brandreth, Sr., by his 2nd wife whose name unknown, is named in his father's will, July 3rd, 1714 (page 212).

1739 6 mo. (August) 20th: Inventory of personal estate of Roger Bragg of Salem County, Schoolmaster, appraised by Benjamin Acton, Daniel Brandreth, and Ranier Van Niel.

1743 May 5th: Will of Thomas Miles of Penns Neck, Salem County, appoints Daniel Brandriff as conditional executor.

1744 March 13th: Account of Administration of estate of Joseph Goodwin of Salem County, deceased, includes "cash paid to Daniel Brandrith."

1748 August 14th: Administration on estate of Wm. Gregg late of County Salem, deceased, granted to Samuel Gregg, his brother. Daniel Brandreth, a surety.

1728 December 3rd: Deed, Sarah Wells of County Burlington, N. J., tayloress, conveys to Daniel Brandreth of the upper precinct of Cape May, weaver, for £37. 10 sh., one half part of plantation which her father purchased of Abraham and Benjamin Hand per Indenture of 15 March 1708, 180 acres with the houses, barns, stables, buildings, orchards, etc., bounded by a creek and the Sound (location not stated) (West Jersey Deeds, Book E, page 312). Recorded March 8th, 1737, in State House, Trenton.

1760 5 mo. May 14th: WILL OF DANIEL[2] BRANDRETH of Lower Penns Neck, County Salem, N. J.
—to wife Catherine Brandrith all my plantation, lands and tenements during her lifetime, and afterwards, "I give the same unto my daughter Sarah Townsend" for life, and after her death "if her son Jacob Townsend will give and make over, by a lawful deed in writing, unto his two brothers Judah and Daniel, all the lands and tenements that fell to him as heir by the death of his father" .. .. .. "and also all the moveable estate that fell to him by the death of his father, to give to his three sisters, Catherine, Millicent, and Sarrah" .. .. .. "then I give unto the said Jacob Townsend, for his so doing, after the death of his grandmother and his own mother, all my plantation lands and tenements wheresoever, aforementioned, to him and his heirs forever."

—to my daughter May Edwards, 300 pounds.
—to my daughter Elizabeth all the things I bought for her at Philadelphia on account of her Marriage, and all the things her mother provided for her at home, and all the goods and things I bespoke for her at Lewis Owens in Salem, also I give her 17 pounds in cash, one mare, saddle and bridle.
—to my daughter Sarah Townsend, all my plantation, after my wife's death.
—to my daughter Elizabeth Brandreth and my two grandsons John Ireland and Titus Ireland (not identified. L.D.C.), all remainder of moveable estate equally, after death of wife.
—Executrixes: wife Catherine Brandreth and daughters Sarah Townsend and Elizabeth Brandreth. Proved 21 June 1760 at Salem. All three executrixes qualifying and "being of the people called Quakers" (from original Will; the abstract of this will, published in New Jersey Archives, is most inaccurate. L.D.C.).

Inventory of personal estate of "Daniel Brandreth of Penns Neck, deceased," taken 18 June 1760, totalled 1,146 £, 5 sh. ½ d., including "his deceased son's cloathes," appraised by Andrew Sinnickson and Jos. Wright.

That Daniel Brandreth married before March 24th, 1725/26 is shown by the will of Rebeckah Gabadis; but whether his wife was the same as the wife Catherine who is first mentioned by name in 1774 (in the Women's Minutes of Salem Monthly Meeting) has not been determined. The wife Catherine survived him and died before 7 May 1784 as per evidence following. She may have been a widow Ireland and a second wife of Daniel Brandreth; her maiden name has not been determined.

1784 May 7th: Bond of Ephrain Lloyd, Esq. and Joseph Tindal, both of Lower Penns Neck in County of Salem, N. J., for said Ephraim Lloyd as Administrator upon the personal estate of Catherine Brandreth deceased intestate.

1784 May 7th: Renunciation of "Mary Edwards, daughter of Catherine Brandreth late of Lower Penns Neck in the County of Salem, in the State of New Jersey, deceased who died intestate, do renounce all Tight and Title I might by law claim to the administration of the estate of the said deceased" (signed) Mary Edwards. Witnesses: Titus Ireland, Moses Hill (originals in office of Secretary of State, Trenton, N. J.).

The marriage and death of Daniel Brandreth and of his wife or wives, as well as the births of his children are not found in the records of either Great Egg Harbor—Cape May or Salem Monthly Meeting, unfortunately, although it is evident that he was a prominent member of each in succession.

CHILDREN OF DANIEL BRANDRETH:

8. SARAH[3] BRANDRETH, born about 1715-1718 in Cape May County; married, having passed Meeting, 1st. mo. 3. 1734/35, Richard Townsend, Jr., also of Cape May County, as his second wife. He was born 6. 27. 1710; removed to Penns Neck in Salem County 1753; and died before June 20th, 1759 there, intestate, when Inventory of his estate was taken. Bond of widow Sarah Townsend as administratrix of estate of Richard Townsend, with Daniel Brandreth and Andrew Sinnickson as sureties, dated June 26th, 1759. Sarah Brandreth Townsend died before May 24th, 1773 when "admin. on personal est. of Richard Townsend remaining unadministered in the hands of Sarah Townsend, decd.," was granted to Judah Townsend of Mannington Township, Salem County (Richard Townsend's 1st wife, Sarah Ludlam, died 6. 28. 1732, per records of Great Egg Harbor—Cape May Monthly Meeting). Issue:—Timothy b. 9. 12. 1735, died 11. 26. 1741; Levi born 8. 7. 1738, died 11. 12. 1741; Jacob born 11. 13. 1741/2, died ——; Judah born 8. 20. 1743, married by license of October 23rd, 1771 Elizabeth Pedrick; Cathrine born 8. 20. 1746, married 10. 30. 1771 Thomas Hartley of Salem; Daniel born 2. 24. 1753 N. S., Salem, died 8. 3. 1788; Millicent born ——; died ——; Sarah born 1 mo. 6. 1756, married 3 mo. 2. 1774 in Salem Meeting, William Nicholson of Mannington Township.

9. MARY[3] BRANDRETH, born about 1724-1727 in Cape May County; married Joseph Edwards, out of meeting. The Women's Minutes of Salem Monthly Meeting of 8. 28. 1745 state: "received a paper of Mary Edwards conserning her outgoing in marriage, (which was) accepted." She was living in 1784, as see above. No further record.

10. ELIZABETH[3] BRANDRETH, born about 1740-1742 in Cape May County, daughter of said Daniel[2] Brandreth by his (2nd ?) wife Catherine; married 2. of 7 mo. 1760, "in a Public meeting of the said People called Quakers at Salem," David Townsend of Cape May, per certificate recorded by Salem Monthly Meeting, the first of the 45 relatives and friends signing it as witnesses being: John Townsend, Catharine Brandrath, Daniel Townsend, Sarah Townsend, Mary Edwards, Jacob Townsend, Hannah Townsend, John Edwards, Joseph Edwards, Titus Ireland, et al. The bridegroom, David Townsend, was born 5. 16. 1735; died March 6th, 1802 in Cape May County, son of John Townsend and his first wife Sarah. "Elizabeth (Brandreth) Townsend, wife of David Townsend, died 3 mo. 5. 1761," per records of Great Egg Harbor—Cape May Monthly Meeting. David Townsend married 2nd, Hannah Osburn per New Jersey license dated March 26th, 1767. The minutes of said Monthly Meeting of 11 mo. 2. 1767 contain the report that "David Townsend has married contrary to the good order of friends," and those of 12. 7. 1767 mention a "testification against David Townsend."

11. DEBORAH BRANDRETH, supposed a daughter of Daniel[2] Brandreth, although not mentioned in his will, 1760, nor appearing in the lists of witnesses to marriage certificate of his daughter Elizabeth above, but may have been deceased. The only mention of Deborah Brandreth, found in the minutes and records of Salem Monthly Meeting, is the intentions of marriage filed at the meetings of 7. 30. and 8. 28. 1751 by Richard Smith and Deborah Brandreth, and the report to the meeting of 9. 25. 1751 that their marriage had been accomplished properly. No further trace. She may have been widow of the following.

12. (Name not found), supposed son of Daniel[2] Brandreth, if the item, "To his deceased son's cloathing," in the Inventory of the estate of said Daniel Brandreth taken 18 June 1760, does not refer to his son-in-law Richard Townsend who died 1759 as per page 219. It is possible otherwise, that this hypothetical son married Deborah —— who married 1751 Richard Smith as above, but no evidence is found in conclusion.

7. TIMOTHY[2] BRANDRETH, JR., son of Timothy Brandreth and his 2nd wife whose name unknown, or by his 3rd wife Sarah Shaw (see footnote of page 214), was born after 1693, inasmuch as he is named as a minor in his father's Will, July 3rd, 1714. In this branch of the family, the surname gradually became transmuted into Brandriff, the present form.

I have also failed to find but little record or data of the second Timothy Brandriff after the death of his father, but with some evidence that he married and settled at Egg Harbor. After locating there, this second Timothy, my great grandfather, improved a small farm near May's Landing and settled thereon. This May's Landing was in the vicinity of Egg Harbor and at that time but a landing on the Great Egg Harbor River for shipping lumber, cordwood, and charcoal by water to New York. It is now quite a populous village, and the county seat of Atlantic County. I presume this farm may have been a part of the 400 acre tract named in his father's will, and the farm has ever gone by the name of "The Brandriff Farm" to this day. This second Timothy had a family in which was a son Timothy who became my grandfather and was the third Timothy in direct line of my ancestral descent (from A History of the Brandriff Family, by Charles P. Brandriff, of Missouri Valley, Ia., typewritten mss., 22 pages, dated 1912. The several misquotations and erroneous assumptions therein have required research and corrections as per this present account. L.D.C.).

1733 January 4th: Timothy Brandreth a witness to will of William Edwards of Cape May County, yeoman (ex New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXX).

Timothy[2] Brandreth married Mary ——, and he was deceased by January 21st, 1756, the date of the marriage license bond issued to "James Hughs of Burlington County" and "Mary Brandreth, widdow" (original bond in office of Secretary of State, Trenton). Richard Canion, also of Burlington County, signs as security thereto. James Hughs was evidently a widower with children at this time, he having married per license of March 7th, 1737, Rachel Lord and had son James Hughs and daughter Elizabeth Hughs of whom further.

No probate on the estate of Timothy[2] Brandreth appears on record, and accordingly further evidence in regard to him and his family is wanting.

CHILDREN OF TIMOTHY[2] BRANDRETH (among others?):

13. TIMOTHY[3] BRANDRETH (Brandref, Brandriff), born about 1740, of whom further.

14. HANNAH BRANDRETH (Brandref, Brandriff), born about 1745-1750. License bond was issued 16 October 1768 for "James Hughs and Timothy Brandref, both of Great Egg Harbor, County of Gloucester, in the province of West Jersey, Gentlemen," for the marriage of said "James Hughs and Hannah Brandref," in which bond the security, Timothy Brandref, was brother of said Hannah Brandref. This James Hughs of Great Egg Harbor, was, by deduction, son of James Hughs abovesaid, by his first marriage, to Rachel Lord, which James Hughs (Sr.) after his marriage to Mary widow of Timothy[2] Brandreth removed from Burlington County to Great Egg Harbor in Gloucester County (now Atlantic County) on the Brandreth estate. James Hughs (Jr.) and Hannah Brandreth were therefore stepbrother and stepsister to each other when they married.

Hannah (Brandref) Hughs was deceased by 15 April 1788, the date of will of James Hughs of County Gloucester, Township of Great Egg Harbor, and he had married meanwhile, Ruth Ireland as his 2nd wife, who was born 4. 24. 1747, daughter of Reuben and Deborah (Gandy) Ireland, Quakers, and she died before 4 May 1791.

Will of James Hughs of the Township of Great Egg Harbor, County of Gloucester, N. J., dated 15 April 1788; proved 18 February 1789; devises to "three daughters" (not named) a cow and a calf each; to wife the rest of moveable estate and she to bring up my children (not named); to sons James and Robert all my lands equally divided between them. Witnesses: Timothy Brandreff, Rubin Ireland, Elizabeth Brandreff. Ruth Hughs, the administratrix C. T. A., "being one of the people called Quakers," duly "affirmed" at the probate. Bond of Ruth Hughs, Ruben Ireland, and Richard Westcott, all of County Gloucester, for Ruth Hughs as administratrix of estate of James Hughs.

Bond of Ruben Ireland and John Canneman, both of Gloucester County, 4 May 1791, on estate of Ruth Hughs unto whom Letters of Administration C. T. A. were duly granted 18 February 1789 (see above) on estate of James Hughs late of County Gloucester, deceased, who after administering part of said deceased's estate, died leaving part unadministered. Inventory of the estate of Ruth Hughs, taken 16 May 1791, by Timothy Brandref and James Belanger (original documents filed in office of Secretary of State).

13. TIMOTHY[3] BRANDRETH, born about 1740 in Great Egg Harbor Township, Gloucester County, N. J.; died there about 1810; son of Timothy[2] Brandreth. By a bond dated 11th December 1766 (not 1776 as published in New Jersey Archives), "Timothy Brandref and Levi Corson of Cape May County, Gentlemen" were held unto the Governor William Franklin in the sum of 500 Pounds conditioned by the marriage licensed for said Timothy Brandref and "Elezebeth Hughes, Spincester" (see photostat of original license bond, herein).

Elizabeth (Hughes-Hughs) Brandreth, above, wife of Timothy, was evidently his half sister, the daughter of James Hughs (Sr.) (by his 1st wife, Rachel Lord), who had married 2nd, Mary the widow of Timothy[2] Brandreth, as stated on page previous. It is possible that she died before 22 March 1772, on which date one "Hannah Brandeth" witnessed the will of Noah Garrison (Garretson) of Cape May County, which Hannah, in that case, may have been a second wife of said Timothy[3] Brandreth, or is not otherwise accountable. (See Hughs-Lord Pedigree hereinafter.)

The third Timothy Brandriff, my grandfather, grew up on the Brandriff farm, assisting in the avocation of his father. The principal business of his father was lumbering in the heavy timber then so plentiful nearby, converting the large timber into sawed lumber and the smaller into cordwood and charcoal. This they hauled with horse teams to the banks of the Great Egg Harbor River nearby and shipped it by water to New York. Thus for generations, this lumbering business was continued and carried on by the Brandriff family at this place.

Farming with them was but a side issue to help supply the needs of the family. The soil by nature was sandy, thin, and unproductive. Only by a liberal use of fertilizer could a crop of grain or vegetables be grown, but with sufficient application of some fertilizer, the soil yielded fairly well, for it was a warm porous soil and the frequent rain fall so near the ocean contributed to make a crop of grain or vegetables grow. The crops then consisted chiefly of corn, rye, buckwheat, potatoes, and garden vegetables. This, coupled with the natural privileges of the Sound so nearby, contributing so abundantly, fish, oysters, and clams, obtainable with so little effort, and the forest so full of wild animal life taken by trap and gun, and the great quantities of huckleberries and cranberries in the swamps, contributed to their use and needs and helped to meet the wants of a large family. To these natural advantages might be added a boundless range for cattle, horses, sheep, and hogs, in the timber land and the marshes, yielding abundant salt grass for hay and pasture.

Notwithstanding these environments so profuse and plentiful on the one hand (they) were limited on the other. The implements used in the forest and on the farm were crude in the extreme, most of them fashioned on the anvil at the forge. All the hardware used in their buildings, even the nails, were made by the smith. It was a slow process to convert the corn, rye, and buckwheat into meal and flour. Money was scarce and difficult to obtain, for it was almost out of circulation. The wearing apparel for men, women, and children, was chiefly woolen, home-grown, sheared, washed, carded, spun, and woven into cloth in their homes and used for garments, bedding, and house furnishings. The spinning wheel and loom at that time and for generations later, were common in their homes as the cook stove and rocking chair is now in ours. Hence, a few sheep in each family were indispensable and the linsey woolsey cloth the most common fabric worn.

Thus Timothy, the third, my grandfather, grew up to manhood acquainted and familiar with these conditions and environments so plentifully distributed on the one hand, and so scantily bestowed on the other. Sometime between the years 1760 and 1765,* Timothy the third married Elizabeth Hughes of Cape May. To them were born ten children, six sons and four daughters: Isaac, Daniel, Jesse, Cromwell, Timothy, James, Rachel, Sarah, Lavinia, and Sophia. All of these ten children lived to marry and rear families, some of them large. There may have been other children born in this large family, who died in infancy or in their minority. *(Error for 1766. See page 223.)

The third Timothy, my grandfather, was a man generally liked by those who knew him best. He was social in his nature, temperate and philanthropic in his habits, living, his home, and liking his associates, charitable to the needy about him, fun loving, in spirit, of a limited school education, a member and exhorter in the M. E. Church for many years, a soldier in the Revolutionary War, lived well financially and died poor.

This description of my grandfather Timothy is a facsimile of that given by my father, corroborated by reminiscences related by old people who knew him. He lived on the home farm all his life, and he and his wife Elizabeth Brandriff died about the year 1810 and were buried at Egg Harbor. The ten children named of Timothy and Elizabeth Brandriff were all born on the Brandriff farm near May's Landing. (Ex A History of the Brandriff Family, by Charles P. Brandriff of Missouri Valley, Ia., typewritten ms. 22 pages, 1912.)

CHILDREN OF TIMOTHY[3] BRANDRETH (BRANDRIFF) (named in the above account):

15. ISAAC[4] BRANDRIFF, settled in Salem, N. J.
16. DANIEL[4] BRANDRIFF, born September 13th, 1771; died September 3rd, 1838; of whom further.
17. JESSE[4] BRANDRIFF, born May 12th, 1777; died 1860, aged 83 years; married May 24th, 1801 (Cape May County Clerk's records), Rhoda Corson. (Chas. B. Brandriff's History says he married Rhoda Garrison of Cape May, moved West in 1805, settling in Cummingsville near Cincinnati, Ohio, and that the family "was well educated, refined, and popular in best society" of Cincinnati, and that his eldest son, Richard, was a druggist many years and a local preacher in the M. E. Church.)

18. CROMWELL[4] BRANDRIFF, born ——; died ——; married April 19th, 1803 (per Cumberland County, N. J., Clerk's record), Sarah Cypress. "Cromwell and his family moved West in 1819 and settled on a farm near Harrison, Hamilton County, Ohio. After his death, his family moved to Terre Haute, Indiana" (ibid).

19. TIMOTHY[4] BRANDRIFF, born ——; died 1830; married April 8th, 1808 (per Cumberland County, N. J., Clerk's records), Sarah Stull (and 2nd, December 8th, 1819, Ann Miller?). He (cf. No. 26) "moved west and located in Cincinnati and died in 1830. He had some family, but all died young" (ibid).

20. JAMES[4] BRANDRIFF, born ——; died ——; married ——. "James married and moved on the home farm near May's Landing, and reared a family. He died and was buried at Egg Harbor."

21. RACHEL[4] BRANDRIFF, born ——; died ——; married ——. "Rachel married a man by the name of Thompson, a farmer, and settled near Bethel in Camden County, N. J. There were several children" (ibid).

22. SARAH[4] BRANDRIFF, born March 13th, 1780 in Atlantic County, N. J., daughter of said Timothy[3] and Elizabeth (Hughs) Brandriff; died September 28th, 1839; buried at Cape May Court House, Cape May County, N. J.; married "Thomas Morris and settled at Cape May. Had son Thomas Morris elected to New Jersey Legislature for several sessions" (ibid).

23. LAVINIA[4] BRANDRIFF, born —— in Atlantic County, N. J., daughter of said Timothy[3] and Elizabeth (Hughs) Brandriff; died ——; married —— Hewitt and settled at Cape May. After her husband's death, she resided for several years with her daughter, Mrs. McCambridge in Wallace St., Philadelphia (ibid).

24. SOPHIA[4] BRANDRIFF, born —— in Atlantic County, N. J., daughter of said Timothy and Elizabeth (Hughs) Brandriff; married Henry Nordyke, a sawyer in a sawmill; resided many years at Bridgeton, Cumberland County, N. J., where they were also buried; had three daughters (ibid).

16. DANIEL[4] BRANDRIFF, born September 13th, A.D. 1771 in the present Atlantic County, N. J., then Gloucester County, son of No. 13, Timothy and Elizabeth (Hughs) Brandriff; died September 3rd, A.D. 1838; buried at Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.; married (1st) July 28th, 1793, by F. Steelman, Esq., to Nancy Aklit, born July 25th, A.D. 1770, who died July 20th, 1817 at the Little Mill and was buried at Millville, two miles away, daughter of John and —— Aklit of Great Egg Harbor, Cape May County, N. J. Daniel Brandriff married 2nd, December 5th, A.D. 1817, by the Rev. T. Neal, in Cumberland County, N. J., to Mary Hanthorn, born February 4th, A.D. 1796; died February 18th, 1879, daughter of Isaac and Hannah (——) Hanthorn (from Bible record, Cumberland County Clerk's records of marriages, and family history).

Daniel Brandriff, my father, and son of the third Timothy and Elizabeth Hughes Brandriff, was born on the Brandriff Farm, September 13th, 1771. He continued to live at home with his parents during his minority, assisting in his father's business in the timber. With a business turn of mind, long before he reached his majority he had full control of the buying, shipping, and selling the products of his father's timber transactions, and from that time he was acknowledged the business man of the family.

Father had but little school education, but with his naturally responsive mind, and by associating with his superiors, he soon gained that poise and confidence in himself that largely overcame the lack of a trained scholastic education.

Father married Nancy, daughter of John Aklit of Atlantic County, July 28th, 1793. He was then but 22 years old. He continued in the lumber business with his father for the next eight years, when he removed to the Union, about two miles northwest of Millville, Cumberland County. There was a small group of houses, less than half a dozen, then at this place.

A short time before Father settled at the Union, David C. Wood and Co. dammed the river and raised a pond of water here and then dug a raceway or canal from this dam to Millville in order to get a fall sufficient as a water motor power to operate a small forge and foundry established at Millville. This was then a village of less than half a dozen dwellings on the east bank of the Maurice River at the head of tidewater or navigation, and was then called lower ford or lower crossing. The Union was located on the Maurice River two miles above tidewater. Here father built a small dwelling and constructed a saw mill below the dam and bought timber land in sufficient quantity to keep the mill running, and most of the products of this mill he floated down the river to the lower crossing on rafts, and shipped it by vessel to Philadelphia and New York, but the most to the Philadelphia market.

After putting in the saw mill, Father erected a small building and put in a set of burs or stone to grind flour and feed. This place was ever after called Union Mills. This too was a preaching appointment at the home of Richard Penn, before any appointed place of preaching had been established at the lower ford. The circuit preacher got around to this appointment at the Union Mills about once every three months.

Father continued business at the Union Mills until about the year 1807, when he moved to what was later called the Little Mill. This was at a point on a branch or tributary of Maurice River, two miles south of the Union Mills and about the same distance from the lower ford now called Millville.

At this point, Father put in a dam, raised a pond, and erected a saw mill. This place has gone by the name of the Little Mill ever since. Here Father expended to a larger degree in a better class of improvements than he had hitherto done. After building the mill, he erected a large two-story and a half dwelling on the bank within a few rods of the pond, so that the lawn fence came to the edge of the water. This house was well built and nicely furnished. There was nothing in the village of Millville finer in appearance at that time. To this improvement he added a large barn and a small storehouse. The storehouse was built on the lawn, two or three rods from the front door. He then commenced clearing the land adjoining the house and the pond. He continued clearing more land from year to year until the farm contained from fifty to sixty acres of cleared land. The soil here was of much better quality than at Union Mills, and produced fairly well with the large amount of fertilizer made at the barn and stock pens on this farm. On that part of the farm farthest away from the Mills was built a small tenement house mostly occupied by the sawyer who operated the mill. On the farm were two small apple orchards set with trees for home use. At this time, he had sold his interest in the Mills at Union and soon after bought a sloop, the "Kitty Ann," to carry his wood and lumber to the Philadelphia market. There was yet no bridge to span the river at Millville, the teams fording the stream when the tide was out and a pontoon was placed across the stream for a footway.

The Union Mills was the first appointed preaching place in the lower part of Cumberland County, although services by the circuit preacher were not oftener than one in two or three months. Yet this was a beginning of much importance. There was a class of Methodists formed there at that time which was the nucleus or the beginning of the stronghold of Methodism in Millville which today numbers five churches and over three thousand communicants.

Father kept a small stock of goods in the little store house at the Little Mill. This was done more to accommodate the work hand than for profit. The bulk of the articles kept was barreled pickle pork, barreled corn beef, barreled mackerel, molasses, sugar, coffee, tea, spices, salt crackers, cheese, tub butter, lard, rye, and buckwheat flour, corn meal, stock feed, tobacco and boots. There were few shoes then worn by men. In addition, there were such goods as muslin and linsey woolsey, cloth, pins, needles, thread, nails, axes, etc. There was little goods sold but to his workmen in the timber and mill. There was no special clerk employed; anyone of the family waited on customers, and there was little call for goods except in the evenings after the day's work was over.

Father was considered a good judge of horses and he kept good work teams and one or two driving horses. For many years he kept four stallions in one team which worked tandem in the timber and on the road. This team was much admired by those seeing it. James Young, or more familiarly, known as Jim Young, was one of the teamsters in Father's employ for twelve consecutive years. He was a good horseman, looked after the horses, stock, and worked the four stallion team for years. The object in working these four horses tandem was that it was less difficult to drag logs from among the standing timber to the road with a team hitched single than hitched abreast, and this team always worked tandem on the road and never in any other manner. Father had another teamster by the name of Samuel Thomas, who worked for him six years. These teamsters were used in the home much the same as others of the family. Board, washing, mending, and nursing when sick was the same as to other members of the family.

Father continued buying more timber land from year to year. The Little Mill was more central than the Union Mills to his latter purchases. On some of these purchases were cedar swamps producing logs for lumber and rails. The logs were usually sawed into siding and most of the rails were shipped to Delaware and Maryland.

Nancy Aklit Brandriff, Father's first wife, died at the Little Mill, July 20th, 1817. She was 47 years old, and was buried at Millville. She was a consumptive most of her life, and an invalid five or six years before her death.

To Daniel and Nancy Aklit Brandriff were born eight children, four sons and four daughters: John, Timothy, Sylvia, a nameless daughter, Nancy, Betsey, a nameless son, and Daniel. .. .. ..

My father, Daniel Brandriff, was very tall, over six feet, and quite thin in build, and his first wife, Nancy, was tall and thin, and all their children who attained manhood and womanhood were very tall and spare; in point of stature they were a very tall family. I know but little of the temperament or characteristics of Nancy, my father's first wife, but my impressions from what I do know are that she was a good wife and mother, but we seldom find a strong, vigorous mind in a weak body.

Daniel Brandriff married Mary, daughter of Isaac and Hannah Smith Hanthorn of Deerfield, Cumberland County, New Jersey, December 5th, 1817. This Mary Hanthorn was Daniel Brandriff's second wife. He, my father, as I have formerly stated, was extremely tall in stature, spare in body, angular in limb, very long arms and legs, large hands and feet, a thin narrow face, high forehead, a prominent Roman nose, dark grey eyes, dark hair but not black, a heavy beard never allowed more than one week's growth, a dark complexion, and a swinging walk or stride. I might have drawn a picture of my father in less words by saying that he was the prototype of Abraham Lincoln physically.

Father had but little school education, but he was quick to learn, receptive in mind, and active in pursuit. I think he had much confidence in himself, not egotistical or bigoted. There was no object or enterprise coming into his life too big for him to tackle, and herein lay much of his strength. He was not a reader and not well acquainted in history or geography; his reading consisted largely from the columns of a New York weekly commercial paper, a weekly County paper, and the New York Christian Advocate. In his New York weekly, he was most interested in the market reports, the momentary articles, and the congressional news. The County paper kept him posted as to what was going on in his part of the state, and the Christian Advocate kept him posted in what the Church was doing.

In politics, father was a Whig, and strongly anti-Democrat and quite an Abolitionist. He was a public speaker, somewhat philosophically inclined. He liked to have some reason to hold up a theory rather than take it without proof. He was much interested in the questions of the day.

Father was a good neighbor and watchful over the condition and needs of his neighbors. It was almost a hobby with him to assist men into business, especially young men. If father had confidence in the ability and integrity of a young man, he was usually willing to assist him by indorsing their paper, and I don't remember hearing that he lost any money by doing so. I have had men come to me at that time and they seemed to have greater respect for me for what my father had done for them (from A History of the Brandriff Family, by Charles P. Brandriff of Missouri Valley, Ia., 1912, typewritten mss.).

CHILDREN OF NO. 16 DANIEL[4] BRANDRIFF AND 1ST WIFE, NANCY AKLIT BRANDRIFF (from records in Bible now in possession of Miss Alice Brandriff of Missouri Valley, Ia., 1935, published 1828 at Boston):

25. JOHN[5] BRANDRIFF, born December 27th, A.D. 1794, of whom further.

26. TIMOTHY[5] BRANDRIFF, born October 27th, A.D. 1796. "Timothy, the second son of Daniel and Nancy Brandriff, was born at Egg Harbor —— and was married about 1821. He was employed as sawyer in (his) father's mill for many years. He was a noted pike fisherman, and it was generally conceded that when Tim Brandriff failed to lure a big string of pike to his hook, there was no use for any others to try. Timothy and his family moved to Salem (N. J.) soon after father died. He had sons Richard, George, Aaron, John, and daughters Ellen, Harriet, Sarah, and Martha. Timothy died in Salem, March 15th, 1842" (ex A History of the Brandriff Family, cited). Cumberland County, N. J. Clerk's marriage records: December 8th, 1819—Timothy Brandriff and Ann Miller, apparently refers to this man if not to Timothy[4] Brandriff, No. 19.

27. SYLVIA[5] BRANDRIFF, born October 21st, A.D. 1798. "Sylvia, daughter of Daniel and Nancy Brandriff, was born at Egg Harbor, —— and married (October 4th, 1815, per Cumberland County records) Josiah Shaw, a prominent business man of Millville and a local preacher in the M. E. Church. He was elected Sheriff of Cumberland County for two terms, and was quite prominent in the affairs of the village. To Sylvia were born nine children: Lydia, Phoebe, Cornelius, Daniel, Abigail, Ruth, Josiah, George, and Nancy. Sylvia died August 2nd, 1847, and Josiah died a few years later. They were buried in Millville" (ibid).

28. A nameless child, born October 26th, A.D. 1800; died same day.

29. NANCY[5] BRANDRIFF, born November 29th, A.D. 1803. "Nancy, daughter of Daniel and Nancy Brandriff, was born at Union Mills (Cumberland County, N. J.) and married (March 30th, 1822, per Cumberland County records) Jonathan Hann (Jr.) of Bridgeton, Cumberland County, N. J. He was employed by the Bridgeton Rolling Mill Company, and continued in their employ for more than forty years. To them were born three children: John, Mary, and Sylvia. Nancy died when about seventy years of age, and Jonathan died a few years later, and they were buried in Bridgeton" (ibid).

30. BETSEY[5] BRANDRIFF, born February 28th, A.D. 1806; died April 18th, A.D. 1808; buried in Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.

31. A nameless son, born June 27th, A.D. 1808; died same day.

32. DANIEL[5] BRANDRIFF, born July 26th, A.D. 1809. "Daniel, Jr., son of Daniel and Nancy Brandriff, was born at the Little Mill (near Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.). He married (July 21st, 1832, per Cumberland County records) Hannah Corson, daughter of Andrew and Hannah Hoover Corson of Millville. They had 12 children: Anna, Ellennora, William, Matilda, George, Mary, John, Thomas, Sylvia, Arabell, Edward, and Ephraim.

Daniel was quite an expert horseman, and had charge of a large livery stable for a long time before he died, which was in 1872. Hannah, his wife, was born July 14th, 1814 and died in 1895. They both were buried in Millville" (from A History of the Brandriff Family, Chas. P. Brandriff).

CHILDREN OF NO. 16 DANIEL[4] BRANDRIFF AND 2ND WIFE, HANNAH HANTHORN BRANDRIFF (per records in Bible previously cited):

33. ELIZABETH[5] BRANDRIFF, born September 19th, A.D. 1818, at the Little Mills, near Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.; died November 10th, 1862; buried Millville; married September 7th, 1839, Joseph K. Moore, of Little Mills, Cumberland County, N. J.

34. ISAAC[5] HANTHORN BRANDRIFF, born March 17th, A.D. 1820, at the Little Mills, near Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.; died November 30th, 1858; buried at Millville; married August 11th, 1845, Caroline Stratton, daughter of William and Rachel Stratton of Millville.

35. EPHRAIM BUCK[5] BRANDRIFF, born October 13th, A.D. 1821, at the Little Mills, near Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.; died July 14th, 1889 in Missouri Valley, Ia. and was buried there; married Harriet E. Long, widow.

36. MARY ANN[5] BRANDRIFF, born June 30th, A.D. 1823; died September 16th, 1824.

37. RACHEL T.[5] BRANDRIFF, born April 18th, A.D. 1825; died ——; buried at Millville; married David T. Moore.

38. ROBERT GERRY[5] BRANDRIFF, born June 30th, A.D. 1827; died August 1886; buried in Centre Grove, Cumberland County, N. J.; married January 6th, 1849 (per Cumberland County records), Sarah B. Bennett.

39. HANNAH H.[5] BRANDRIFF, born May 20th, 1829; died October 20th, 1880; buried in Philadelphia; married (February 6th, 1853, per Cumberland County, N. J., records) Joseph F. Clark of Philadelphia.

40. JOHN G.[5] BRANDRIFF, born February 23rd, 1831; died September 18th, 1832.
41. CHARLES P.[5] BRANDRIFF, born October 8th, 1832 at the Little Mills, Cumberland County, N. J.; died December 16th, 1920 at Missouri Valley, Ia.; married February 3rd, 1864 (February 20th, per Cumberland County records) Emma J. Gandy.
42. HENRY K.[5] BRANDRIFF, born May 28th, 1834 at the Little Mills, near Millville, Cumberland County, N. J.; died November 1904; buried at Long Beach, Calif.; married Kate Morris.
43. MARY[5] BRANDRIFF, born May 18th, 1836; died January 21st, 1915 at Atlantic City, N. J.; married William Channell.

25. JOHN[5] BRANDRIFF, born December 27th, A.D. 1794 at Egg Harbor, Gloucester County (Atlantic County since 1844), N. J., eldest child of No. 16, Daniel Brandriff and his 1st wife, Nancy Aklit; died November 25th, A.D. 1828 in Millville Township, Cumberland County, N. J. "John remained at home (at the Little Mills, near Millville, N. J.) and worked for his father. He was married about 1818 to Mary Ayars, daughter of Elisha and Hannah Ayars of Millville, and for many years was connected with his father in the dry goods and grocery business in Millville. To John and Mary Brandriff were born three sons and four daughters: Howard, John, James, CATHERINE, Caroline, Lodema, and Jane" (from A History of the Brandriff Family, Chas. P. Brandriff, previously cited).

> Memorandum of a verbal will made this 24th day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty eight by John Brandriff appointing Josiah Shaw and Benjamin F. Chew Executors to settle his estate in the following manner—1st to sell all my movable estate and so much of the timber standing on the land as will satisfy my just debts and all necessary expenses—done in the presence of Uriah Ackley, Mark Boon, and William Blake. Proved December 9th, 1828 (Copy of the original in State House, Trenton).

> 396. Elisha Ayars, born June 5th, 1760; died December 24th, 1828; married December 17th, 1783, Hannah Jarman, born April 22nd, 1766; died June 26th, 1856; and had (among 12), Mary, born October 24th, 1797; married —— Brandriff (quoted from Robert Ayars of Cohansey, Salem County, N. J., and his Descendants).

Bond of David Reed and Benjamin F. Chew, both of Millville Township, Cumberland County, N. J., for Benjamin F. Chew as executor of will of John Brandriff late of Cumberland County, N. J., deceased (abstract of original bond).

Inventory of the personal estate of John Brandriff, late of the Township of Millville in the County of Cumberland, N. J., deceased, made by Spencer Frary and Nathaniel Foster, 10th December 1828, totals $1,969.51 (abstract of original paper).

CHILDREN OF JOHN[5] AND MARY (AYARS) BRANDRIFF:

CHARLES H.[6] BRANDRIFF, born March 6th, 1817; died young.

HARRIET[6] BRANDRIFF, born December 2nd, 1818; died August 20th, 1819.

JOHN[6] BRANDRIFF, born August 3rd, 1822.

JAMES[6] BRANDRIFF, born April 21st, 1821.

HUGHS FAMILY OF EVESHAM TOWNSHIP, BURLINGTON COUNTY, N. J.

1. WILLIAM HUGHS. Renunciation, dated December 7th, 1732, by Ann Hughs, widow of William Hughs late of Evesham, Burlington County, N. J., husbandman, deceased intestate, of her right of administration thereon, in favor of Daniel Wills, merchant, of Northampton. Bond dated December 9th, 1732 of John Doe and Richard Roe of Burlington for Daniel Willis as administrator on the said estate (New Jersey Archives, Vol. XXX).

2. JAMES HUGHS, supposedly son of above William and Ann Hughs of Evesham Township, Burlington County, N. J., "License of Marriage on the Seventh Day of March 1737, was granted by the hon'ble John Hamilton, Esq., President, unto James Hughs of Evesham in the County of Burlington, sawyer, of ye one party, and Rachel Lord, spinster, Daughter of Robert Lord late of same place, yeoman, dec'd., of the other party." Archd. Home Secretary. (Memorandum of license issued, in Lib. 1727-1734 of marriage bonds, page 30½, now in office of Secretary of State, Trenton.) (See Lord Family below.)

Rachel Lord was born 8th of 10th mo. (December) 1708, near Woodbury.

Probate of the estate of James Hughs has not been found on record in the Counties of Burlington or Gloucester. Apparently, he was the James Hughs of Burlington County who gave bond dated January 21st, 1756 for his marriage to "Mary Brandreth, widow" (from original bond, filed in A-W, page 208, of marriage bonds as above). This would have been his second marriage. The maiden name of the widow Mary Brandreth, in the above, has not been discovered; but she was the widow of Timothy Brandreth (see pages 221 and 222 of BRANDRETH pedigree herewith) of Great Egg Harbor.

CHILDREN OF JAMES AND RACHEL (LORD) HUGHS:

3. ELIZABETH HUGHS, born about 1745; married per bond of 11 December 1766, Timothy Brandriff, 3rd, of Cape May County, N. J. (See further.)
4. JAMES HUGHS, born about 1747; married per license bond of 16 October 1768, in which he and his surety, Timothy Brandref, are described as "both of Great Egg Harbor, County Gloucester, N. J.," to Hannah Brandref. (See in detail further, page 222 of BRANDRETH pedigree herewith.)

3. ELIZABETH HUGHS, born about 1745, daughter of James Hughs of Evesham Township, Burlington County, N. J., and his first wife, Rachel Lord (No. 2 above). After her father's supposed second marriage in 1756, to Mary Brandreth, widow of Timothy Brandreth of Great Egg Harbor Township, Gloucester County, N. J., apparently she removed with him from Evesham to the latter place and married there in 1766 the son of her stepmother, thus: Bond dated 11 December 1766 given by Timothy Brandref and Levi Corson of Cape May County, gentlemen, for the marriage of said Timothy Brandref and Elizabeth Hughes, spinster (see photostat of original bond, herein). CONTINUED on page 223 of BRANDRETH pedigree herewith.

LORD FAMILY OF SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP, BURLINGTON COUNTY, N. J.

(formerly of Gloucester County, N. J., from Bury in Lancashire, England)

1. ROBERT LORD. The minutes of Burlington Monthly Meeting of Friends, under date of December 8th, 1729 state that the certificate of Robert Lord from Haddonfield Monthly Meeting in Gloucester County (N. J.) was received.

The will of Robert Lord of Springfield Township, County Burlington, N. J., dated 3rd month (May) 18th, 1735; proved June 21, 1735; names wife Jane as executrix; children: John, Samuel, Sarah, wife of John Tatam, Isaac, deceased, Abraham, Rachel, Elizabeth, wife of John Borton, Robert, Joshua and Abigail (abstracts of wills, published in New Jersey Archives).

The records of Haddonfield Monthly Meeting contain the following data: "Robert Lord and Elizabeth his wife, belonging to the meeting for worship at Woodbury, their children: John, born 4. 2m. 1698; Samuel, born 3. 1m. 1699; Isaac, born 11. 8. 1702; Sarah, born 28. 12. 1704/05; Abraham, born 24. 12. 1706/07; Rachel, born 8. 10m. 1708; Elizabeth, born 22. 3. 1711; Robert, born 13. 7. 1714; Joshua, born 3. 7m. 1716; Abigail, born 15. 6. 1719. Wife Elizabeth died 26. 3. 1726."

6. ELEANOR ERWIN, daughter of No. 1, John and Angelet (Hunter) Erwin, married 1st, —— Willis; 2nd, William Brookfield; and 3rd, John Collis; died August 4th, 1826 in her 68th year (Hannah Brookfield's account). But see as follows. ELEANOR ERWIN married 1st, Daniel ? Willis.

One of her great granddaughters stated that Daniel Willis Brookfield (q.v.) was named for his grandmother Eleanor Brookfield's first husband, but of this no evidence has been found pro or contra. The Willis family of Upper Alloways Creek Township, Salem County, N. J., included Stephen Willis who died 1759, Stephen Willis who died in or before 1801, and a Stephen Willis living in 1801. This husband must have died in the latter part of 1776 or earlier part of 1777. (See further.)

CHILD OF DANIEL (?) WILLIS AND ELEANOR (ERWIN) WILLIS:

22. STEPHEN[3] WILLIS, born "25 May 1779," in one record, but June 19, 1777 in another.

ELEANOR (ERWIN) WILLIS married 2nd in 1777, William King. The bond given by "Elenor King of Upper Alloways Creek in the County of Salem in the State of New Jersey, widdow, and John Erwin, dated 19 June 1777, for the said Elinor King, administratrix of William King late of Alloways Creek aforesaid deceased intestate," signed by Elinor (her mark) King and John Erwin, is on file in the office of Secretary of State.

Inventory of the goods and chattels of William King deceased, appraised by William Young and Richard Hackett, 20 June 1777, amounted to £28:13: 0, and "Elinor King, administratrix of said William King, being duly sworn, did depose and say that the within writing contains a true and perfect inventory," Sworn at Salem 17 November 1777, before George Trenchard, Surrogate (original inventory, in office of Secretary of State, Trenton).

This (second) marriage of Eleanor Erwin to William King was dissolved after a very few months by the death of the latter, and was omitted in Hannah Brookfield's account, probably because she did not recall it, but it is evidenced by the data above cited and agrees with the following record. No children of record by this marriage.

ELEANOR (ERWIN) WILLIS KING married 3rd, William Brookfield. The marriage of "William Brookfield and Nelly King," October 18th, 1781, by the Rev. William Worth, pastor of the Baptist Church at Daretown in Pittsgrove Township, Salem County, N. J., is in the register of that church, published in The Genealogical Magazine of New Jersey, Vol. II, page 105.

CHILDREN OF WILLIAM AND ELEANOR (ERWIN) WILLIS KING BROOKFIELD (Births from record written by their mother; see herewith):

23. JOHN BROOKFIELD, born January 27th, 1782; died October 2nd, 1803.
24. CHARLES BROOKFIELD, born October 6th, 1784; died March 31st, 1843; married Elizabeth Richards and Sarah Paul (see Brookfield).
25. WILLIAM BROOKFIELD, born February 7th, 1787; died April 19th, 1866; married Naomi Smith (see Brookfield).
26. JOSEPH BROOKFIELD, M.D., born March 12th, 1789; died December 17th, 1872; married Sarah Price and Elizabeth Holstein (see Brookfield).
27. ISAAC BROOKFIELD, born July 9th, 1791; died ——; married Catharine —— (see Brookfield).
28. JACOB BROOKFIELD, born August 17th, 1794; died 1797.
29. CATHARINE E. BROOKFIELD, born April 13th, 1797; died April 13th, 1836; married Edward Walter.

"William Brookfield and his son Jacob, I believe, died in 1797 of yellow fever, and were buried in the field," says Hannah Brookfield's account, failing to give location. No record of his estate is found in probates and recorded deeds of Gloucester County, N. J., but tradition and the following marriage record indicate Greenwich Township, County Gloucester, N. J.

ELEANOR (ERWIN) WILLIS KING BROOKFIELD married 4th, John Collis. In the register of Gloria Dei (Old Swedes) Church, which still stands, on the Delaware River front in Philadelphia, is this record of the marriage on November 26th, 1798, of "John Collis, son of deceased John and Honor Collis, native of Philadelphia, aged 40 years, widower, and Eleanore Brookfield, daughter of John and Angela Irvin,* native of West Jersey, widow. Both of Billingsport, West Jersey." The last named place is a village in Greenwich Township, Gloucester County, N. J., on the Delaware River, below Mantua Creek.

This John Collis, described as a widower in the record just cited, was evidently the John Collis who had married Mary Skillinger on September 29th, 1781, per records of the same church. One John Collis, apprenticed to John Bament on March 19th, 1771, was assigned by the latter to David Ware of Philadelphia on April 3rd, 1773 before the Mayor of that City, per records published in Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography, 34, page 118.

While it is stated in the record of marriage of this John Collis and Eleanor Brookfield, widow (see page 256) that both were of Billingsport, N. J., 1798, they are not found in the records of Gloucester County, N. J., until 1801. "The pioneer shoemakers of Paulsboro were John Collis and John Bowers, each locating here as early as 1811 or 1812," per Cushing and Sheppard, History of Gloucester, Salem, and Cumberland Counties, N. J. (1883), page 237, under "Paulsboro," in Township of Greenwich, in the County of Gloucester. Paulsboro, the principal village in Greenwich Township, is located in the northeast border thereof, on the left bank of Mantua Creek, the land upon which it is built having extended to the Delaware River when owned before 1798 by Samuel P. Paul from whom the name is derived. Billingsport, on the riverfront of this tract, is about a mile or two from Paulsboro. While it is of record that William Brookfield, aforesaid, his widow Eleanor and her 4th husband John Collis, as well as Charles Brookfield (a brother of the first named) who had married Sarah Paul, all lived and died in the vicinity of Paulsboro, no gravestones for them have been found in the cemetery there adjacent to the M. E. Church. About 1880 the markers and the remains from the Paul family burial ground which was on their estate at Mantua Creek and Delaware River, were removed to this Methodist graveyard. Later burials have since been made in Eglinton Cemetery at Clarksboro, some three miles distant from Paulsboro, and the markers there have also been examined without finding the names of any of the persons here mentioned. Extensive phosphate works now line the River front at Billingsport.

Gloucester County Deed Book SS, page 259: Deed dated 31 August 1818, JOHN COLLIS and wife ELLENOR, of Township Greenwich, convey to Catharine Shelby of City of Philadelphia for $300 a tract in said township which he had purchased of Jesse Rambo and wife Jane by two Deeds of 30th April 1801 and 12th April 1804, duly recorded, which said Rambo became seized of by virtue of a deed of 5 June 1795 from Thomas Sinnickson of Salem, who received same under the terms of the will of his father, Andrew Sinnickson, dated 1 August 1788. Beginning at a stone corner to Benjamin Devault's land, ... bounded by land of late George Moyer, of late Peter Rambo, etc. Containing 8¾ acres, with buildings, etc. Signed: JOHN COLLIS ELNOR (her mark) COLLIS. Witnesses: Mathew Gill, Jr., Jos. Paul.

Gloucester County Mortgage Book L, page 212: Mortgage dated 3 September 1824, JOHN COLLIS, cordwainer of Township Greenwich, County Gloucester, N. J., to Captain Charles Brookfield of the City of Philadelphia, to secure payment of $50 in one year, mortgages lot and premises on the Paulsborough Road, bounded by lot No. 4, John V. Clarke, lot No. 6, and said Road, containing 1.20 acres. Cancelled 17 April 1826.

Gloucester County Deed Book UU, page 76: Deed dated 9 April 1827, John Collis, cordwainer (sic) of the City of Philadelphia, to Philip Snailbaker of Township of Greenwich, County Gloucester, N. J., for $350, tract in Greenwich, the same lot as in the above mortgage, which Samuel P. Paul and wife conveyed to said Collis by deed of 10 November 1813, recorded in Book S, page 403. Signed: John Collis. Witnesses: Joseph Lodge. Maria Lodge.

It is evident from the last item above that after the death of his wife Eleanor (Erwin) Brookfield Collis on "August 4th, 1826 in her 68th year" apparently in Paulsboro, John Collis had returned to his former residence in Philadelphia. Whether he died there or in Paulsboro is not clear, although the following item indicates the latter.

Gloucester County Administration Book A, page 412: October 15th, 1828, Administration of the goods, chattels, rights and credits which were of JOHN COLLIS late of the County of Gloucester, who died intestate, was granted to John W. McMahon.

CHILDREN OF JOHN COLLIS AND 2ND WIFE, ELEANOR (ERWIN) WILLIS KING BROOKFIELD COLLIS:

30. ELIZABETH E. COLLIS, born September 16th, 1800; died November 17th, 1884; married February 15th, 1827, Isaac B. Fowler.
31. ELLEN H. COLLIS, born October 20th, 1803; died March 2nd, 1831; married Philip S. Baker.

THE BROOKFIELD FAMILY

Source Material

The following history of the Job Brookfield family is believed to be correct:

> My great grandfather, Job Brookfield, emigrated to America from England about the year 1709, settled in Elizabeth Town, N. J. He was a young man when he came over and was soon followed by a young woman of respectable connections with whom he became acquainted in England. They were married and continued to reside in Elizabeth Town until his death, which was in middle age.
> He had three sons, Job, Jacob and Benjamin. Benjamin settled in Rahway, he was my father's father. He lived to the good old age of 96 years. He was possessed of several children, viz: Brown, Benjamin, Gershorn, Jacob (my father) Aaron, Jane and one or two others who died young. All are now dead with the exception of Brown, who is aged about 78 years.
> Job settled in Morris County, N. J. and Jacob in Springfield, Essex County, N. J. at which places their descendants or some of them are now living. My uncle Benjamin told me that the grave stone of my great ancestor was seen by him as late as 1825 in the Episcopal burying ground in Elizabeth Town, near the front of the church, in a dilapidated condition; however since that time I have looked for it without success.
> Tradition saith that my great grandfather had two brothers who also emigrated to this country from England—one of whom settled in New England (Connecticut or Massachusetts)—the other in Burlington County, N. J. near Philadelphia. Some of the name were residing there not long since as I was informed by those who were acquainted with them. Rahway 1840.

> Benjamin F. Brookfield

Benjamin F. Brookfield who wrote this little history of the Brookfield family, died at the age of 78 in Milwaukee, Wis., February 9th, 1880.

The gravestone to which he alludes was seen by one of his relatives in 1883 at St. John's Cemetery, Elizabeth.

John Bonsall Brookfield, son of Job and Hannah H. Brookfield, was born August 30th, 1835 near Morristown, N. J.

He was the grandson of Captain Job Brookfield, who was an officer in the Continental Army, Revolutionary War. He was in command of his company at the battle of Springfield, N. J.; also in a battle on Staten Island, Wardsept and other battles. He used to relate that at the battle of Springfield, they got out of wadding and Rev. Parson Caldwell went to the Meeting House, took the hymn books, gave them to the soldiers, and said "Now boys, give them Watts."

He was a minute man, and often used to relate that while he was out in the field with his team, he heard the alarm from the cannon, called the Old Sow, a distance of eight miles. The cannon was placed on Hobart Hill between Chatham and Summit. He left his team standing in the field and went at once.

He enlisted for the war, and served until its close, seven years, but he was not in actual service all the time. They would be relieved at intervals.

Mr. J. Malcolm Brookfield of Rahway, a great grandson, is in possession of his sword. He knew General Washington very well and often talked with him. Before the breaking out of the war he was a Lieutenant. Later he was given charge of the Commissary Department. He received Captain's pay, forty dollars per month. Then he was promoted to Captain. He said that it was a very solemn time, when the Declaration of Independence was signed. They knew it was fight or die, and perhaps both.

HADDONFIELD METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

October 15, 1934.

Mr. Henry M. Brookfield,
Old Forge, New York.

Referring to your letter of October 7th, our cemetery records show the following concerning the Brookfields:

William Brookfield—born Feb. 7, 1787. Died April 19, 1866.
(VIII GENERATION)

Naomi Brookfield—born May 22, 1789. Died June 6, 1867.
(VIII GENERATION)

I was certainly under the impression I sent you this information before; I am sorry if it did not reach you.

Very truly yours,
J. B. Latimer, Cemetery Trustee.

P.S. I am sorry we have no records in our Church membership as who was the father of Mrs. Brookfield, nor to what Churches they belonged when they lived elsewhere.

E. N. Endicott, Church Secretary.

PARENTS OF JAMES M. BROOKFIELD
GRANDPARENTS OF WILLIAM BROOKFIELD
GREAT GRANDPARENTS OF HENRY M. BROOKFIELD

The following pages contain a copy of a record kept by my grandfather's cousin, Hannah Brookfield, who died about 1900. She was then about 80 years old. She was the daughter of Dr. Joseph Brookfield. He was born March 12th, 1789, and lived in Philadelphia all of his life. He was a brother of my great grandfather, William Brookfield. As Cousin Hannah knew all of these people her information is sure to be correct. She sent me this record in 1897.

When I went to see her in Philadelphia she told me her great grandfather's name was Charles Brookfield. This fact together with some circumstantial evidence has helped me in tracing the Brookfield Line.

Signed
HENRY M. BROOKFIELD.

From Hannah Brookfield daughter of Joseph Brookfield, Philadelphia, 1897.

John Erwin married Angelet Hunter who is said to be a connection of the celebrated Dr. Hunter of Ireland, and came to this country when her daughter Eleanor was a small girl. John died July 16th, 1806 in his 83rd year.

THE WILLIAM SMITH FAMILY

The progenitor of this family was WILLIAM SMITH, a cooper who came from Long Island and purchased of Dr. Daniel Cox 150 acres of land in Cape May County in 1690-91. His ear-mark for the identification of cattle, hogs, etc., was registered in 1694, and that of his son, William Smith, Jr., in 1722. The first Baptist Church in Cape May County, was established in Cape May Court House in 1712, and his name appears on a list of the constituents. He was interested in the affairs of the County and served as Justice of the Peace in 1723, and in 1733 and 1734 was appointed one of the Commissioners of the Peace. His will, made February 18th, 1743, proved August 3rd, 1744 mentions his children:

John Smith, William Smith, Richard Smith, Jonathan Smith, Daniel Smith, JEREMIAH SMITH, Elisabeth Smith, married Samuel Foster. The inventory of his personal estate, made July 10th, 1744, includes a negro man, cattle, horses, sheep, etc., and amounts to 231 pounds, 18 shillings and 2 pence.

JEREMIAH SMITH

son of the above, married ABIGAIL SOMERS. He made his will, which is dated at "Turkeyho" October 24th, 1762, and proved May 4th, 1763. In it he names his wife Abigail and his children: JEREMIAH SMITH; William Smith, born March 10th, 1754, married Martha Scull; James Smith; Jesse Smith; Rebecca Smith; Abigail Smith; —— Smith (a child not yet born probably Daniel).

On May 4th, 1752, he purchased of Richard Smith a large tract of land on the Cape May Road, one half a mile from the Turkill Bridge which he devised to his sons JEREMIAH and William.

son of Jeremiah Smith and Abigail Somers. (Smith was born at Tuckahoe July 24th, 1752, and died February 14th, 1831.) According to Stryker's Official Register, he served in the Revolutionary War, as a Captain in the 3rd Battalion, Gloucester County Militia, commissioned November 14th, 1777; and as 2nd Major in the same organization, commissioned December 12th, 1778. He did active service as guard of the provisions sent from this section to Washington's Army at Philadelphia and Valley Forge. On May 15th, 1798, Jeremiah and William Smith divided the tract of land bequeathed to them by their father and passed quit claims; and in the same year Jeremiah conveyed his portion to Jesse Smith. On August 5th, 1810, Jeremiah, Jesse, William and Abel Smith conveyed two tracts of land, the first beginning at the head of Benezett's Mill Pond, corner to William Goff, then along the new Tuckeyhoe road to Clement Hall's land by the old Cape May road, containing 5,943 acres; the second tract adjoining the first containing 2,554 acres, to Jonathan Condy and John H. Brinton of Philadelphia. He married NAOMI BABCOCK (1754-1828) and had children: Rebecca Smith; Martha Smith; Lydia Smith, born 1781, died 1838, married Charles Steelman June 14th, 1797; Jeremiah Smith; Rachel Smith; Charlotte Smith, born 1787, died March 25th, 1872, married Enoch Willets; Mary Smith; NAOMI SMITH, born May 22nd, 1789, died June 6th, 1867, married December 23rd, 1809 WILLIAM BROOKFIELD; also Mahala Smith; John Smith; James Smith; and Sarah Smith.

Appendix B

THE BRANDRIFF FAMILY

Letter from Hannah Brandriff, daughter of John Brandriff. John Brandriff was the brother of Catherine Brandriff, wife of James M. Brookfield:

Millville
May 16, '97

Dear Cousin Amanda:

I am sorry I have kept you waiting so long for a reply to your last letter, but I have been unusually busy this spring. Each year something extra is added to our regular work. Besides this we have an uncle who is very sick.

His physicians say he can never get well. He is the only near relation on our mother's side, and of course we think a great deal of him, and wish to be with him as often as we can. For this reason I have not been able to give the attention I would like to the tracing of our ancestry.

I have talked with Hannah Mulford, but she could tell me only a very little about her grandmother Ayers. She had heard her relate many of her experiences of Revolutionary War times, but had a very indistinct recollection of it all. She was sorry it was not thought of during Aunt Fannie's lifetime and was sure she could have told you all you desire to know.

She said that Hannah and Elisha Ayers had two sons, Lawrence and Zebulon, and six daughters.

Fannie was married to Benjamin Chew, Mary to John Brandriff, Susan to Jacob Woodruff, Jane to Robert Currie, Kittie to William Crooks, and Lodema to David Reed.

She thought some of their descendants might be able to give me more assistance than she, and referred me to Charles Currie. I will enclose the letter Alfred received from him. Caroline Henzey is the daughter of Aunt Kittie Crooks.

The "Jarman Tract" is a tract of land owned by Jonathan Jarman and comprised nearly all of Salem County and a part of Cumberland.

We were very sorry to learn that you were indisposed, but hope you all are well again.

Father is better than when I wrote you last. He is always glad to hear from you. All send much love.

Affectionately yours

HANNAH D. BRANDRIFF

Letter from Hannah Brandriff, daughter of John Brandriff. John Brandriff was the brother of Catherine Brandriff, wife of James M. Brookfield:

Millville
July 9, '97

Dear Cousin Amanda:

I have again been obliged to keep you waiting a long time for a reply to your letter.

A few days since, I had another talk with Mrs. Channells, but she had nothing new to tell me. She said she had talked with her sister, Mrs. Moore, but she is so feeble and her memory so poor, she could not recall anything she had ever heard or known of her family. Her brother, Charles, has the family Bible. I will enclose his address. We thought possibly Fannie Smith could give us some assistance, but she knew nothing of importance to tell us. She said her father had a great many old books which belonged to his grandmother Ayers, but just before his death he destroyed them thinking they would be of no use to anyone.

You ask for the first names of my father's father and mother. You remember in one of my letters I told you his mother was Mary Ayers, and she was married to John Brandriff.

Her mother was Hannah Ayers and her father Elisha Ayers. Hannah Ayers was the daughter of Jonathan Jarman.

KNOW all Men by these Presents, That we Timothy Brandrath of [illegible] Cape May County in the Province of West New Jersey Gentleman are holden and do stand justly indebted unto his Excellency William Franklin King his Majesties Governor [illegible] for Chief [illegible] in the Sum of Five Hundred Pounds, of current lawful Money of New-Jersey; to be paid to his said Excellency William Franklin King his Successors or his Successors or Assigns: For the which Payment well and truly be made and done, we do [illegible] do bind our selves our Heirs, Executors and Administrators, and every of them, and each of them firmly by these Presents. Sealed with our Seals Dated this Eleventh Day of December Annoque Domini One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty six

THE Condition of this Obligation is such, That whereas the above-bounden Timothy Brandrath hath obtained Licence of Marriage for himself [illegible] of the one Party, and for Elizabeth Hughes Spinster [illegible] of the other Party: Now, if it shall not hereafter appear, that they the said Timothy Brandrath and Elizabeth Hughes have any lawful Let or Impediment of Pre-Contract, Affinity or Consanguinity, to hinder their being joined in the Holy Bands of Matrimony, and afterwards their living together as Man and Wife; then this Obligation to be void, or else to stand and remain in full Force and Virtue.

PHOTOSCOPIC FACSIMILE OF MARRIAGE BOND OF TIMOTHY BRANDRATH AND ELIZABETH HUGHES

My father's father, John Brandriff, was the son of Daniel Brandriff by his first wife, Anna Aklett.

His second wife was Mary Hanthorne. There are no records of their births, marriages, etc., unless they are to be found in the Bible which Mr. Currie mentioned in his letter and the one which Charles Brandriff has.

I asked father about John and Eleanor Erwin. He had no recollection of them. He was sure he had never heard of them before. Your mother was born and married in Millville.

I am sorry I cannot give you the address of someone of whom you could ask information, but I never heard of these people until I talked with Mrs. Channells and Mrs. Mulford and they know but very little about them.

Hoping you are all well, I am with much love

Affectionately yours

STENOGRAPHER'S NOTE

The foregoing family record of marriages, births and deaths is copied from entries made in a "Sterotype Edition" of the Old and New Testaments, now in the possession of Miss Alice C. Brandriff, and once the property of her grandfather, Daniel C. Brandriff. A frontispiece states that it is "Sterotyped" for Collins and Co., by B. & J. Collins, and published by C. Ewer T. Bedlington, and J. H. A. Frost, in 1828, at Boston, Mass.

It was interesting to me to look at this old Bible, the oldest I have ever seen, much yellowed with age, and with the leaves very brittle. It apparently has been worn out by reading, as the edges and corners are worn off, although the binding is in good condition. In many places are holes burned through many pages, caused, so Miss Brandriff relates, by her grandmother's going to sleep reading her Bible, before extinguishing her candle.

FAMILY RECORD IN BIBLE IN POSSESSION OF HENRY MORGAN BROOKFIELD

THIS BOOK WAS GIVEN TO NANCY BARBER MORGAN BY HER HUSBAND CHRISTOPHER MORGAN, JR., IN 1810.

Contains Births, Deaths and Marriages of the Morgan, Barber and Dennison Families.

The following is a copy of an Article found in the handwriting of the Reverend Jonathan Barber.

I was born at a small town named Springfield, Co. of Hampshire of the Massachusetts Bay of New England January 31st, 1712 and my Grandfather John Barber lived at Windsor in Connecticut Colony, and moved with his family to Springfield, that he might accomodate himself with lands, and was as I have been informed a very godly man, Deacon of Christ's Church of Springfield of which the Revd. John Woolbridge was pastor who had a great value for my Grandfather and a considerable dependence upon him under God. —he died one year before I was born, & left no son but my Father Thomas Barber who had but two sons—I was the youngest. the son Thomas died about one month before my Father, he was about 42 years old. Thomas one year old.— My Mother has often told me that it was my father's desire upon his death bed that I should be sent to College & have a liberal education; so I was kept at School as soon as I was capable of learning to read; not having a School near home, I with my mate went about two or three miles to learn to read English: I was then sent to a School at Hatfield to the Revd. Mr. Williams before I was Eight years old, about 25 miles from my native place.—My mother having several years before married another husband who belonged to Hatfield who now had the care of me, wished me to live at his father's and study with a brother of his who was also designed for College: Here I lived six years studying Latin & Greek only spending time in learning to write, but before

I was 14 it was proposed that I with my School mate should go to College. Revd. Elisha Williams being chosen of Yale College that year it was thought best for me to be sent to College in that government.* —— At one time I heard the famous Mr. Solomon Stoddard preach at North Hampton, was not more affected by his preaching than by others.—I lived in a religious family, remember there was a young lady converted in the family, Father in law's Sister Martha White"

It appears by the "Farmer's Register" that the first George Denison was born in 1621—admitted a freeman in 1648, elected Captain at Roxbury 1647 removed to Stonington & distinguished himself in the Indian Wars.—Ancestors of Elizabeth Denison Mother of Noyes Barber (and of Nancy Morgan)—Col. George Denison of the British Army of England married twice. First Bridget Thompson by whom he had two daughters, one of them married a Staunton of Stonington, the other a Chesboro of the same town. He early lost his first wife & married Ann Borrodaile (said to be the daughter of an Irish Lord). Col. D. was an active man in the first settlement of Stonington. He died at Hartford while attending the Assembly aged 56—Ann his wife died at Stonington Sept. 26, 1712 aged 97 and is buried in the Denison Yard. John the second son of said George and Ann married Phebe Lay of Saybrook between 1660 & 1670. he lived & died in Stonington where Ebenezer & Isaac Denison lived in 1835. George Denison their son was born about 1671. He lived in N. London, was Clerk of all the Courts for many years. He married Mary Witherell daughter of Judge Daniel Witherell who was Assistant & Judge of all the courts of the County of N. London for a long time (This Daniel was probably a son of William W. Appendix D

LINEAGE OF JACOB PLATT(?) AND BENONI PLATT OF WESTCHESTER COUNTY(?), NEW YORK

By Alrick Mann

THIRD GENERATION

JACOB[3] PLATT (Isaac[2], Richard[1]), born Huntington, September 29th, 1682. His father's will gives him a share with his brothers John and Joseph in his homestead, lands and buildings not previously devised. The only further mention of him discovered in the Huntington Records is the quit claim deed made September 7th, 1696 by his oldest brother Jonas to John, Joseph and Jacob, of the lands, houses, etc., given them by Isaac's will. At this time Jacob was 14 years old. He does not appear in the tax rolls or other lists or the Records of the First Church. As he was entitled to a third interest in all of Isaac's extensive holdings of land (except those specifically devised to Jonas), and no deed made by him has been found, the natural conclusion might be that he died intestate and unmarried, in which case his share apparently would have passed under his father's will to John, to whom Joseph had quit claimed in 1698, with a possible reversionary interest in favor of Jonas who quit claims, perhaps for this reason, to John (q.v.) a second time in 1713. Circumstances, however, point to a different theory.

In the Records of Stamford, Vol. I, page 178, appears the will of George Dibble of Huntington dated April 25th, 1721, proved February 2nd, 1741. In it he mentions his wife Abigail, his children Jonathan, Josiah and Mary and his "wife's son Benoni." The witnesses are Samuel Smith, Samuel Smith, Jr., and Epenetus Platt. By deed dated December 10th, 1711 Jacob Conklin and wife Hannah conveyed to George Debill of Easthampton a house and one-quarter acre of land at Huntington, Cons. £22 (Deeds, Vol. II, page 55). By Deeds, Vol. II, page 359, March 31st, 1720, George Dibble of Huntington and wife Abigail conveyed the same house and plot to Bénj. Scudder, Jr., Cons. £22. The parentage of Benoni Platt of Northcastle, Westchester County, has long been sought for. He appears in the Stamford records and those of Greenwich in 1731, when on May 12th, he joins with Geo. Dibble and others in notice of the desire to withdraw from the Church Society and form with inhabitants of Stamford a new society near the New York line. The petition recites that the signers are inhabitants of Stamford and Horseneck (part of Greenwich) and that all live over four miles from either meetinghouse.

BENONI PLATT'S LINEAGE

Benoni, son by a previous marriage of Abigail, wife of George Dibble, had a half brother, Jonathan Dibble, or at any rate George Dibble had in 1721 a son Jonathan. Benoni Platt named his two sons Jonathan and Benoni and his daughter Abigail (see his will, New York, Liber 24, page 31). Proceeding a step further with the hypothesis and now assuming that Dibble had married Abigail Platt, widow (with a son Benoni Platt) in Huntington, and that his three children living in 1721 and mentioned in his will were hers, he presumably married her at least four or five years earlier, say in or before 1715, indicating death of her previous husband in 1713 to 1714, or earlier, at which time no son or grandson of Isaac or Epenetus could have died excepting Jacob. All others are accounted for and this is equally true of the children of John[2], Josiah[2], and Joseph[2]. In the Boston Transcript of May 22nd, 1905 appears a Query (No. 7933) in which the signer remarks that Benoni Platt of Bedford and Northcastle, Westchester County, N. Y., was "possibly my wife's son Benoni" referred to by George Dibble of Stamford, 1721-22 "whose second wife thus referred to was, by birth, Abigail Corey." The Corey family was located in

Huntington from the early settlement. (See Printed Records, I, page 376 for children of John, including Abigail, born 1670, indicating probability of an Abigail in third generation, who might have married Jacob Platt and afterwards George Dibble; but no evidence that she was his second wife is found.)

The hypothesis seems sufficiently supported to warrant a tentative tabulation of Benoni as son of Jacob. And the assumption is reasonable from George Dibble's will that no other children of Jacob and Abigail were living in 1721. As Benoni was holder of an office in Northcastle in 1730, it may be assumed that he was born in or earlier than 1710, in which year Jacob would have been twenty-eight years old.

?(125.) BENONI[4], born 1710 or earlier.

FOURTH GENERATION

BENONI PLATT?[4] (?Jacob[3], Isaac[2], Richard[1]). This classification is not definitely proven (see 27 Jacob ante for discussion of this topic). If he was Jacob's son, he was born after 1702 and before 1710. By the hypothesis, Jacob died about 1712 or earlier, and his widow Abigail before long married George Dibble, who had come from Easthampton and purchased a house and plot in Huntington, December 10th, 1711, which he and his wife Abigail sold March 31st, 1720 (see Jacob ante). No other deeds to or from George Dibble have been found. Some time after this conveyance Dibble removed with his wife, Abigail, "her son Benoni," and his own three children, Jonathan, Josiah and Mary (see the will of George Dibble of Huntington, dated April 25th, 1721, proved in Stamford February 2nd, 1741, referred to under Jacob[3] ante) to Stamford, where in 1731, the names of George Dibble and Benoni Platt appear with others as signers of the petition for a new church district (see Jacob ante).

In 1730 (Platt Lineage, 191) Benoni appears as an office holder in the town of North Castle, New York, adjoining Greenwich on the west, and is thereafter frequently mentioned in the records of that town. As Jacob was born in 1682, it is inferred that Benoni, if his son, was born not earlier than 1702 nor later than 1709 in view of his activities in 1730 and 1731. The will of Benoni Platt of North Castle dated May 20th, 1761, proved May 14th, 1763, recorded New York, Liber 24, Wills, page 31, mentions his wife Hannah, his two sons Benoni and Jonathan, his daughter Abigail's children, his granddaughter Abigail (daughter of his son Benoni), his son Jonathan's eldest daughter and his granddaughter Hannah, then under 16. The will of Hannah Platt of North Castle, dated March 8th, 1764, proved February 25th, 1767 (Liber 25, page 427), mentions the same sons, her daughter Abigail and granddaughter Hannah, daughter of Abigail.
